TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it. knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

Magee Furnace Co.

SPEAR & CONVERSE, MANAGERS OF WESTERN BRANCH.

The Magee Furnace Co. have been manufacturing furnaces over a quarter of a century. Their furnace, which has stood the test of so many years, is called the "Magee Standard Plate Iron Furnace." It received the medal of honor and the highest award at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, as superior to all others. The following is an extract from the Judge's Report:

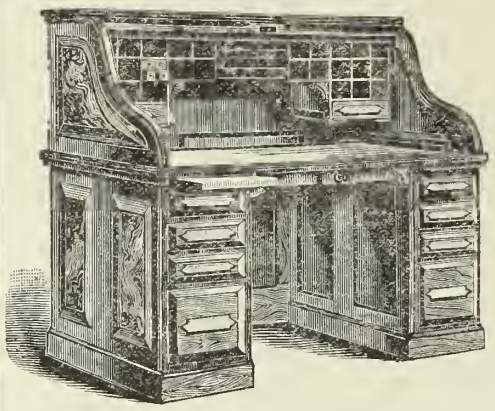
"The Magee Standard Plate Iron Furnace presents especial merit as a healthful, convenient, economical and inexpensive Wrought Iron Furnace. Its details for convenience, cleanliness, and economy in use, are in part enumerated as follows:—It has its dome of riveted boiler-iron, preventing escape of gas or dust into the air-chamber. The double construction of its fire-pot provides for the delivery of air for the free combustion of gasses. The automatic hood over the feed-door provides for the engaging and removal of gas and dust when the door is opened. Special facilities are provided for removal of clinkers, grate shaking, and flue cleaning, and the regulation of air currents. The improved double Terra-Cotta wall, with air space between, is a very convenient improvement for setting, and cannot be commended too highly. All castings are of unrivalled elegance and excellence."

Messrs. Spear and Converse are making a specialty of the "Standard" brick range, manufactured by the same company. They are also selling at wholesale and retail cooking and heating stoves, of which they have a very complete line. All these goods have the finest castings and are the best fitted goods in the market.

An examination of their stock, exhibited in their warerooms, No. 86 Lake street, will convince the reader of these facts.

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 4, 1884.

To whom it may concern:



John M. Cary, Esq., put his Composition Roofing on the Foote Block, southwest corner of Monroe and Clark streets, in the summer of A. D. 1872, now twelve years ago. It has never been repaired, except a little around the sky-light and in one place where tenants allowed steam to escape into an open chimney. No further recommendation of Cary's Roofing is necessary.

Mechanic's Lien.

A case of much interest to owners and builders has just been decided by Edward B. Merrill, Esq., referee, in the case of Bowne vs Correl. On July 24, 1882, Benjamin F. Bowne contracted with Frederick Correll, owner, to perform the mason work of two apartment houses in New York city in forty-eight working days, for $6775, payable in five installments, each payable on the production of the architect's certificate, the owner to furnish materials. The contractor proceeded with his work, but did not complete it within forty-eight working days. He was paid the first, second, third and the larger part of the fourth installment without the certificate of the architect being required. About Dec. 1, 1882, he demanded the balance of the fourth installment, whereupon the owner required the architect's certificate. This the contractor demanded of the architect, but a formal certificate was refused him. At this time the area work and preparation of the halls for tiling remained undone. The contractor offered to do the same but the owner refused to do the preparatory work, and notified the contractor that he should not permit the area to be built until the following spring. Thereupon the contractor filed his lien for the balance of his contract. less what he considered a reasonable sum to complete the work and for certain extra work. The owner set up as defences, delay, failure to complete the work, abandonment, failure to obtain architect's certificate and various alleged defects and omissions in the work, and counter claimed $3000 damages for non-performance and delay. The referee sustaining the plaintiff, held that the delay was caused by matters for which the owner was responsible, that the refusal to give the certificate was unreasonable, and the production of it thereby rendered unnecessary, that the owner waived complete performance by neglecting to do preparatory work, and refusing to permit the work to be completed within a reasonable time, and that the contractor had substantially completed his contract and was entitled to recover the balance of the contract price less a reasonable sum to complete the work. Upon digging out trenches an old excavation was developed, and the referee also held that the contractor was entitled to recover as extra work for greater depth of foundations than shown by the plans in spite of general clause in specifications referring to building walls from bed-rock, a definite depth being shown by plans and specifications containing a clause referring to a depth of foundations. He accordingly overruled the defendant's counter claims and awarded plaintiff the amount unpaid on the contract (less $129, as the reasonable value of completing the work under the contract), and his bill for extra work together with the costs of action. John L. Shirley and Richard L. Sweezy appeared as attorney and counsel for the plaintiff, and Thornton, Earle & Kiendl for defendant.

EATING AN ACRE OF DIRT A DAY.—Robert Toombs, of Georgia, owns large tracts of land in Texas, and has refused $10 an acre for one lot of 4000 acres. When living in Paris, just after the close of the rebellion, he was asked how he supported himself. He replied: "I am eating an acre of dirt a day." He was selling Texas lands at $5 an acre, which was about his daily expenses.—Waif.

THE LUMBER MARKET.

Not unlike the real estate business there are two reflections from the lumber trade—one from the shady side and one that is cheerful. The prospect for a bountiful corn crop, added to the realization of a large average yield in wheat and other small grains, furnish a healthy stimulus to the market. Houses which cater to a city trade have their teams kept busy, while all must necessarily be benefitted by the increasing demand for lumber to go to the country.

The following quotations, corrected up to date, will show the improvement in prices, with fair trading—piece stuff and shingles in request:

OUR DWELLINGS.

The features of a building should express the purpose for which it has been erected. Unfortunately this rule is not always adhered to in the erection of dwelling houses. It is not so long since when dwellings built in imitation of ancient Grecian temples were numerous. Not only did the passion for that style extend to dwellings, but banks, halls of justice and churches were moulded in the same form, so that it was at times difficult to distinguish one from the other.

Gradually people discovered the unfitness of that style for dwelling houses. After a variety of changes the Italian villa style came in vogue. The latter is well adapted for a residence on a lot of ground, comprising from 50 to 100 acres, embellished with fine trees, shrubbery, flower beds, terraces and splashing fountains. Erected in a block of closely built up city residences it is out of keeping. The Eastlake style has had its day and has been succeeded by others.

A Swiss cottage looks very attractive and picturesque among the towering mountains in the country from which it derives its name, but in the level streets of our beautiful city, hemmed in by brick houses on either side, it is only an illusion.

Architectural designs for dwellings of the time of Queen Anne seem to be the rage at present. That style of dwellings with their short windows may satisfy the taste of their owners. The cramped windows convey the impression of low and confined rooms. The style is not adapted for the city but rather for the country or seaside.

The Renaissance style of architecture, in the hands of a skillful architect, furnishes the best means of avoiding the objectionable points that can be urged to the various styles of architecture mentioned.

But while correct rules should be applied to the external appearance of dwellings, the decoration of the internal parts should not be lost sight of, for the refinement and taste of the inmates is inferred therefrom. Even a modest engraving or a chromo on the wall of a room demonstrates that an advance has been made in artistic taste; richness and expensiveness of the ornaments are not always evidence of culture and refinement. Where the means to be applied for the embellishment of the interior are limited, the occasional appropriation of a few dollars in the right direction speaks volumes for the growing refinement of the household.

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Sept. 13, 1884.

Tax Deeds to Tax Buyers by the County.

All persons who own property and are interested in a report of these Clouds on Titles, will please make known the fact to this JOURNAL.

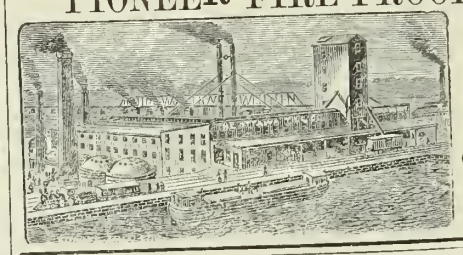
THE MARKET.

Save and except a slight increase in the number, as well as the amount of consideration in the city transfers for the past week, there is no change to note. Brokers' offices as well as the rooms of the Real Estate Board have not yet put on a look of much business. The protracted hot weather in the month of September is the cause of it. As soon as the weather gets cooler, and all people return from their summer vacation, Chicago will again take on its wonted activity in real estate as well as in everything else. It is useless to comment on the sales that have been made, because all parties concerned will understand fully as much from the mere facts as they desire to know.

There is no need of a speculative feeling to insure a profit in real estate investment. Purchasers seek what they can improve and occupy for business or residence purposes, and but few buyers are heard of who simply want to buy for the purpose of holding. All available business and residence property now commands a fair price, and present owners will not sell without a profit, much less at a sacrifice.

LANDOWNERS VS. THE C. & C. C. & D. Co.—A controversy exists between various owners of property on Ewing ave. in Hyde Park and the above Company. In May of 1883 the village passed an ordinance for opening and extending Ewing avenue to Harbor avenue. The usual condemnation proceedings were begun, and in the petition it was claimed that the Calumet & Chicago Canal & Dock Company owned a large part of the land to be condemned. The only other defendants were "unknown owners." In due course of time a verdict for $11,200 was rendered in favor of the Calumet Company, and for $10,000 in favor of "unknown owners." On Thursday a bill was filed in the Circuit Court by M. and L. Hanesler, Martin Behn Sr., Martin Behn Jr., William Behn, August Hemke and Fred Meirendorf, in which they claim to be the owners of the land taken for the street opening, and claim to have had open and exclusive possession of it for years. Their land is worth $165,000, and has been damaged $36,500. They have been offered $20,000 indirectly if they would let the street go through. Not wishing to fight a corporation they gave their permission, but have since learned that they can only legally get $10,000. They fear if the town goes on to collect the assessment they will never get any more, and they now ask that the condemnation proceedings be set aside, and the village prevented from taking their property.

THE ASSESSMENT WRANGLE in the Cook County Board still continues. Commissioners Van Pelt and Senne will go before the State Board of Equalization for the purpose of submitting the report of the County Committee on Equalization. It is claimed by the Van Pelt faction that the assessment in certain parts of Cook County is anything but satisfactory, and that the Committee is prepared to furnish a list of corporations and firms that have either not been assessed at all or assessed at a suspiciously low figure.



THE County Treasurer was engaged all day Thursday in selling property in the Town of Cicero for unpaid taxes. The sales were completed in Cicero, and on Friday tax-sales were held in Jefferson. Hereafter tax-sales will be held in various locations in the following order: Norwood Park, Niles, New Trier, Bloom, Thornton, Calumet, Hyde Park, Lake View, Evanston, and the three towns of Chicago.

THE new line of the Cnicago City Railway Company from Thirty-ninth to Sixty-third streets, on Halsted, was opened on Thursday. At Sixty-third street a turn is made eastward to Englewood Station on the Fort Wayne Road, making a continuous line from Thirty-ninth street to the station. The company is paving the tracks with Medina sandstone from Thirty-ninth to Forty-fifth streets. This new line opens another direct route from the limits to Englewood.

Chief Inspector Genung says the following reports give an idea of the condition of many frame tenements on the outskirts of the city: No. 21 North avenue, owned by James Quinn, one-story and basement frame shanty; two rooms, occupied by one family of six; ventilation, good; plumbing, none; drainage, none; privies, none; means of egress and safety, O. K.; this place needs repairs; daylight can be seen through the the walls; one or two horses are kept under the house. Rear of No. 266 South Western avenue, two-story barn, 20x24 feet, owned by T. F. Cooney; four rooms, occupied by one family of seven persons; ventilation, fair; plumbing, no sink, only water supply; drainage, none; privy inside and offensive.

the Chicago National Bank to pay for recent improvements in Washington Park, and for the completion of the road in the Washington boulevard. The engineer's report recommended the expenditure of $8000 on the Garfield Park viaduct, as well as numerous improvements in the crosswalks and driveways. The following proposition from the People's Gas Light and Coke Company was accepted: To provide 222 boulevard posts and lanterns for Washington boulevard, between Rockwell and Halsted streets, at a cost of $17.75 apiece, the company taking the old posts.

The South Park Board held a meeting on Wednesday, at which Commissioners Callaghan, Walsh and Russell were present. It was stated that R. F. Cutting, who held $50,000 in bonds on which $27,800 was still due, had declined the offer to take up the remainder at 1 per cent. premium, and the Secretary was instructed to continue the negotiations with Mr. Cutting. Charles W. Stevens had agreed to make a deed to the Board fer certain property included in Jackson Park on the payment of $1000, but the matter was deferred until a clear title could be given. The report showed a payroll of $13,000, and that there was $15,000 in bills, principally for Jackson Park improvements.

Wednesday the County Attorney informed Mr. Wolcott, who has been acting county surveyor, that the County Surveyor was expected to keep a record of his work, and that this, together with all the books, charts, and papers of the office, should be handed over to his successor, Mr. Kennedy, elected last Monday. Mr. Wolcott says that he will get out of the office by Saturday, but does not think he will have very much to turn over to Kennedy, as all the maps and charts in the office belonged to his father and are willed to himself. It is expected that the County Attorney will bring some action against him to get possession of some of the valuable maps and plates in the office on the grouud that they belong to the county.

The Council Committee on Streets and Alleys, South Division, has deeided to make the following recommendations: Opening of Thirty-eighth street from Cottage Grove avenue to Ellis avenue; Fake street from Archer avenue to Thirty-first srreet; and that $3600 be appropriated for a sewer on Dearborn street, between Jackson and Polk.

Ald. Simons intends to introduce an ordinance at the next meeting of the Council turning over Union Park to the West Park Commissioners. He says the park is running dowu, and the Board will take care of it without expense to the city.

The City Fire Department has received two new steam fire engines from Cincinnati. They will probably be located at the new houses on Halsted and Curtis streets.

The contract for the sidewalk around the new City Hall has been let to Matt Taylor. It will be granolithic stone, and will cost $8,750.

The daily average of water pumped in this city during the month of August was 87,000,000 gallons.

BUILDING NEWS.

CHICAGO AND VICINITY.

J. J. Flanders has drawn plans for a $6,000 building for B. Heeney, to be erected at 15 Aberdeen street.—J. W. McGinniss will erect a tasteful residence at 1913 Indiana avenue.—Architect John Addison has drawn plans for Louis Hauseu's new building to be erected on the site of the old Tivoli restaurant on Dearborn street.—Aurora is discussing the topic of waterworks.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

—A college will be erected at Kahoka, Ia.

—An elevator is to be erected at Dundee, Mich.

—The Germans of Clare, Mich., will build a church this fall.

—A $5,000 town hall is now in course of erection at Rochelle, Ill.

—At Charlevoix, Mich., a large number of cottages will be built next spring.

—Three Rivers, Mich., will soon have a fine skating rink and opera house.

—Peoria, Ill., is to have a new Roman Catholic church to cost $30,000.

—Lowell, Mich., is building an iron bridge over the Grand river at a cost of $16,000.

—The contract for erecting the new jail at Orlando, Fla., has been awarded for $4,000.

—Over $4,000 has been raised by the citizens of Chilton, Wis., for the benefit of Dorschel & Schultz, to aid them in rebuilding their planing-mill, which burned a few weeks ago.

—The Congregational church at Charlevoix, Mich., costing $7,000, is nearly completed.

—Dundee, Mich., voted $10,000 for a new school building, but the cost has now nearly reached $20,000.

—Mrs. T. M. Sinclair has the plans for a $60,000 residence she proposes to build at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

—The voters of Cheyenne county, Neb., will decide at the next election whether or not the county shall issue bonds to the amount $25,000 to build a new court house.

—The excitemeut in St. Paul, Minn., over the settling of the capital has somewhat subsided. A new iron brace has been so placed as to strengthen the lower floors, and workmen are busily engaged in repairing what damage has been done. A committee of three has been appointed to examine and report upon the condition of the building.

—Stakes have been driven and ground broken for the Nebraska stock-yards at Lincoln. The plan of the yard provides for pens to accommodate 13,000 hogs and 3,500 cattle, also for the erection of a hotel and exchange building, water-works, etc. The company propose to build the hotel and exchange with brick. The water-works will be commenced immediately. It will require at least four hundred ears of lumber to construct the pens and buildings now in contemplation.

The County Board.

The County Board met Monday.

The first thing that came up was the submission of the report of the Joint Committee on Equalization and Public Service, which was drawn up by Commissioner Senne on behalf of the committee. All the Commissioners comprising the committee signed the report except Van Pelt. When it was moved that the report be accepted, before the question could be put he arose and made one of his usual speeches in which he severely criticised the South Town Assessor (Mr. Frank Drake) because the Assessor did not come before Mr. Van Pelt's committee and be catechised. He moved that that part of the report relative to the South Town be excluded.

President Donnersberger—The Commissioner seems to forget that, as the County Committee on Equalization have completed their part of the work, the matter is now in the hands of the State Board of Equalization. Therefore, I think that further argument on the matter is useless. The time for this Board to remedy defects in assessments has passed, and the entire responsibility now rests with the State Board. Our report is only an illustration of the advance Cook County is making.

Commissioner Lynn moved that that part of the report relative to the towns of Hyde Park and Lake be excluded.

President Donnersberger ruled his motion out of order.

The question as to the acceptance of the equalization report was carried by the following report:

Yeas—Klehm, Leach, Leyden, Mattocks, McClaughrey, Niessen, Ochs, Senne, Sommer, Donnersberger.

Nays—Lynn, Van Pelt, Wasserman.

The Committee on Public Service recommended the appointment of Thomas Kennedy as county surveyor. The appointment was confirmed, the Republican Commissioners voting in the negative.

Commissioner Leyden offered a resolution to the effect that as the hospital was a public charitable institution, and that as a majority of the patients were residents of the city, it was unjust that the city authorities should charge the hospital for water. The resolution directed the Chairman of the Board and the proper committee to petition the Mayor and City Council to give due attention to this matter. Adopted.

Dr. H. C. Kerber was elected to Dr. Cronin's place on the hospital medical staff.

The Committee on Public Service recommended the payment of $480 to R. A. McClellan for services as one of Van Pelt's "tax ferrets". Concurred in.

The Grand Jury was drawn after which the Board adjourned.

The City Council.

At the meeting of Sept. 1 ordinances were passed as follows: For sidewalk on west side of May street from West Twentieth to R.; same on west side of Hoyan avenue from Lake to Walnut street; on east side of Rockwell from West Madison to West Jackson; on both sides of Evergreen avenue from Milwaukee avenue to Leavitt street; on south side of McMullen court from Centre avenue to May street; on both sides of Hinman street from Leavitt street to Oakley avenue.

An ordinance for grading and planking the alley from West Harrison to Gurley street, between Morgan and Miller, and for establishing grade at the intersection of Park avenue and Fontenoy place. Same for sidewalk space on Austin avenue from Noble to Armour st.

The Council met Monday evening, Mayor Harrison in the chair, and all the Aldermen present except Appleton and Burke.

A communication was received from the Mayor returning without his approval the order for the improvement of Warren avenue from Ashland avenue to Leavitt street, the owners of a majority of the frontage not desiring asphalt, and an assessment having been made for cedar blocks.

The vote by which the order was passed was reconsidered, and the document referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys, West Division.

A communication was received from the Commissioner of Public Works saying that there were several classes of work for the new City Hall for which full competition could be secured in much less than ten days; such, for instance, as furniture and gas fixtures. It would greatly expedite the general work of completion if authority were granted him to advertise and consider bids in less than the time prescribed by the ordinance.

Ald. Hildreth presented an order authorizing the Commissioner to let such contracts after advertising three days.

Ald. Sullivan said the City Hall couldn't be got ready before Janury, and there was ample time to comply with the law.

Ald. Dalton protested against the passage of the order, considering the request a strange one.

The order went through: yeas 27, nays 7—Simons, Bond, Hull, Campbell, Dalton, Schack and Sullivan.

Ald. Lawler stated that the Water Department wanted to straighten its books, and couldn't do so until the report of the Committee on Free Water for Charitable Institutions had been acted on.

The report was made a special order for Monday night.

Cheltenham Beach.

Contrary to the opinion of a former editor of the Journal Cheltenham Beach, as a residence locality, is a success.

For the special accommodation of this beach, as well as to secure its South Chicago connection, the Illinois Central some two years ago deflected a branch southeasterly from its main line at Sixty-third street, and now it runs not fewer than ten trains a day each way through Cheltenham Beach, the glistening steels running parallel with the shore line and but a few blocks inland. The most tasteful of depots embellishes the scene at Seventy-ninth street, and wholesale tickets, bringing fares down to really a nominal sum, further enhance the appreciation of the really unequalled lake-shore ride by which the Illinois Central alone of Chicago railroads brings its passengers into town with something of style, their bodily comfort as luxuriously contributed to by the outfit and quality of cars as their minds and eyes are fed and delighted by swiftly shifting scenery of park, lake, and avenue residences.

CHOICE RESIDENCE PROPERTY.

Near the station there is an immense demand for property from the better sort of people from South Chicago. It is recognized as the future choice residence property of this locality. It lies between South Chicago and Chicago, is supplied with a large water main from the Hyde Park waterworks, and on the line of the future lake shore drive from South Chicago to the parks. Commercial avenue, the great thoroughfare between Cheltenham Beach and Irondale, distant but between three and four miles, will soon be a fact, and will be an avenue eighty feet wide, macadamized from Cheltenham Beach to the center of South Chicago.

After describing a score or more of the neat and tasteful residences belonging to well-to-do Chicagoans and recently built on Reynolds avenue, the Inter Ocean of August 30 says:

"Abutting on a specially fine stretch of beach are sixty-five acres of ridge and woodland, the superior situation of which is already attracting some notable improvements. What more eligible location could be imagined for a popular summer resort and hotel, that long-needed addition to the lake shore in the immediate neighborhood of this city, and—the reader is taken into confidence—just such an establishment on this very spot is a probability of the near future. Already the outline is committed to drawings, and with the Illinois Central coaches, just filled in the heart of the city, winding round on a special track through the great oaks of the parkway, and landing its passengers at the very entrance of the breezy, uplifted structure by the lake, who shall say that Chicago will not have secured at last a Nahant Beach or Coney Island? For individual residence and improvement there is deservedly no more popular section on the lake shore."

Real Estate Law.

MARRIED WOMAN'S DEED — ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—The deed of a married woman, acknowledged as the deed of a feme sole, conveys no title; and her subsequent proper acknowledgment of the same will not operate, by relation. to pass title as of the date of the first acknowledgment. Durfee et al. v. Garvey. Sup. Ct. Cal. 3 West Coast Rep. 356.

MORTGAGE—GROWING CROPS — RENTS, ISSUES AND PROFITS.—A mortgage of land, with the rents, issues and profits thereof, attaches as a lien to the crop growing on such land at the time of foreclosure. The proceeds of the sale of such crop should be applied to the payment of the mortgage debt. Montgomery v Merrill et al. Sup. Ct. Cal. 3 West Coast Rep. 375.

CONSTRUCTION OF A WILL—VESTED OR CONTINGENT REMAINDER.—The will was as follows: "All the rents, income and interest, arising out of the balance of my estate * * * after first deducting * * * necessary expenses, I direct to be paid to my wife, Ann E. Muhlenburg, semi-annually by my executors during her natural life, for the support and education of my minor children. After the death of my wife I direct my executors to sell all my real estate, collect all outstanding moneys, and divide the amounts by giving an equal share to each child or its heirs." Held, that on the death of the widow the administrator of one of the children who had died before the widow, was entitled to the estate, as it was a vested interest. Muhlenburg's Appeal. S. C. Pa. Pnila. Leg. Int., Aug. 8, 1884.

GROWING CROPS—VALUE.—It was reasonable and just that the value of the crop at the time it was injured should be ascertained with reference to what would have been the value of the matured grain had the injury not been done, less certain expenses. As said by the court below this was one mode of ascertaiuing the value at the time of the injury. Harrison v. Spring V. H. G. Co. Sup. Ct. Cal. 3 West Coast Rep. 349.

WASTE—TEARING DOWN BUILDINGS — INJUNCTION—TENANT LEASE — ALTERATION BY TENANT.—The tearing down or destruction of the demised buildings by a tenant, unless authorized by the terms of his lease, is waste, and. if threatened, such acts will be restrained by injunction. A provision of a lease, authorizing the tenant to alter and repair the demised buildings so as to adapt them to other business than that for which they were originally intended. does not authorize him to tear down and destroy such buildings. Davenport v. Magoon. Sup. Ct. Or., 3 West Coast Reports 328. March term.

SUPREME COURT OF ALABAMA. FROM THE ALABAMA LAW JOURNVL. CRABTREE V. BAKER. FROM THE MOBILE CHANCERY COURT.

1. Easements.—This court has adopted the principle, borrowed from the civil law, that the owner of higher lands has a servitude or natural easement for the discharge npon the adjacent lower lands of the surface water flowing thereon naturally from the higher lands; and the owner of the lower lands cannot obstruct or prevent the natural passage of such water, to the injury of the higher lands. "The weight of authority, perhaps, is in favor of this doctrine, with an exception as to city and village lots and their improvement for building.

2. Same.—But the servitude or easement extends only to surface water arising from natural causes, as by the falling of rains and the melting of snow, and does not authorize the proprietor of the higher lands, by collecting the water into drains or artificial channels, to precipitate it upon the lower lands in increased quantity and volume, to their detriment; for this would be to create, by artificial means, a servitude which nature has denied.

3. Same.—If the proprietor of the upper lands collects the surface water falling thereon into ditches, or artificial channels, by which it is precipitated in a body upon the lower lands, this is an actionable tort, and it may be an injury which a court of equity would enjoin; and the owner of the lower lands may protect himself against such tort, before it has ripened by length of time into evidence of a right, by erecting a dam or enbankment on his own lands, thereby throwing back the water upon the upper lands.

4. Injunction—Contempt for violation of.—When a party is in contempt for the violation of an injunction, by a real and substantial disobedience of it, he will not be heard on a motion to dissolve the injunction, until the contempt is purged; but, where the nature and extent of the punishment for the contempt depends upon the determination of the question whether the injunction shall be continued or dissolved, and involves essentially the inquiry whether it was not improvidently granted on the first instance, the motion for a dissolution may be entertained, reversed and remanded; injunction dissolved.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow --which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, bave used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so mucb superior to tbe common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling tbeir attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Cbicago.

House Drainage.

Custom, luxury and fashion, as affecting the interior arrangements of dwellings, have gradually converted house drainage into a source of danger which does not properly belong to it as a hygienic element in a sanitary system. Before the art of construction of the purely mechanical arrangements which belong to house drainage was brought to its present state of excellence, and, indeed, before the insidious dangers connected with it were discovered or understood, the fashion of placing the openings through which house refuse is discharged into the sewers within the very innermost recesses and most imperfectly ventilated parts of dwellings was introduced as a matter of convenience or so-called luxury. When the evil consequences of this began to be felt, remedies in the form of traps and plumbing devices were multiplied, until finally, after the inventions of more than a quarter of a century have been brought to bear on the subject, we are obliged to confess that the problem is not yet satisfactorily solved. While it is true that, through the progress of the mechanic, arts and constant study, stimulated by sad experiences, there has been during the last few years a decided amelioration of evils which for a long time numbered victims by thousands, yet no system of construction or patent deviccs which has been, or probably will be, introduced, can be pronounced perfectly and permanently safe, so long as the present custom continues of placing plumbing conveniences within the walls of living, and, above all, of sleeping rooms. Pipes will decay, traps will become unsealed, the water supply will occasionally be intermitted or suspended, drains will become foul or leak. And when we consider the impracticability of a constant supervision, especially in rented or tenement houses, by competent persons, and the cost of such supervision, so reluctantly borne even in case of the most flagrant defects—defects which usually announce themselves by the outbreak of disease, and perhaps by deaths—it is impossible not to feel that the system, as it is now generally practiced, should be abandoned.

There is a remedy so simple, especially in all new designs, that it is almost inconceivable that it has not already become universal, viz., to confine the closets, bathrooms, lavatories, and all other so-called conveniences within an annex, or within impervious walls at the rear of dwellings, reaching from the cellar to the roof. Such inclosed space may be warmed and ventilated more thoroughly and easily than any other part of a dwelling. Any leakage would not affect the air of the dwelling, while the total cost of the plumbing would be greatly reduced.—Harper's Magazine.

THE PETRIFIED FORESTS OF ARKANSAS.

A new industry is now being developed in the way of utilizing the petrified forest timbers of Arkansas. Companies are now being organized who are entering large tracts of land containing this timber which has heretofore been considered worthless, and preparations are being made to cut this timber by machinery in a way that it will subserve the various wants of mechanical arts. It is considered far superior for ornamental pieces of house furniture, such as mantel pieces, stands, table tops, etc., as it is susceptible of a finer finish and richer polish than the different varieties of wood used. No doubt many of our readers are familiar with a description of the petrified forest of Egypt, situated about eight miles south of Cairo; but we have no account given us in history which leads us to conclude that there has ever been an effort made by the artizans of that country to cut these trees into slabs or boards, which have thus been changed by some mysterious agency from wood to solid stone. With the present prospect of success, it will not be a great while until articles of furniture manufactured from the same will be offered for sale in our shops, and adorn the parlors and reception rooms of many of our fine dwelling houses.

STAINED GLASS.

During the past few years the use of stained glass has become so popular as a means of decoration, that a few suggestions in regard to its treatment, and rules govering its application, will prove interesting to those who cannot obtain them by personal examination. The glass is originally made in large quantities, each "pot" being of a separate color, and when poured gives sheets varying in depth of tone only. From these the artist selects what may be required, as ruby for a piece of drapery, blue for sky, green for foliage, and so on for every part of the work. His full size drawing having been made, each piece of glass is cut out carefully to the shapes shown, and laid in its proper position upon the drawing. The artist then takes enamel colors and paints upon the glass all the shadows and details shown upon the drawing. The work is now ready for firing. Each piece is placed separately in powdered plaster, laid on a sheet iron tray, and then put in position in a kiln. The door is securely cemented and the fire lighted. Great care in watching the fire is now necessary, for if it should be too hot the glass will be melted; or if not hot enough the color will not be properly burnt, and instead of being permanent will rub off. This has always been one of the great troubles in glass work, the loss of a "kiln" being not only a loss of labor, but one of time, and so greatly increasing the difficulty of filling orders promptly.

Great care is necessary in making the full size drawings, to introduce the leads in positions where their appearance will strengthen the effect by forming bold outlines, and not mar the result by becoming too prominent. Where figure subjects are used they should be drawn by competent artists.

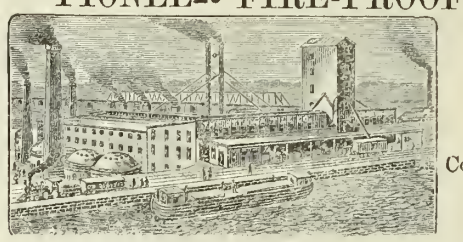
Sept. 8—An ordinance was passed for water service pipes on Front street from Carpenter to Elston avenue; same on Warren avenue from Ogden avenue to Leavitt; same on Portland avenue from Twenty-sixth to Thirty-first; same on Beethoven place from North Wells to Sedgwick street; same on Pearson street from North Wells street to the western terminus; same on Sixteenth from State to Prairie avenue; same on Dearborn street from Madison to Randolph; same on May street from Milwaukee avenue to George street; same on Lincoln street from Congress to Polk; same on West Monroe street from Western avenue to Rockwell street; same on Augusta street from Milwaukee avenue to Elston avenue; same on Will street from Milwaukee avenue to Elston.

For sidewalk on both sides of Carpenter street from West Madison street to West Indiana; for establishing sidewalk space on Sheldon street from Randolph to Lake at eight feet; same on Chestnut street from North State to Rush street.

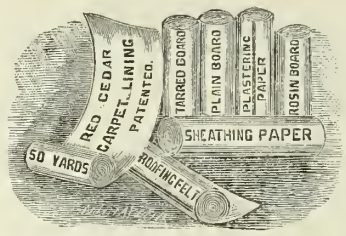
A WELLSVILLE ex-editor has discovered, through a system of irrigation, a means of producing an exuberant tropical vegetation in our norther latitudes, "for which, says the Danville Advertiser, he has secured a patent." Our contemporary then continues—"By this system he grows strawberries to the size of peaches, and increases the size, beauty and perfection of all fruits to a degree to defy credence. He says in a letter in the Wellsville Free Press: 'I grow such turnips, beets, cabbage and cauliflower as have never been seen on the Atlantic coast. A full bushel of tomatoes to the plant can be grown, and that, too, of marvelous size and beauty. As stated in previous articles, a thousand bushels of pea pods can be grown to the acre. All forms, in short, of vegetable growth, are so developed as to do away with fungus, deadliest enemy of plant life, securing root, stalk, bud, blossom and fruit in completest perfection. This is done by hanging up on our hillsides in a succession of trenches, deep dug into the hard pan, aggregations of water to be held in reserve till they find their way by the laws of gravity, in even and uniform currents of subterranean flow of the streams in the valleys, securing such perfection of irrigation in their track as to give to plant life inspiration such as has never before been so much as approximated.'"

THE desirability of painting brick buildings to resemble the rich reds of pressed brick is becoming apparent to many owners. The attractiveness of a brick store or residence is greatly increased by this treatment. The firm of Coffin, Devoe & Co. supply an article which they call "Flat Brick Red", especially adapted for this purpose, and it is meeting with great favor, and has already been put on several buildings of note. Attention is called to the Gault House, Herald building, the residences of John B. Drake, Nathan Corwith, the Holbrook row in Evanston, and others.



Cements, Etc.

Few persons, not directly interested in the above business, have any correct idea of the magnitude and importance of the trade in the United States, nor the vast quantity which is used in Chicago alone, and kept in stock by some of the leading houses, who also supply the whole West and Northwest, where intense activity in railway construction and house building matters generally has increased the demand.



To builders and contractors, therefore, as well as others, the quality of cement used in their work is a matter of the greatest moment. Undoubtedly the best in every respect for all purposes to which they can be applied are those brands handled by Messrs. Meacham & Wright, No. 98 Market street, Chicago, who are manufacturers' agents for the celebrated Utica and Louisville Hydraulic cements, as well as extensive dealers in Portland cements. For making concrete for tramways, roads, silos, pavements, cellar floors, cisterns, for artificial stone for building purposes, and outside coatings for houses, they are invaluable. They, unilke other materials for building, are not injured, but strengthened by the lapse of time, and do not, in fact, reach their greatest strength for years after they have been used. For floorings, mouldings, castings, hydraulic and stucco work, plastering, etc., they never fail to perform their part admiraby and thoroughly. They are also the most reliable for use in building foundations of any kind, and possess in an eminent degree the power of hardening under water. In Michigan and New York stucco, lime, hair, etc., they are also extensive dealers, all of which are sold at the lowest market prices of the day of purchase.

Messrs. Meacham & Wright have an experience of many years in this line of business, and their reputation is widespread throughout the country for handling products which have stood the test so perfectly as in all instances to stamp them with the mark of superiority. Possessing, as they

CONTRACT—AGENCY—RIGHT TO COMMISSION.

When a real estate owner offers a commission to a real estate agent for the production of a purchaser by a certain day, time is of the essence of the contract, and he is not entitled to his commissions upon the production of a purchaser upon the last day, who insists upon having a reasonable time for the examination of the title. Rectification of Mortgage of Homestead by Husband and Wife—Equity will interfere to rectify a misdescription of certain lands conveyed in a mortgage executed by a married man and his wife, and intended by them to embrace their homestead, the mortgage being executed with all the formalities required by the statute to convey the homestead.

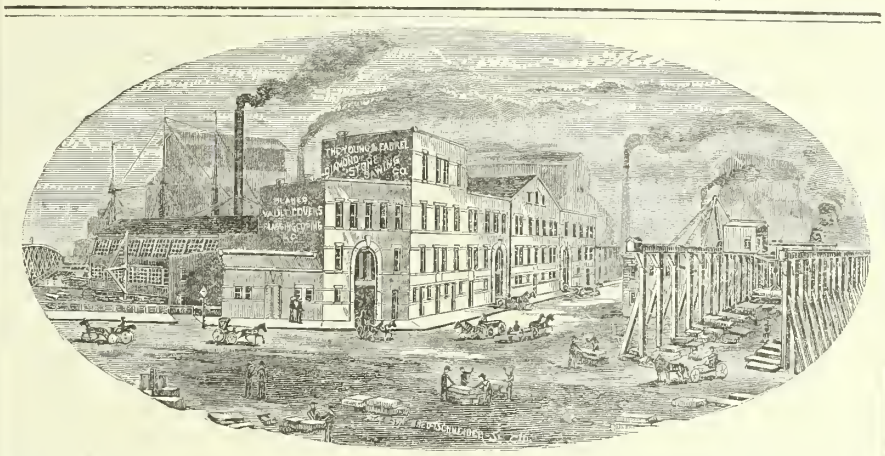
2. When Equity will not Reform a Conveyence Executed by a Married Woman—Equity will not reform a conveyance by a femme covert of her statutory separate estate or homestead, when the rectification requires an order at the hands of the court for re execution or such reformation operates strictly as the creation of a new conveyance.

3. Conveyance of Homestead—A conveyance of the homestead by the husband alone, is void in the absence of the wife's voluntary signature and assent, manifested in substantial accordance with the provisions of the statute.



4. Power of Married Woman to Convey at Common Law—At common law a married woman could not by uniting with her husband in a deed of conveyance, bar herself or her heirs of her right of dower or other interest in the real estate of the husband. Her only mode of conveying was by solemn proceedings of record known as fine and recovery.

5. Conveyance by Married Woman.—The statute prescribes the only way in which a married woman can convey her statutory separate estate or homestead, and none other can be recognized by the courts.

6. Specific Performance of an Agreement by Married Woman—It is a generally settled rule that equity will not decree specific performance of an agreement made by a married woman during coverture.

7. Specific Performance of Contract of Wife to Convey—Conveyance Inoperative for Want of Compliance with Statute—Equity will refuse to enforce the specific performance of a married woman's contract to convey real estate, whether made alone or uniting with husband where her power to convey is derived from the statute, nor will it intervene to give effect to an instrument executed by her, which is inoperative for want of compliance with a statutory requirement.

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 4, 1884.

To whom it may concern:

John M. Cary, Esq., put his Composition Roofing on the Foote Block, southwest corner of Monroe and Clark streets, in the summer of A. D. 1872, now twelve years ago. It has never been repaired, except a little around the sky-light and in one place where tenants allowed steam to escape into an open chimney. No further recommendation of Cary's Roofing is necessary.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.
TWO TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, via the famous

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

REDUCTION IN LUMBER RATES.

Rates by rail on lumber have been reduced between river points and the Missouri to 8 cents, which is the cheapest rates Dubuque has ever had, and will do much to stimulate the lumber trade. This break in the tariff rates by the railroads running to Missouri river points has created quite a commotion throughout Iowa, Minnesota and tributary sections. Chairman Midgley, of the Western Lumber Association, gave notice to the managers of the roads in the Association on Sept. 19, to drop their rates to meet the cut of the Southwestern pool roads. For some time, as reported in this journal, there has been considerable jealousy between shipping points, Eau Claire demanding the same rates as were given to Minneapolis and Stillwater. Hannibal has enjoyed a rate but one cent above the lowest point, and wanted a figure the same as Stillwater and Minneapolis, and Stillwater wanted to be placed on an equal footing with Chicago. Under the reduction the rate now for Minneapolis, St. Paul and Stillwater is 14 cents to Council Bluffs and Omaha, and 11½ cents to all Missouri river points below Omaha. This will undoubtedly lead to a reconstruction of the whole system of rates.

LUMBER NEWS.

There are now twenty-five saw mills in operation between Lynchburg and Danville, Va., on and near the Virginia & Midland Railway, within a compass of about thirty miles. It is estimated that they produce annually 1,300,000 feet of lumber to each mill, or a total of 32,500,000 feet of lumber valued at the place of shipment at $10 per 1000 feet, aggregating to the lumber manufacturers the sum of $3-, 250,000. This lumber section was first opened up to the market about ten years ago by the extension of the above named railway from Lynchburg to Danville. The freights paid for lumber shipments over this road amount to about $60,000 a year. The lumber industry in the South is looming up, and if reports are true a lumber famine is a long way off. The saw mills around Gainsville, Fla., are unable to supply the demand for lumber, and large quantities are being shipped there from mills on the Suanee river. The mills of the Bank of Mobile having been leased by the Danner Land and Lumber Co., are running as usual. The Company has a large amount of logs and sawn lumber, the latter ready for the kiln and the planer, and there are orders ahead sufficient to run the mills all summer and fall. Eastern Kentucky, Tennessee and Southwestern Virginia, as well as portions of North Carolina, are yet well supplied with the best of timber, including poplar, pine and black walnut, thus furnishing a supply of as well as a demand for lumber.

TIMBER DESTROYERS.

The terribly destructive worms are again at work upon the juniper trees, which already begin to present the same dead, dry appearance as they did last year—leaves, twigs, and even some of the bark, being devoured by the ravenous insects. In 1883 countless thousands of juniper and spruce trees in the northern Maine forests were attacked by this worm, and lumbermen were alarmed, while naturalists were puzzled. Whole townships of timber were almost destroyed by the pest in 1883. The trees were stripped of their foliage, and then the worms would bore in under the bark by hundreds, sapping the timber's vitality, and causing the whole growth to appear as though scathed by fire or suffering from a severe drouth.

THE
Real Estate and Building Journal
R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.
CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Sept. 27, 1884.

Tax Deeds to Tax Buyers by the County.

All persons who own property and are interested in a report of these Clouds on Titles, will please make known the fact to this JOURNAL.

THE MARKET.

The chief feature of the real estate market noticeable at this time is a considerable activity in the sale of cheap lots to people of limited means. This Journal published upwards of ninety transfers last week, lying south of the city limits in the Towns of Lake and Hyde Park, besides quit claim deeds and 144 sales within the city limits. This activity in a southern direction extends into the town of Calumet. There are fewer agreements for deeds than formerly, buyers usually paying all cash or a considerable cash payment, and receiving a deed outright.

From the fullest information obtainable a large amount of business in the way of real estate loans and residence building is being carried on by the numerous Building and Loan Associations, who are profiting at the expense of savings banks. It is useless to predict what the market may be in the future; it is enough to know that from the standpoint of the real estate agent business is a little dull. The sure prospects of large crops and now a realization of all that was so promising have not had the effect so far of starting a boom, except in the price of corn. But this, we are told, was a corner! Farmers are complaining at the price of wheat, and are by no means as jubilant as speculators have been wont to picture them: They, however, feel secure. Money and lumber both being cheap they can store their grain, shelter their stock, and borrow money enough to carry out their plans.

THE ONLY CRITERION

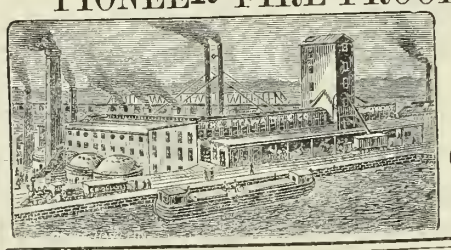
to be governed by is the demand for houses and stores. Notwithstanding the continued activity in building there are few vacant houses to be seen, though rents have fallen somewhat from the figures maintained one and two years ago. This is easily accounted for. We have had business depression, and we are still more or less disturbed by politics—or rather delayed. When November is here the farmers will be in the notion of selling more grain, and a president, is it hoped, will be elected for another four years.

The country as a whole, notwithstanding the disturbances in the coal mining regions of Pennsplvania and the recent bank and mercantile failures in the Eastern and Middle States, was never better supplied with the sinews of business and nature's resources. If business does not materially improve after the presidential election it will be because the fool killer has not attended to his business. For substantial information concerning real estate the reader is directed to the columns of deeds.

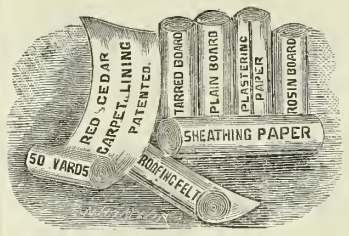
California Investments.

Southern California has become very attractive, not only to the health seeker and the pleasure hunter, but above all to those who are looking for profitable investments. The California of to-day is very different from that of ten or even five years ago.

California has had four periods: the mining period, or the days of the old forty-niners; the grazing period, when the richest lands in the world belonged to the cow boy and his herds; the grain period, when forty thousand acres was one man's wheat field; and the fruit period, which is only beginning to show the vast possibilities of that wonderful land.



Fortunes are being made again and again by those who have the foresight to determine just when a given locality is ready to be transferred from the production of one kind of commodity to that of another. For instance, a large Spanish grant of as fine soil as the State affords, in a perfect climate, with abundant water, has frequently been bought from a stock raiser for from $5 to $15 per acre, and after subdivision into ten or twenty-acre fruit ranches, has been sold readily for from $50 to $150 per acre.



The colony system is peopling the whole region of Southern California with the most thrifty citizens to be fonnd anywhere. Society no longer gets its character from the revolver and the knife. A finer class of people than those who have gone into the sunny land during the last few years never fomed the pioneers of any new State. To go to California to live is not to "endure hardships," but to enjoy perpetual summer in a garden of flowers and an orchard of fruits.

San Diego County just now offers the finest opportunities imaginable for new homes and profitable investments. That county has just been given to the world by the re-opening of the California Southern railroad from Colton to San Diego. It is adapted to almost every citrus and deciduous fruit. It seldom has the slightest frost. Its summer heat is tempered by most delightful ocean breezes.

The people are just beginning to move in that direction. The very best land in the country can be had at $50 per acre. Similar land in the older colonies is selling for from $100 to $300. These latter prices, it is thought, are not fictitious, but will be maintained for years.

not to the bulletined lands of any dealer, but to that whole magnificent country so little known to the average reader.

O. C. WELLER.

The City Council.

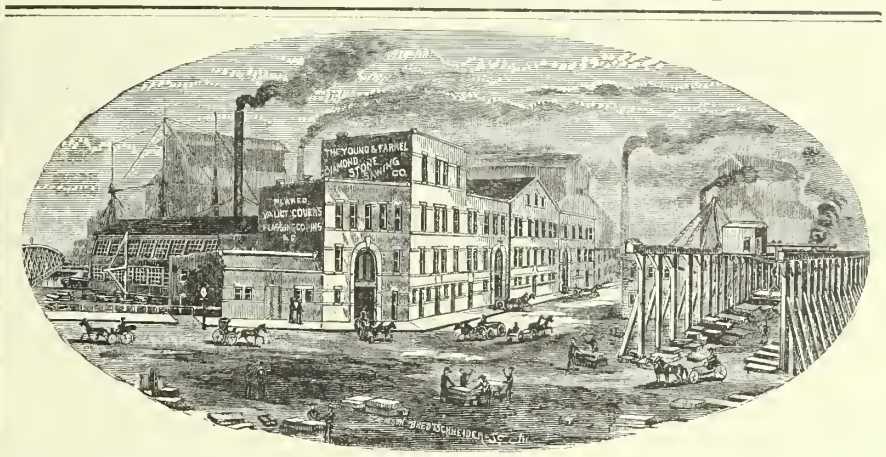
An ordinance was passed for six-inch drains on Forquer street from Halsted street to Blue Island avenue; for water service pipes on Paulina street from Madison to West Jackson street; same on Lytle from West Taylor to West Twelfth street; same on Laflin from West Harrison to West Taylor street; same on Congress street from Halsted to Centre ave; same on Aberdeen street from Madison to West Harrison; same on Sangamon street from West Chicago avenue to C. & N. W. R. R. tracks; same on Hermitage street from West Harrison to West Polk; same on Tell place from Milwaukee to Ashland avenue; same on Curtis street from Fulton street to West Harrison; same on West Thirteenth street from Blue Island avenue to Ashland avenue; same on Willow street from Clybourn avenue to Larrabee street; same on Pearson street from western terminus block 1, Bushnell's add, to its eastern terminus; same on Sebor street from Desplaines street to Halsted; for grading and curbing Sebor street from same to same.

An ordinance was passed establishing sidewalk space on Paulina street from West Lake to West Jackson at 18 feet.

An order was passed to stay proceedings in matter of a stone sidewalk on Twenty-third street.

The Committee on Gas will recommend the filing of a proposition to light the tunnels with electricity.

The Committee on Schools have agreed to the purchase of a school site on Hudson avenue, near Blackhawk, 175x124 feet, for $70 a foot. The owner demands $80.



The Committee on Streets and Alleys, South Division, will report for passage the ordinance turning over to the South Park Board Michigan avenue, between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-ninth streets, so as to make a connection with Garfield boulevard.

The Committee on Streets and Alleys, West Division, decided to recommend asphalt for Warren avenue. A delegation of property owners favoring that pavement and another which wanted cedar blocks were present, and there was a controversy over the matter. The ordinance granting the West Division Company authority to extend its tracks on West Eighteenth and Van Buren streets was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works, with instructions to find out if the owners of a majority of the frontage had signed the petition.

manifested in the market, and several properties in good localities have brought fair prices. The sales are well attended, and both buyers and sellers are preparing for an animated fall business. The auctioneers are generally engaged in arranging their properties for the hammer, in the confidence that large purchases will be made, especially in house property, which is very remunerative, and which is in such demand for rental that few dwellings will be unoccupied in the city by the close of the coming month.

Real Estate Law.

When a deed of assignment conveyed certain designated property without in terms declaring that the property thus conveyed was all the assignor possessed, except that exempt from forced sale, but the inventory made a part of the assignment and the required oath contained clear and unequivocal declarations that the property conveyed by the deed and named particularly in the inventory was all the estate of every character which he owned except named property exempt from forced sale, the Supreme Court of Texas held (Keating vs. Vaughan) that all the documents should be taken together as constituting the assignment, that the deed should be considered with reference to them, and that the deed was a valid one.

PRIORITY OF LIEN—CHATTEL MORTGAGE—STABLE KEEPER'S LIEN.

The opinion of the Appellate Court of Illinois, by Bailey, J., holding that the lien of a chattel mortgage upon a horse and buggy is superior to the lien of a stable keeper under the statute, for the keeping of such property, where the property remained in the possession of the mortgagor and was placed in the stable by him, subsequent to the mortgage, without the knowledge or consent of the mortgagee.

CONSTRUCTION OF DEED—DESCENDANTS CHILDREN.

The opinion of the Court of Appeals of Maryland, by Stone, J., holding that where a grantor used the words "the descendants of any such deceased child to take the part, share or portion which it or their parent would have, if living, been entitled to, to be then conveyed, assigned and delivered over to the said children and their descendants in manner aforesaid," the grant includes the descendants of children, and is not limited to children, as would be the case if the word "survivors" only were used; and that a remainder that may take effect in possession on the determination of the preceding estates of freehold, at whatever time and however early and by whatever means these estates may determine, is vested and not contingent, and may be the subject of a valid conveyance.

COURT OF APPEALS OF KENTUCKY.

1. Separate Estate—A woman may, by an agreement made directly with her husband, without the intervention of a third party, change the character of her property from general into separate estate.

2. Separate estate defined and mode of creating specified.

3. When a married woman having separato estate makes a note for her own benefit, the presumption is that she intended to bind such estate; and that presumption is not destroyed by the fact that the payee of the note requires her to keep the property (on which the note is a lien) insured.

PROPERTY—OWNERS DEPRIVED OF, WITHOUT DUE PROCESS OF LAW—CONSTITUTIONAL LAW—TAXATION.

An act which provides that in an action by a city to recover its taxes a particular form of petition, insufficient to show any right in the city to collect the taxes, shall be sufficient; that the defendant shall be cut off from all except two defenses—that he has paid the taxes or that the property was not taxable; that copies of notices shall be conclusive evidence that such notices were mailed with postage prepaid as required by the charter—is unconstitutional. It deprives the taxpayor of his property without due process of law. City of Louisville vs. Cochran et al. Ky. Ct. App., 5 Ky. L. Rep. 833.

EMINENT DOMAIN—MUNICIPAL CORPORATION—POWER OVER CONDEMNED PROPERTY.

Property condemned for one public use cannot be appropriated to a different use. A city which has condemned land for wharf purposes, may lease the same to an elevator corporation for the purpose of permitting

GUARDIAN AND WARD—COMPENSATION OF GUARDIAN—LOSSES THROUGH IGNORANCE.

Where losses accrue to the estate of a ward through the ignorance of a guardian, to whom no dishouest action or intent is attributable, he is sufficiently punished by being surcharged with the amount of the losses, and should not be deprived of all compensation, although the compensation allowed should be less than that given a more efficient guardian. As a rule deprivation of all compensation is decreed only in the case of a faithless trustee. 15 F. F. Smith 16, McMenamin's Appeal, S. C. Pa. 18 Rep. 57.

Wood Engraving.

Shortly after the introduction of process work people thought the work of the engraver would be done away with. but it was soon found that when good work was wanted, that hand work was the only thing to be relied on. The temporary dullness among the wood engravers, in particular, soon passed away, those who had tried the process work coming back to what they knew to be uniform and reliable. Another thing which favored the wood engravers was the constantly increasing artistic taste of the people, which required a better and higher display of art than had hitherto been the case. The writer was talking on the subject yesterday with Mr. Bersback, member of the old and well known house of Messrs. J. Manz & Co., who carry on business as wood photo and relief line engravers, at No. 94 La Salle street, Chicago. The business has been established may years, and both partners are looked upon as being among the highest authorities in the profession. In answer to the question of the writer, Mr. Bersback said that business was very satisfactory; that those who had abandoned wood engraving to try the new process were leaving the latter again in favor of the old reliable methods. However, if customers desire the new process, the firm have every facility at their disposal to accommodate them.

They employ the best engravers only, and execute orders for the finest description of work. Their range of production includes everything imaginable, and at moderate prices, a fact which our many readers of the journal would do well to bear in mind.

Iron and Wire Works.

During later years metal has, to a great extent, most advantageously taken the place of wood for many useful as well as ornamental purposes. Besides being stronger, its ductility has been found to eminently fit it for use where it is desirable to combine lasting and resisting powers with economy. In regard to what is known as iron and wire work there can be but one verdict rendered, and that is of superiority in every respect over the cumbrous wooden railings, etc., of the olden times.

The leading and most reliable factory of the kind in the city of Chicago is the one located at No. 136 Lake street, of which E. Holenshade is the proprietor. who manufactures and deals in window guards, office railings, gates, fencing, screens, sieves, flower stands, fenders, spark guards, skylight covers, ornamental garden and flower wire goods, gallery railings, elevator enclosures, wire cloth for fire-proof lathing, wire cloth office signs, wire open-work signs, iron and wire stable fittings, roof cresting, galvanized poultry netting, etc., etc., in endless variety. The business was establishe l in 1866, and is now very extensive, supplying not only the jobbers and others in this city and vicinity, but also in almost every section of the West. While manufacturing every kind of goods comprised under this heading a specialty is mnde, however, of bank and office railings. These goods are in general use among business men, and not only add greatly to the appearance of an office, but are highly valued for the additional security they give against roberies of money, papers, etc. These and the other goods made at these works are either in plain or ornamental styles, to suit the tastes of the customers. All these goods are made of the best materials and finished with the greatest care, and from the largest to the smallest article they can be relied upon for excellent quality.

Those among our numerous subscribers and readers who require cheap as well as first class goods of this kind, should communicate with the factory at the above address.

Elegance and Artistic Taste in Mantels, Etc.

Those of our readers who may be unacquainted with the importance centered in the fire-place in our better class of residences, may experience surprise at the space and attention we devote to their description in our reference to the decoration of this style of property. The fact does not perhaps occur to them that in the space it occupies, and the care and cost lavished on its design and completion, it is the most prominent object in the apartment, wherever any pretence to artistic arrangement is made; and the variety of effects that architects have introduced and artists have designed in connection with the fire-place and its surroundings have caused eminent firms to devote exclusive attention to their manufacture.

The most prominent of these firms is that of Messrs. Sherman & Flavin, manufacturers of and dealers in marble and iron mantels, as well as grates, fire-places, brass and soapstone goods, and all kinds of marble work. Having in the course of our inspectisn and description of the better class of dwelling and apartment houses, had occasion to repeatedly make favorable mention of their work, the writer recently called on the firm to ascertain for the benefit of our numerous readers what innovations and novelties were being introduced in their line. Having explained the object of his visit, was courteously given every opportunity to obtain the necessary information.

There were mantels of unique pattern in of every kind, both foreign and domestic, among which we mention a few, viz: California and Mexican onyx, Egyptian siena, Levante, Formosa, Borgard, French jasper, Alps green, Saravetza, Florentine, Herculanium, Tennessee, Vermont, Iowa, Indiana, etc., with niches and etargere shelves, with hearths and facings tiled in the most artistic and tasteful manner; some faced with variegated marbles of the most costly character, others adorned with panels in mosaic, and others again handsomely carved in the highest art of the sculptor, The entire display is unquestionably the finest in the West. The mantels are set up in their proper positions, and the surroundings arranged in the proper manner, giving the purchaser an excellent idea of the appearance they will present when in place.

The firm have watched the development of the present artistic movement in interior decoration from its inception, and have carefully kept pace with it and skillfully encouraged it by their fine display of work, so that they are thoroughly familiar with the requirements of architects, builders and house-owners of artistic taste. Their facilities for meeting these requirements are unexcelled.

Our object in referring so lengthy to the beautiful display Messrs. Sherman & Flavin make, is to call the attention of our readers to the style of work they turn out and the facilities they afford purchasers who may desire to obtain the latest and most elegant designs in mantels, vestibules and fire-place surroundings. Their salesrooms are located at Nos. 284, 286 and 288 Wabash avenue, near Van Buren street, Chicago, and a visit to them will amply compensate for the trouble.

A. Bjornson & Co., Contractors for Raising and Removing Buildings.

A stranger, on his arrival in Chicago, is filled with admiration on walking the wide streets, adorned on either side with handsome business blocks, and seeing the busy state of thoroughfares, crowded with every description of vehicles loaded with merchandise, and with an ever-hurrying throng of people intent on the business of the day, all of wh'ch goes to show the extent of the business done in this the future commercial metropolis of the world. Much improvement has taken place in this city the last few years in the widening and grading of streets, and the assertion so often made by visitors that Chicago was nothing more than a mudhole, although true a few years ago, can not be said now or verified in any particular. These improvements have become a necessity, as the ever increasing trade demands facilities corresponding with the increasing traffic.

Among the number of contractors who have contributed largely to the general improvements may be mentioned the well known house of Messrs. Bjornson & Co., contractors for raising, lowering and removing brick, stone, and iron buildings, and during the years they have been established they have had an experience in handling the heaviest and most costly structures without accident or damage. This testimonial of carefulness is a sufficient guaranty that all work intrusted to them receives that attention that experience teaches. The machinery and appliances used by them are of the most approved kind, which enable them to undertake contracts of the most extensive character. They are prepared to give estimates, and all contracts given them will be executed in a thorough and workmanlike manner. Their office is at No. 154 La Salle street, Chicago, Ill.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

THE LUMBER MARKET.

At the docks the market has been and is still a little slow. For long and heavy timbers, all kinds of prices are being made, and most of the lumber offered has been of a coarse quality. Shingles are coming in gradually, there being a diminution rather than an increase, with a slight advance in prices. On the whole prices remain substantially the same, except the slight advance of 5 to 15 csnts on shingles. Quotations are as follows:

Piece stuff, green	$ 8.25@ 8.50
Long timbers and joists, green	10.00@11.50
Coarse common	9.00@ 9.50
Boards and strips, No. 2, green	9.50@11.00
" Medium, green	11.50@15.00
" No. 1, green	15.00@18.00
High grade	18.00@22.00
Shingles, standard	1.65@ 1.80
" choice	1.80@ 1.90
" extra	2.00@ 2.20
" clear	2.80
" cedar	1.50@ 2.00
Lath	1.25@ 1.40

The reduced shipping rates, fully noticed in last week's JOURNAL, has not yet had the effect of increasing shipments. A further reduction is predicted to Missouri river points. Lumber dealers are of the opinion that the cutting of freight rates will have a bad effect on the business by way of demoralizing prices. It is getting to be pretty well understood that dealers at the yards pay bnt little or no attention to printed price lists, much less the official one. It is "a-go-as-yon-please" with all dealers. On common lumber the range below the alleged list is fully an average of $2. No. 1 fencing, a desirable stock at all times, is listed in the "official" schedule at $14.50; it sells without question at $13, and probably in some instances lower. No. 2 fencing sells at a corresponding ratio below the list. Dimension is selling at an averege of about $11 a thousand. Thick selects and uppers are selling from $2 to $4 off the printed list. In short some dealers pay no attention to the public list,but make prices wholly to suit themselves. The coming scramble for western business will tend to still further demoralize prices for a time.

THE MARKET.

The excited condition of the produce markets does not seem to be contagious as to real estate. Within a day or two the former have been less active, wheat being weaker and other articles fairly steady. The distribution of money on the first of the month has had the effect to enliven business at the banks, and a slight improvement is noticed in nearly ail branches of trade. This being the case we can rest assured that real estate will wheel into line within a week or two. The land trade has not been deteriorating, but has simply been pausing. Capital always looks ahead, no matter what the past has been. Real estate now-a-days attracts only the sober, solid kind of men, who are less liable to get excited than formerly. While we have had no assistance from the above class of investors during the summer, it is very plain to all who will examine the records that a fairly brisk trade has been kept up in medium and cheap residence property. Especially was this the case during the last week. Considering such and the quite lengthy list of building permits, we must conclude that real estate is more than holding its own—it is tending upward, and will improve from now forward.

The Real Estate Board

held its monthly meeting on Wednesday and had a very large attendance. Messrs. Warner, Cummings and Jackson were appointed a committee to prepare amendments to the building ordinance of the city, covering all sorts of nuisances in erection of livery stables, factories, etc., in residence districts. The secretary was instructed to mail the call-list of property to every member daily.

The following resolutions were then adopted:

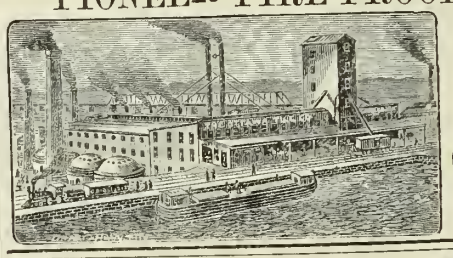
Resolved, That in order to make the daily board meetings more profitable, one piece of property may be offered for sale daily upon the board by each broker, who shall be allowed not more than three minutes' time to describe the same; that a brief description shall be printed upon the daily call under the head "List of property for sale." That no member shall offer any piece of property unless he has the exclusive control of the same, and considers it a bargain. That it shall be the duty of each broker to report to the Secretary when a piece of property so offered has been sold or withdrawn, and that such note shall be entered on the daily call.

Resolved, That the rooms of the board be offered free of charge as a place for mortgages and judicial sales on real estate, except between the hours of 12:30 and 1 p. m., and that at all such sales said rooms shall be open to the public. That notice of such sales may be printed once upon the regular daily call list free of charge; that when notices of such sales are printed upon the daily call list a copy of that list shall be mailed to each member of the board by the Secretary; that the Secretary send a copy of this resolution to all Masters in Chancery and leading attorneys in this city.

The petition to be sent to the Legislature, praying for reform in the revenue system, taxation, etc., and for the appointment of a commission to consist of members of both branches of the Legislature and private citizens, was formally adopted. The petition as circulated about the time the board adjourned for the summer vacation, was published in the Journal then, and consequently will not be repeated. The members were never in better spirits than now, and the association gives promise of effecting much needed reform in regard to real property.

EXCURSION TO SOUTH SHORE AND CHELTENHAM BEACH.

At one o'clock to-day a special free train will leave the depot of the Illinois Central railroad, foot of Lake street, stopping for passengers at Van Buren, Sixteenth, Twenty-second, Thirty-first, and all other stations along the route for the benefit of all parties who wish to visit the beach and be present at the sale of lots to take place there. Free tickets can be obtained at the office of B. A. Ulrich, No. 182 Dearborn street.



The tide of population in Chicago and Cook County is moving steadily southward. Twenty-second street, Thirty-first street, Thirty-fifth and Thirty-ninth streets are becoming central city streets, while improvements are pushing rapidly southward to Forty-seventh, Fifty-third, Fifty-ninth and Sixty-ninth streets. Kenwood, Hyde Park Center and South Park are fast becoming more like parts of the great city than like suburban towns, while the suburbs on the I. C. R. R. are now found at Woodlawn, Fernwood and Riverdale.

Intramural Travel.

No greater detriments to the growth and prosperity of our city could possibly exist than the swinging bridges over the Chicago river and the imperfect street car accommodations. During the last four years the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL has repeatedly called attention to the bridges as a growing evil, and to the meanness of street car companies in not trying to keep pace with the rapidly growing population, by building other lines and providing more comfortable cars, especially on the West side.

Bridges, in its report to the Citizens' Association, says;

"Our street railway and bridge traffic, already enormous, is increasing very rapidly, and the necessity for additional accommodations and facilities becomes daily more apparent. The obstructions to street traffic caused by the bridges has also become a question of momentous, if not of paramount, importance to the business interests of the city. Permission has already been accorded to the City Council to one or more new lines of street railway, and projects for other new main and cross lines are numerous. The time has arrived in the history of the city when opposition to new lines is not only useless, but wrong in principle, provided the statute in regard to street frontage is respected and the public receives due and adequate returns iu comfort and convenience for the valuable privileges granted. We are of the opinion that, other things being equal, and only when other things are equal, preference should be given to the old and existing companies provided the permission for their new lines is hedged about with all the restrictions which the public demands, and which the value of their privileges warrants. The reason for this is obvious. They can, of course, give greater accommodations to passengers by transfer or otherwise than new organizations, which must necessarily have fewer lines and connections. But it is evident that an entirely new system in the management of Chicago city railways is needed, and that the change must be made very early in their future history; the plan on which they have been heretofore operated is behind the present stage of the city's progress, although suitable to its condition fifteen or twenty yeras ago. Passengers should be able to go within a few blocks of any given point by a system of transfers, and not be compelled, as at present in many instances, to return the greater part of the distance and make a new trip. For instance, a line should run the whole length of Halsted street from end to end; another should take in all the railroad passenger depots without change of cars, which can be done with little trouble and great convenience, and there should be several lines running from the West side to State street, at points where the passengers could take the cars of that liue either north or south, as desired. Through union lines should be established from Twenty-second street to Union Park and to Lincoln Park, and from Lincoln Park to Union Park, and from Lincoln Park to Humboldt Park without change."

The same committee goes farther and gives in detail a half dozen other grievances in this connection, and points out some of the remedies.

If our City Council would devote even a small portion of the time given to politics by the members of that body, and confer with the Citizens' Association, or its committees, in reference to the needs and improvements of the city, a great deal might be learned, and by co-operation much could be accomplished. We repeat again the statement made by this Journal long ago, that real estate cannot advance much further in value until public improvements and public affairs in this city take a step forward. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The County Board.

The County Board met Monday. The Committee on Finance recommended the purchase of the Townsend Farm, eighty-six and a half acres adjoining the County Farm, at $200 per acre. Concurred in.

Messrs. Washington Hesing and Peter McGurn were elected to fill vacancies, caused by the expiration of the terms of Summerfield and Webster, in the County Board of Education.

Commissioner Senne offered a resolution to the effect that the county being in need of funds the County Clerk be instructed to insert in his call for the next general county election, to be held in November, the question of authorizing the County Board to issue bonds to the amount of $500,000, the proceeds to be appropriated to the payment "on an indebtedness created before the adoption of the present State Constitution," Recent developments show the Board have never beeu backward in keeping up county indebtedness.

The aunual report of the warden of the County Hospital showed that the daily average of patients was 387; the expense of keeping aud feeding same 74.7 cents per capita per diem, and that the entire expenses have been $142,731 for the year ending September, 1884.

The annual report of the warden of the infirmary showed that the expenses had been $117,609; daily average of inmates 802; cost to keep, 35¼ cents per capita per diem.

Commissioner Senne offered a resolution in regard to the investigation of the Recorder's office. He desired that the experts be instructed to inquire diligently whether the recorder adhered to the charges fixed by law for the benefit of the public.

National School of Short Hand.

The above named institution is now being conducted by Bull & Coleson in the new Commercial Bank Building, Chicago, and will include the Short Hand School and Type Writing Academy formerly conducted in the Montauk Block by Mrs. A. M. Coleson. A thorough and complete course will be given in short hand and type writing, and students will be prepared in the shortest possible time to fill positions as private secretaries, amanuenses, type-writer operators, etc.

Day and evening sessions were begun about May 5 last for the purpose of giving a practical and comprehensive course of lessons by mail (perfected during a long experience in correcting lessons of pupils residing at a distance.)

To the young man or woman desirous of obtaining a start in the world or securing a certain means of livelihood, a practical knowledge of short hand is one of the best preparations. As an occupation for women it is unexcelled. The demand for steno-graphers during the past few years has been unprecedented and will continue to increase as the vast business interests of the country are developed.

Closely allied to the art of short hand writing is the ability to use the caligraph and type writer. Its use is learned in from two weeks to two months time. Type writing is a light and pleasant occupation for persons of both sexes, and should be learned at the earliest opportunity by all stenographers, as it increases their range of usefulness and saves much valuable time.

In view of the fact that the general use of the caligraph and type writer is only a question of time, great prominence is given in the school to this branch of instruction. Many pupils are taken into Mrs. Coleson's business office and paid fair wages as soon as they can do good work.

Pupils may enter at any time, as each one receives individual attention, and only a good common school education is required to begin with.

From an acquaintance with and knowledge of the above-named institution, the JOURNAL has no hesitation in recommending the school to its readers.

Superior Plumbing and Gas Fitting.

The minute attention devoted by purchasers of even moderately expensive property to the sanitary arrangements, and the care exercised by inspecting architects and others in the examination of the plumbing systems, have caused more care to be exercised in these important departments than all the scientific essays theoretical plumbers can compile on the subject. Knowing that the acceptance or rejection of a piece of property by a would-be purchaser will depend mainly on the condition of the plumbing arrangements, care will be exercised to employ only suitable materials and appliances, to properly plan the sanitary system and have it executed by thoroughly competent men.

Experience in the plumbing trade must be combined with a progressive tendency, and among the firms who have displayed both characteristics, we would commend to our readers among architects, builders and property owners, Messrs. Brennan & Lott, No. 227 East Lake st., Chicago, who are contractors and jobbers for every description of new work and repairs, making a specialty of overhauling the plumbing of hotels, private houses, etc., improving them according to the latest developments in this branch of hygiene, and the reputation they have earned enables us to recommend them with confidence to our large number of readers and subscribers as competent and thoroughly reliable practical plumbers and gas fitters.

Fresco and Decorative Painting.

In traveling around the country, as the writer is often called upon to do, he frequently comes in contact with the work of Chicago's leading artists, and this is especially true when we speak of Messrs. Robertson & Reddick, the prominent fresco and decorative artists. These gentlemen possess those qualities so necessary for the attainment of eminence in the profession, viz: great ability and taste in designing, in the blending of colors, and an enthusiastic love of the work. It is these reasons, together with the conscientious manner in which they execute all work, that have brought them the success they now enjoy. It is not in Chicago alone that their artistic work is executed; their fame has extended throughout the West and Northwest, consequetly they have contracts in process of completion everywhere, as they are acknowledged to be in the front rank in fresco and decorative art, as well as house and sign painting. Their productions are seen everywhere in our palatial residences and public buildings, and as the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL is extensively read by a class of men who are known for the taste displayed in their surroundings, to them we say that they cannot do better than by placing their orders in the hands of these gentlemen, whose work speaks for itself, and prices are as low as those of any other first class house. Their store is located at No. 345 West Randolph street, Chicago, stocked with artistic wall papers, window shades, as well as paints, oils, glass, etc., and all orders forwarded there will, as usual, have their immediate attention.

Iron and Wire Work.

Both for mechanical and ornamental purposes the manufacture of wire goods has been greatly enlarged within a few years, and some of the articles for household and decorative uses are highly artistic in designs and elegant in workmanship. Comparatively inexpensive and exceedingly durable these goods are meeting with a constantly increasing demand for a great variety of purposes.

Probably the largest assortment of such manufactures to be found in the city may be seen at the showrooms of Mr. John Booth, No. 166 East Lake street, Chicago. The excellence of his manufactures is well known to the trade, both far and near. The machinery used in the works is of the most improved construction, and only the most skillful operatives are employed. The production includes fire-proof wire lathing, wire cloth, spark arresters, wire railing for banks, offices and cemeteries, window guards, elevator enclosures, roof cresting, netting for farm and garden use, poultry fencing, etc., etc., and a large line of ornamental and useful articles for the house, the verandah, the lawn and garden, including stands and trainers, wire trellises, archways, bordering for flower beds, hanging baskets, wire garden chairs and settees, etc. He also manufactures a complete line of meal, flour and oat sieves, druggists' sieves, and all description of coal, sand and mortar sieves, screens and riddles in all the requisite sizes, which for strength and durability are unsurpassed.

Mr. Booth is prepared to make every description of wire work to order, and his long experience, superior facilities, and large assortment of patterns and designs, enable him to offer his customers unequalled advantages. Architects, builders, contractors and property owners in Chicago and vicinity, as well as all over the West and Northwest, among our subscribers, who may wish for anything in this line of goods, should send to Mr. Booth for his illustrated catalogues and price lists.

NATIONAL SHEET METAL ROOFING CO.

Organized under Charter granted by State of Tennessee, September 30, 1882.
SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

THE LUMBER MARKET.

The very fact that the lumber dealers at their last meeting, September 27, after hearing reports from committees, resolved not to make any alterations in price lists, renders an articie on the subject useless. The following is the report as adopted:

"We, your committee on price list, recommend that no action be taken by the meeting of the 27th inst. as to prices for the month of October. and that no list be issued. We do this in view of the unsettled condition of prices and in hopes that the action we recommend may by the expiration of the next thirty days induce the trade to come together aud agree upon a list which shall represent the real selling values of lumber in the market."

The Lumber Trade Journal for October says: "By the adoption of the above some of the river markets will lose their guide, and may find that giving lumber away don't pay. This report means that the dealers here don't propose to let markets west of Chicago seize upon trade that is not strictly in the territory of those markets, unless they do so at considerable disadvantage. The intention, however, of this report is not to demoralize prices further than their present bad state, but to bring about, as the recommendation states, a more settled condition of selling values to the end that the trade generally may be benefited."

At the docks the quotations are as follows:

Piece stuff, green	$ 8.25@ 8.50
Long timbers and joists, green	10.00@11.50
Coarse common	9.00@ 9.50
Boards and strips, No. 2, green	9.50@11.00
" Medium, green	11.50@15.00
" No. 1, green	15.00@18.00
High grade	18.00@22.00
Shingles, standard	1.65@ 1.80

" extra	2.00@ 2.20
" clear	2.80
" cedar	1.50@ 2.00
Lath	1.25@ 1.40

For several months the leading lumber dealers of the Northwest have been busy in their endeavors to decrease the supply of lumber. The resolution of the Association of Lumbermen, which met in this city a month ago, will not, we fear, be lived up to. Instead of getting ready to shut down the mills November 1, already gangs have been sent into the woods, and if reports are true "there will be an increase rather than a curtailment."

Our retail price list, on page 19, has been corrected to meet the views of the majority, who seem to sell from $1 to $3 under published prices.

HARDWOODS.

This is the season of the year when the city demand for hardwoods should be greatest. During the spring and summer buildings are projected and finished as far as the roof, and from this time till winter the inside finishing is done. The two main sources or uses of hardwood lumber are the interior finishing of the costly and larger class of buildings and the manufacture of wagons and agricultural implements and furniture, without alluding to that class of timber used in railroad and bridge building, etc. The market, however, is a little sluggish and almost entirely for good lumber, the poorer grades being slaughtered as to prices.

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Oct. 11, 1884.

THE MARKET.

There is a slight increase in real estate transactions in the city, and the usual amount of brag and bluster by journals devoted to outside and western real estate interests. Leading streets in the city do not figure as prominently in the columns of sales as formerly, but numerous transactions are reported on cross streets and in obscure localities, the majority of sales ranging in prices even below a medium grade. A few acre tracts of small size have been sold in the suburban and country districts of Cook County. A new subdivision between Grand and Drexel boulevards, extending from Forty-sixth to Forty-seventh street, containing 132 lots, has been put upon the market by Mr. F. Gaylord; also 400 choice lots by the same party on Morgan, Carpenter, Aberdeen and May streets and Centre avenue, between Fifty-third street and Garfield boulevard. A complete report of subdivisions, as published on page 477 of last week's REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, will serve to show the extent of subdividing.

Four years ago property on Washington boulevard, from Hoyne avenue to Central or Garfield Park, was sold for $65 to $90 per front foot. The same property, and other ground in the above locality, cannot be bought to-day for $200 per foot, except near the railroad.

First-class residence property is on the upward tendency, and is scarce in the market. Grand boulevard property on the South side is appreciating slowly and surely. All branches of business in Chicago are showing signs of vigor and life, and but for the distraction caused by the approaching election, we would now have a most prosperous season of trade in real estate.

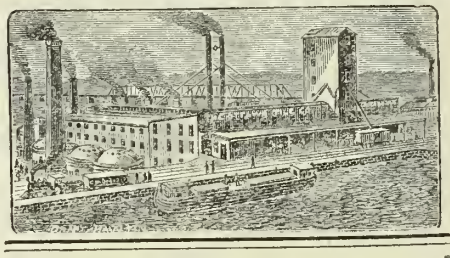
BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Cooler weather is having a good effect and the demand for seasonable goods is promising, although the harvest time for many dealers is past. There is a better tone to local business all round, and the marketing of the corn crop is expected to bring good results for the winter.

The first week of October has been a pretty good one for the dealers in investment securities. The market may be called active when compared to the poor picking of the last five or six months, though the sales have not been heavy if judged by the standard of flush times. The trade has been quite well distributed. Even the smallest brokers have done something, and the specialists in outside municipal and county bonds have made some large sales.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

The leading produce markets during the week were active and irregular. Corn was weaker, oats and lard stronger, and other leading articles exhibited little change. Outside news was not of special interest, except in regard to wheat, but our receipts of cereals were smaller than the recent average. The reported failure of a prominent firm in Bremen was cited as a reason for weakness in the export movement, and appeared to depress New York much more than Chicago.



CLOUDS ON REALTY.

The annual sale for the State, county, city taxes, etc., of 1883, and prior years, and special assessments, commenced on the 25th ult., and is still in progress.

A large amount of property has been sold thus far owing principally to the fact that the owners (many of whom are non-residents), are unfamiliar with the law and the process of collection, and those through carelessness, etc., allow their property to go by default.

Messrs. Healy & Co., room 36, 125 Clark street, make a specialty of clearing clouds upon real estate and protecting owners' interest. We take pleasure in recommending them to our subscribers.

Tax Sale.

CLOUD ON TITLE—SETTING ASIDE—MUST TENDER AMOUNT PAID.

1. The objections urged do not go to the substantial justice of the taxes, but are aimed at certain alleged irregularities.

2. It was error to set aside the tax sale without requiring the complainant to pay the defendant the money paid by him in his purchase, and interest thereon.—Ed. Chicago Legal News.

Opinion by Dickey, J., Sup. Court.

STATEMENT.

This is a bill in equity originally brought by George Rose against Asahel Gage to set aside a sale for taxes of lots 1 to 23 in block 1, and lots 1 to 43 in block 2, of Nichols' subdivision of block 6 of Leis' subdivision of the southwest quarter of section 12, town 39, range 13, in Cook county, and enjoin said Gage from taking a tax deed to said lots on such sale.

On September 18, 1873, these lots were sold for the State and other taxes of 1872 for $623.76 to appellant. On September 17, 1875, one day before the time of redemtion from the sale had expired this bill was filed. John H. Nichols, the present appellee, was subsequently substituted as complainant in the cause, he having succeeded to the claim of Rose, and he filed an amended and a supplemental bill by leave of court.

The bill sought to set aside the tax title, first on the ground of a burnt records proceeding, and second, because of an irregularity concerning some of the items entering into the taxes for which the property was sold. The appellee had not paid any of these taxes, and they were unpaid at the time of the sale. The answer denied both charges or grounds of relief. On the hearing the court decreed that the tax sale be set aside; that appellant be enjoined from receiving a deed; that the costs be taxed against appellant, and that execution issue therefor. The relief was granted without requiring the appellee to refund the taxes, and not upon any terms whatever. In the bill there was an offer to pay the amount justly due as taxes on the premises and legal interest thereon from the day of the the sale and all legal and just costs, expenses and charges when ascertained.

The City Council.

SEPTEMBER 29.

Ordinances were passed as follows:

For grading and paving Milwaukee avenue from West Division street to North avenue; for grading and paving North avenue from Milwaukee avenue to Western avenue; for curbing, grading aud paving Locust street from North Clark to LaSalle avenue; same establishing sidewalk space on South Dearborn street from Thirty-third to Egan avenue; same, establishing sidewalk space on Locust street from North Clark to LaSalle avenue; same for sidewalk on both sides of Calumet avenue from Twentieth to Twenty-sixth street.

LAKE VIEW.

On last Monday at the Board meeting of trustees a communication was received from the Secretary of the North Chicago City Railway Company stating that the company would elect to retain its track on Evanston avenue.

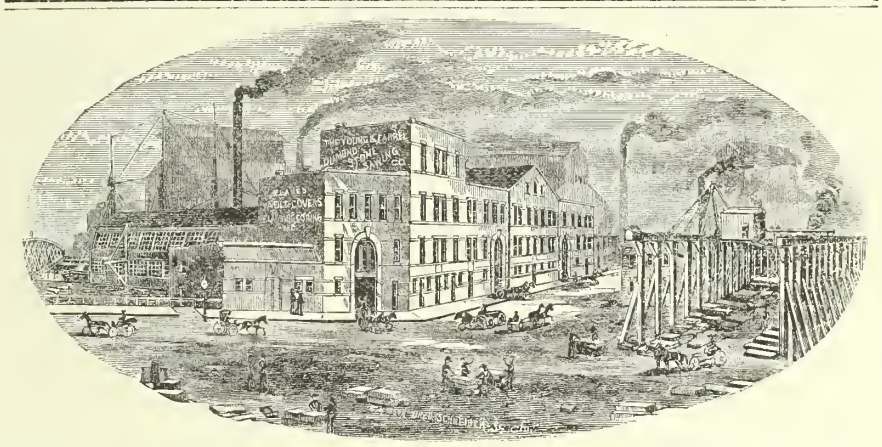
The Engineer was instructed to prepare an ordinance for sewering, grading, and paving Barry avenue.

The proposition of the City Railway Company in regard to their water-rates was accepted.

A water-pipe was ordered in Noble avenue from Hoyne to Leavitt.

The Supervisor stated that he had sold the new series of water-bonds for $25,020, and had placed this sum to the credit of the water fund.

The appropriation for Lincoln Park was fixed at $8,000.



An ordinance authorizing the Suburban Gas Company to lay mains and pipes in the streets and alleys was referred to the Committee of the Whole. The Treasurer and Finance Committee were authorized to invest the surplus funds of the sinking and interest fund.

The report of the Superintendent of Water Works for September showed 56,037,960 gallons of water pumped.

A Land Suit.

The Supreme Court in a decision just rendered has reversed the decree of Judge Gardner in the case of Gen. J. T. Torrence against Susan M. Shedd aud others. This was a suit to recover an uudivided one-twenty-first of a quarter section of land near South Chicago, which had been at one time owned by Father Sorin of Notre Dame University. Sorin at first owned only a thirteen twenty-first interest, which he sold to J. H. Bowen in 1876. Having afterwards acquired a title to the remainder, he gave a deed to Torrence on the understanding that he should not pay anything until he recovered possession of the land in some way. The Supreme Court held that the transaction between Sorin and Torrence was not champertous, and that the after-acquired title did not pass to Bowen or his grantees, the defendants, under the deed made by Sorin in 1876, but that it passed to Torrrenee by Sorin's deed in 1880.

Excellent Plumbing, Steam and Gas-Fitting.

So much has been and is being said constantly on the subject of sewer gas poisoning that the pnblic is to some extent aroused and independent investigations are being made by householders into the matter of drainage and disease breeding odors. But the average housc-owner is not a practical sanitary plumber, and the result of all such examinations end in failure to find anything ont of order. It is nnderground that the leakage nsually exists and from pipes whose existance is not dreamed of by the tenant. Tyere is no reason why one honse should be less healthy than another, and there would be no difference were the sewerage and the plumbing work alike excellent, but the trouble is contractors pay but little money for what onght to cost considerable, and hence the result mentioned.

Among the sanitary plumbers in this city who possess a high repute and whose complete and perfect system of sewer gas ventilation is so well-known, we must include Mr. Bart Ryan, 280 Wabash avenue, corner of Van Buren street, Chicago. His system of thoroughly excluding sewer gas from dwellings is as perfect as it well can be, hence any comment on onr part is superfluous. He is a practical plumber, steam and gas fitter, and all his work is thorough, substantial and perfect, wherefore his services for new work and jobbing are constantly in demand where a perfect and satisfactory job is desired. His reputation is well established and we hope our numerous patrons among architects, builders, contractors and property owners will avail themselves of his services, and thus confirm the truth of our statement.

An Elegant Display of Carpets, Curtains and Upholstery.

Never before was there greater display of artistic skill in the designing of Carpets, Curtains and Upholstery goods than is exhibited in the latest styles of such fabrics, nor would it be easy to find a more complete and attractive line of snch merchandise than is offered by the well known firm of Messrs. Judson & Co., corner State and Washington streets, Chicago.

Their spacious warehouse is fitted with elegant goods of recent importation, comprising a choice selection of the newest designs from the most celebrated European manufacturers. The assortment of carpets embraces many patterns of striking originality and beanty, designed to harmonize in color and effect with the prevailing styles of furniture and interior decoration. The display of curtains and curtain materials is also very attractive, comprising the most stylish fabrics and the latest and most fashionable novelties in patterns and colors. The stock of goods for upholstery pnrposes, draperies, and other interior decorations, could not easily be snrpassed in variety and elegance.

In the selection of this splendid and seasonable stock, Messrs. Judson & Co. have manifested excellent taste, and their enterprise will doubtless be fully appreciated by the community. The approaching holidays will occasion an extensive demand for goods of the above character, and nowhere conld more satisfactory selection be made than at the establishment of the above named firm.

Artistic Gas Fixtures,

Elegance and refined taste in the arrangement, equipment and fitting of modern strnctures are by no means confined to mere decoration as was customary in olden times when such beautiful effects were produced. The modern decorator, or, in fact every possessor of a cultured taste has many facilities for the production of elegant effects in ornamentation that science has only placed at the disposal of the later times. In gas fixtures and in the various adaptations of the electric light, both arc and incandescent, we find that taste and skill have combined to produce some magnificent specimens of ornamental metal work, and this has been more especially the case with regard to this than to any other branches of metal work.

The possibilities of gas illuminations as a means of adding to decorative effect were long neglected, and gas fixtures were for a considerable period crude or clumsy productions, tolerated mainly on account of their utility, and avoided altogether where a more pleasing and attractive means of illumination could be used. Metal workers and glassmakers realized, however, that gas fixtnres were capable of being rendered highly ornamental, and gradually the manufacture of gas fixtures developed into a high art department in metal working.

The largest wholesale and retail dealer in artistic gas fixtures in the West, is the well-known house of Mr. E. Baggot, Fifth Avenue and Madison Street, Chicago, Ill., who has contributed to some of onr finest private and public buildings, churches, theaters, etc., and the magnificent assortment of fine and artistic gas fixtures of every kind he keeps on hand at his extensive establishment is a sufficient criterion of the success he has accomplishd.

He is also prepared to execute gasfitting and plumbing in all its branches in the most satisfactory manner; makes estimates and takes contracts to any extent in and ontside the city, and being a sanitary plumber of established reputation, he is abreast of the times in every particular, and has made an excellent record as a contractorand jobber for every description of new work and repairs at reasonable prices. Architects, decorators, corporations and householders, or, in fact, all who desire to combine the widest range of utility with elegance of design and artistic taste in gas fixtures should not fail to visit his show-rooms.

Sanitary Plumbing and Gas Fitting.

In the purchase or renting of residence property at the present time, one of the first considerations which receive attention is the character and condition of the plnmbing, the public having learned by sad experience the serious conseqnences that inevitably follow a neglect of proper sanitary precautions in connection with a matter of such vital importance. Another effect of the general agitation of this subject has been to raise the standard of excellence in plumbing and to render builders more cautions in the selection of those to whom such important work is to be entrusted. Really good workmen are not so numerous, however, that there is danger of their lacking employment.

We can cordially recommend to our patrons who may need the services of a first-class plnmber Messrs. G. L. Wallace & Bro., No. 790 West Madison Street, Chicago. They have constantly availed themselves of all the successive improvements which sanitary science has introduced in connection with the profession. As the result of their enterprise and skill they have been called upon to execute the plumbing, etc., in many of the finest mansions, offices, public buildings in and ontside the city. Work entrusted to their care will be executed in the most thorough and conscientious manner, and with the nse of none but the very best materials and the latest improved appliances. They are also prepared to execute jobbing with the utmost promptness, and orders left at any hour of the day or evening will receive their prompt attention at charges which will be found very reasonable.

We refer to their card in this journal.

MANY houses are at the present time drawing toward completion. While it is essential that the foundation and brick work and the other heavy contracts of these buildings should be performed well, special attention should be given to the little details, which give a completeness to the building not otherwise obtained. The sash weights have their place among these minor contracts. Among the latest improved sash weights, which are giving general satisfaction and are meeting with more than ordinary success, is Raymond's Patent Compressed Lead Sash Weight. These weights are solid, compact and noiseless; they have a smooth finish; they are twice as heavy as iron, and occupy only half the space. Each weight is centered, making it hang perfectly true and plumb. The weight, though patented this year, is already in use in some of the principal buildings erected this season, viz: new Board of Trade and Pullman buildings.

West Madison Street, new stores. Nos. 648 and 650. Rentals, $2,760, per annum. The two for $26,000.

South Clark Street Business Lot.

This lot 18 95-100x102 3-10, is north of Twelfth Street, and has been much enhanced in value by the removal of the Board of Trade to Van Buren Street, and the great absorption of Real Estate by the Western Indiana Railway in that locality. Price $333 per front foot. Several feet adjoining the above also for sale.

Another Valuable South Clark Street Lot.

Only 450 feet south of Van Buren Street, west front on South Clark Street, lot 25x100, to an alley. Centrally located to new Board of Trade; price, per front foot, $1,000.

Big Incomes.

No. 507 Polk St., a two-story brick building arranged in four flats of five rooms each, renting for $888. At price asked, $6,000, will pay 12 per cent. net.

Nos. 529 and 531 Polk Street, Two two-story brick buildings, arranged in four flats of four rooms each, and renting for $,1608. At price asked, $10,000 they pay 15 per cent. net.

No. 12 Plum Street, a three-story brick building, in three flats of five and six rooms each, and renting for $800. At price asked, $5,000, it pays 14 per cent. net.

No. 14 Plum Street, a two-story brick building, arranged in flats, and rented for $720. At price asked, $4,600, it pays 14 per cent. net.

N. B.—Purchasers not finding on this list what they desire, can call at the office, as new pieces are being continually listed, and much desirable property is never advertised.

ACRES FOR SUBDIVISION.

NORTHWEST CITY LOTS.

Eight acres on Grand Avenue, five blocks west of Humboldt Park, close to railway station on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. A fine artesian well goes with the premises. Price per acre, $1,500.

SOUTHWEST CITY LOTS.

Five acres on Archer Avenue near 43d Street. Price per acre, $1,250.

SUBURBAN.

ENGLEWOOD AND NORMAL PARK.

One of the choicest neighborhoods outside of the city. Board of Trade men especially will find this location desirable when their new building is completed, being directly opposite the terminus of the Rock Island Railway running to Englewood.

Over 600 feet vacant frontage will be sold as wanted, from $15 per front foot and upward, and houses erected to order. See premises and call for particulars as to terms.

Also northwest corner Normal Parkway and Stewart Avenue, 172 x 164. Price, $30 per front foot, with artificial lake, shrubbery and grounds. Corner lots $35 per front foot.

A fine south front lot 50 x 171, near Normal Station, on Normal Parkway Avenue. Price, $1,750.

GRAND CROSSING OR CORNELL.

A vacant lot centrally located near good improvements, per front foot $12.

HIGHLAND PARK AND HIGHWOOD.

At these delightful North shore Suburbs, the Hudson river of Chicago, we only have one place left. There is an abundance of high land with outlook to lake, fine shade trees, near station, and the house of brick. It will be sold cheap enough to enable purchasers, even of moderate means, to keep such a place for a summer residence alone. Price, $3,000.

A fine lot 140 feet frontage near the Young Ladies' Seminary. Only $3.50 per front foot.

A good corner 100 x 150, northwest corner Central Avenue and Green street; per front foot $6.

Also northwest corner of Walnut and First Streets; per front foot $6.

At Highwood, a handsome lot 278 x 150, at $3 per front foot.

MONTROSE.

Three hundred feet frontage at Montrose, near the stations of the two intersecting railways, Chicago & Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. High, dry and beautiful land; price per front foot $6.

MAPLEWOOD.

One hundred and fifty feet east front on Myrtle Avenue; price per front ft. $12.

LAWNDALE.

Good frame dwelling with barn. Lot 50 x 125. Price, $3,500.

WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

To whom it may concern:

Mr. Cary recoated the roof of my dwelling, No. 369 Michigan avenue, in the spring of 1869, and I have seen no leaks since.

Chicago, May 6. 1878.

I consider Mr. Cary the best man to recoat an old roof. His material stands wear and stops leaks. I employ him and recommend him to others.

FURNITURE WOODS.

A generation or more ago the most admired wood for furniture purposes was mahogany. Until quite recently the taste for mahogany has been held in abeyance, and black walnut has long reigned the king of the furniture woods. Before mahogany controlled the popular desire, cherry was a favorite, and our white walnut or hickory was used to a considerable extent. These old fashioned woods are coming into favor again, and very fine effects are produced by the contrasts of cherry and hickory, and by mahogany and hickory. Mahogany and cherry blend admirably as shades of color instead of contrasts. The so called "branch" mahogany, that in veneers on the fronts of bureaus and in the frames of mirrors formerly produced such impossible effects of grain. has given place to that of plain, sraight grain, the effect of color rather than of grain being desired.

Except yellow and black birch and the satin and birdseye maple, there are few of our native woods that show a very distinctive grain. This makes them valuable as foils to the more erratic grained woods of the tropics. One of these, the coco bolo, of a deep red color, with broad striated grain, works up beautifully with the cherry, making a complement of tints, or with the hickory, showing contrast of color and of grain.

According to the statement of a prominent dealer in furniture woods, our cherry and hickory are coming rapidly into demand, and for foreign woods the mahogany and the comparatively little known coco bolo are much called for by makers of fine furniture, carvers, and internal finishers.

BUILDING NEWS.

CHICAGO AND VICINITY.—John Coumbe is building a residence at 181 California av, on a grand scale. Building operations at Hegewisch continue very active; the contracts are let for grading and excavating the yards and shop grounds. Louis Krender will break ground at an early date for a two-story dwelling, 24x64 feet in extent, at 138 Center street, at a cost of $9,000. An addition will be built to the new factory of Knisely & Miller, on West Monroe street, near Cliuton, 50x100 feet in size, at a cost of $10,000; George Knisely is the architect. George Manierre will erect a handsome residence at an early day at 61 Bellvue place, at an outlay of $14,000; it is to be two stories high, 25x60 feet in size, with a high basement and attic; the material is to be Anderson brick, and the plans, which are by Cobb & Frost, are very ornamental. A three-story dwelling has been planned by Schaub & Berlin, architects, for W. Hastorlik, at 216 DeKoven street; the building is to be 22x80 feet in size, to cost $10,000. Contracts are let for a block of buildings, 63x108 feet, at the corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Prospect place, by J. W. Stewart; the architects are Thomas & Rodgers. The Rosalie Music Hall Company will build a handsome hall on the corner of Fifty-seventh street and Rosalie court; it will contain a music hall, roller skating-rink and five store rooms, one of which will be occupied by the Rosalie Villas Co-operative store; the intention is to have the building ready for occupation by January 1st next. During the past week the Occidental

THE MARKET.

In the absence of any new enterprises, such as the building and extending of suburban and street railways, the real estate profession of this city pursues the even tenor of its way. Trade in dirt is exceedingly tame hereabouts, and in some quarters further west they have either suspended their real estate journals or converted them into monthly advertising sheets. That Ohio election absorbed nearly all the attention of the business men, even here, and the tramps and dead beats went down to vote.

Unimproved lots down in the vicinity of Cottage Grove avenue and Forty-third street, where the sand is knee deep, are selling slowly at from $30 to $40 per front foot, and further out, near Forty-seventh, an improved street, agents are asking still more for lots. The Chicago & Calumet railroad, recently begun, will, it is said, soon be along, when, it is believed by the agents handling the property, prices will appreciate handsomely. The Dummy track or railroad running from Thirty-ninth street and Cottage Grove avenue to Hyde Park on Cottage Grove, is a hindrance rather than a benefit. When the new road is completed we may look out for a boom on either side of Cottage Grove avenue south of Thirty-ninth street.

The street car line recently extended on Wentworth avenue, from Thirty-ninth to Sixty-third street, through Englewood, is stimulating business as well as residence property in the neighborhood. The Real Estate Journal will show a longer list of sales in the towns of Hyde Park and Lake, south of the seven-mile radius, than in any other direction from the city limits. This is due, to a large extent, to the superior traveling facilities and the absence of swinging bridges on the South side.

Building is being carried forward with unusual vigor on all sides, from the center to the circumference, and plumbers, carpenters, plasterers and painters are busy figuring on new contracts and carrying out work already begun.

The week has passed without scarcely any inquiry and may be put down as dull.

There is considerable of property offered for sale on the South and West sides, at figures beyond the reach of people of moderate means—many owners finding themselves unable to keep pace with the high order of improvements inaugurated on the leading streets and avenues, and to pay the increased taxes. The transfers, as recorded in this week's Journal, show a decided improvement in consideration and size, but are not more numerous than for several weeks past. The largest transfer reported being on the northwest corner of Market and Randolph streets, 91x80 feet, for $101,000.

Building and Real Estate in Chicago.

Though there is just at present a slight lull in new building projects, yet of buildings in process of erection nothing has ever been known to compare with those now going up. Taking a forty acre patch, of which the new Board of Trade building is the center, there is more money being put in brick and mortar than on any other similar place in this country, perhaps on the globe. Among these structures none has attracted so much attention as that of Marshall Field, the dry goods king, upon the southwest corner of Monroe and La Salle streets, just two blocks from the Board of Trade building. As yet nothing definite can be said of the superstructure, but in the foundations much opportunity is afforded for comment and for instruction.

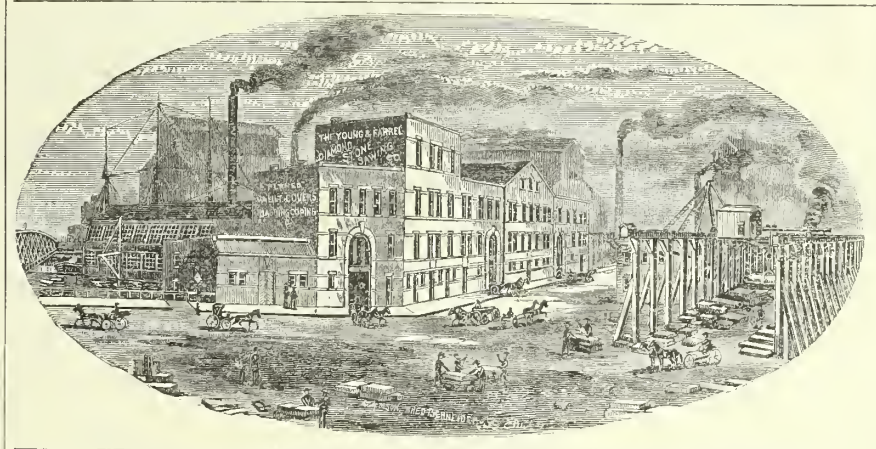
Real estate dealers have put their shoulders to the wheel, and are striving to pull the market out of the mire into which it has fallen during the summer months. The confidence of an early revival, which was expressed by all a few weeks ago, seems to have lost something of its vigor and given place to doubts. The opinion of nearly every prominent broker, no matter what his political convictions are, who was seen a month ago, was that the presidential campaign would not affect the market seriously. How near verification that opinion has approached may be seen at a glance at the aggregate sales of the last few weeks. It is true that the fall season cannot be said to have fairly set in, yet November is near at hand, and it will not be long before the time for balancing the year's accounts will arrive.



Business thus far, it must be admitted, has not been as much as was expected, and the only reason that can be found is the political excitements distracting both buyers and sellers from legitimate trade. There is no cause for hoping that much of an improvement will occur until after the election. If the year's business is to compare with former years there is need of an early improvement in the market, for the last few weeks have not come up to the standard. But, on the whole, there is no doubt that after November there will be a decided change for the better.

Among the numerous small things that will go to make up the perfect whole, the following is an instance: The plans for the Scoville Public Library, at Oak Park, have been prepared, and work will be commenced on the building this fall. The site is a lot at the corner of Lake street and Burton Court, in Oak Park, 140x200 feet. The building will be rectangular in shape, being 65x77 feet, and will be of the Roman order of architecture, with a large tower on the southeast corner. It will be constructed of limestone, laid in rock-faced broken ashlar, with trimmings of Bedford granite. It will be two stories and basement in height, and will have a large rotunda in the center. It is expected to be ready for occupancy early in 1886.—Holyoke Builder.

Errors Corrected.

Lake and Peoria streets, southwest corner, one-half interest in 50x100 feet was sold by S. D. Ovitt to James Kennedy, including improvements, for $20,000 instead of $12,-500, there being an incumbrance of $7500, which was assumed, and should be included in the amount above given.

A. W. Ovitt and J. M. Ovitt, his wife, sold their one-half interest of the above to James Kennedy for $22,500, being an incumbrance of $7500 assumed, making a total of $15,000 of an incumbrance on the property.

Lake street sale, 24 feet west of Leavitt, south front, 24x135, was sold Sept. 17, 1884, by James B Waller to Julian Fastre for $1800. The above is correct, and the building stands on leased ground. It should have been reported under the head of personal property.

The South Parks.

The South Park Commissioners met Tuesday.

Superintendent White reported the following improvements: In Washington Park the preliminary work was completed. The beach of Jackson Park from the north line to the Fifty-ninth street inlet has been paved and the breakwater finished. The construction of the breakwater south has progressed rapidly. Sixteen hundred feet have been completed, with the exception of paving. It is hoped that 800 feet more—extending the improvement to Sixty-third street—will be finished before winter. The cash collected from all sources amounted to $3,367, of which $1,357 came from the park phaetons.

It was decided to draw by lot for redeeming three 5 per cent. bonds, twenty-five 6 per cents., and twenty-nine 7 per cents. This will use up the sinking fund.

The West Parks.

The West Park Board met Monday. The attorney advised by letter that the Coleman tract in Humboldt Park should be immediately condemned unless the heirs agreed to a settlement. The communication was approved. The Finance Committee of the West Washington street assessment fund reported disbursements within the last month to the amount of $20,075, and a surplus of $5,102. It was decided to replace the dead trees on Washington boulevard with forty elms, at an estimated expense of $950. It was resolved to pay out the $95,000 of the Southwestern boulevard assessment in the purchase of the condemned lands nearest to Douglas Park.

BUILDING NEWS.

Building Company was incorporated by Malcolm McNeill, Mr. Rhodes and others, with a capital stock of $350,000. The object of the company is the erection of a magnificent office structure on the lot belonging to the McNeill estate, 50x215 feet in size, and fronting on Jackson and Clark streets and Pacific avenue; it is announced that ground will be broken in a few days; the plans, by Architect York, contemplate a ten-story structure, and the design is to be very elegant throughout.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETAINER.

The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois, by Craig, J., holding under the sixth clause of Sec 2, of the statute authorizing an action of forcible entry and detainer where land had been sold under the judgment or decree of a court, etc., that the remedy is not restricted to the nominal party against whom a judgment or decree is rendered, but may be employed against anyone who, even after the time of redemption from the sale, obtains possession from the defendant in the judgment or decree. That although the question of title cannot be determined in this action, the plaintiff cannot recover under the statute, unless he offers in evidence a valid judgment, execution and sheriff's deed. These are indispensable requisites to a recovery, because a sale of the land under a judgment and a failure to redeem must be established, and the judgment, execution and sheriff's deed constitute the evidence that the land has been sold and not redeemed.

LANDLORD'S LIEN—DISTRESS WARRANT.

The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois, by Dickey, J., settling several questions which have never before been passed upon in this State, relating to the lien of a landlord for rent on the property of a tenant and his rights under a distress warrant as against execution creditors.

LIABILITY OF AGENT EMPLOYED BY TRUSTEE—ACCOUNTING.

The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois, by Mulkey, J., as to the liability of an agent employed by a trustee, and the rule for re-stating an account where the husband had for years prepared the guardian accounts in his wife's name, and had them approved by the Probate Court.

HOMESTEAD—SALE OF—EXEMPTION.

The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois, by Dickey, J., holding if the property in which this estate or exemption of homestead exists, exceeds in value $1,000, the excess is not exempt from lien, levy and sale, and it is liable to the same lien of judgments, etc., and to be aliened in the same manner as other property of the debtor.—Legal News, Oct. 11.

SIDEWALK—OWNER NOT LIABLE TO REPAIR.

The opinion of the Supreme Court of this State, by Scott, J., holding that the owner of lots is not liable to keep the sidewalk in front of his premises in repair, and that he cannot be compelled to do so by either the exercise of the police power or by fines and penalties imposed by ordinance, or by direct legislative action.

A Plat of Ground in Dispute.

The Maywood company is a corporation existing since April 6, 1869, for the purpose of improving the town of Proviso into a fine suburban village. They claim as their property a large plat of ground in the village of Maywood, which they sold to Jabez K. Botsford for 150 shares of their company at $1,000 each. The people of Maywood claim this as their own, and want to make a public park of it. They this morning began suit in the Superior court against the Maywood company to compel them to declare their sale to Botsford null and void and give them back the land.

CLOUDS ON REALTY.

The annual sale for the State, county, city taxes, etc., of 1883, and prior years, and special assessments, commenced on the 25th ult., and is still in progress.

A large amount of property has been sold thus far owing principally to the fact that the owners (many of whom are non-residents), are unfamiliar with the law and the process of collection, and those through carelessness, etc., allow their property to go by default.

Messrs. Healy & Co., room 36, 125 Clark street, make a specialty of clearing clouds upon real estate and protecting owners' interest. We take pleasure in recommending them to our subscribers.

A Model Equine Infirmary.

As old as the hills is the expression that "the man of kindness to his beast is kind," and even in the text of the sacred books men are enjoined not to muzzle the mouth of the ox that treads the corn. In modern days these ideas have found expression in societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. The most docile and patient of all dumb creatures that have been subjected to the service of man is, perhaps, the horse, and as he is also the most necessary and valuable the greatest attention ought to be paid to his health and comfort; and when we reflect on his characteristics and nervousness we are compelled to admit that special care during his illness is necessary. But, alas! what kind of care and kindness has the poor animal generally received when sick and disabled, in return for his faithfulness and services to his master? We leave the question to be answered by those who have hitherto allowed him to be neglected and abused. The horse, more than any other of our domestic animals, requires and richly repays comfort and careful treatment.

Prompted by humane motives, and coupled with a constantly increasing practice, M. H. McKillip, M. D., has had erected a Model Equine Infirmary in rear of No. 1639 Wabash avenue, Chicago, Ill., which for completeness in every detail has not its equal west of New York. The writer in passing, a few days ago, was attracted by it, stepped inside, and after having introduced himself, was courteously shown over the entire premises, and had everything pointed out and explained to him in connection with this excellent institution.

The building, 33 feet front and 80 feet depth, consists of basement and two floors above, built of stone and brick respectively, with facing of pressed red brick. The floor of the former, and where the doctor intends to establish his infirmary for driving and cart horses, is made ribbed in solid concrete, with a perfect drainage and sewerage system. This infirmary has seven single and five box stalls, the latter provided wiih patent sliding doors and locks; besides these, there are two stalls specially constructed for foot and Turkish baths, and another especially set apart and arranged for the giving of enemas. On the same floor, but separate from the infirmary by swinging gates, is the exercise and operating room, 30x30 feet, and in this as well as the infirmary, an abnndance of light, pure water and perfect ventilation exists.

A passage way, covered in at the sides, leads up from the basement infirmary to the second floor; at the head of the former and and directly above is a skylight of hammered glass, which throws a flood of light and sunshine on the whole of the surroundings beneath. On this floor two single and six box stalls are arranged, the latter also provided with patent sliding doors and locks. This infirmary, intended to be occupied by valuable patients, is made entirely of oak in hard oil finish. The dispensary, with its telephone, barn-man's sleeping apartment, lavatory, harness and carriage rooms, finished in pine, with part hard oil finish and part paint, are located in rear of the infirmary and separated from it by sliding doors made of oak, while in front are the laboratory, general and private offices, finished in oak and hard oil, with their fixtures in perfect harmony with all the other snrroundings. A staircase leads from a passage on the second to the third floor, which contains not only four rooms, closets, etc., set apart for the nse of the personelle connected with the institution, but also immense bins and storage room for oats, hay, etc. From this room a staircase leads up to the roof. Three entrances lead into the building, viz: two in front, to the laboratory, offices, infirmary and third floor, and one in the rear to the dispensary, carriage and harness rooms, etc. The whole building is lighted throughout with gas, has all the modern conveniences introduced, including every precaution against fire. In fact, no expense has been spared in making it a model establishment of its kind.

As the Doctor is a thorough gentleman, as well as a veterinary surgeon of the highest scientific attainments and practical experience (being a graduate of the Chicago Medical College and of the Ontario Veterinary College, Toronto, Canada) with an extensive practice constantly expanding, and with the best of references, nothing that the writer can say will in the least add to his established reputation. We cannot refrain from adding, however, that owners of sick and disabled horses cannot place them in better hands if they wish them cured of their ailments, provided a cure is possible. We have entered into this matter with great pleasure, believing this excellent institution to be of extreme importance in an economical view as well as a question of humanity, as the horse receives the best of care and attention under the Doctor's personal supervision. The horse has the strongest possible claims upon our friendly consideration, and anything in connection with his health and comfort should engage the hearty and earnest attention and support of all who own sick and disabled stock.

The whole of the woodwork in this Model Equine Infirmary was entrusted to and executed by Mr. A. E. Fortin, carpenter and builder, No. 265 South May street, Chicago, Ill., and shows that it has been in the hands of a thorough master. The hardwoods used in finishing have been skillfully chosen and as skillfully worked. In fact the cabinet work and carpentry throughout is superb, and shows that he is not only a master carpenter and builder in the fullest meaning of the word, but the taste that he has displayed shows him to be an artist in the business. He has also been connected with many other large building operations, having also lately executed the carpenter work in the Board of Education rooms, in the new City Hall, which was pronounced perfect by experts, besides numerous other contracts for both private and public uses in various parts of the city, all of which furnish evidence of his great ability in his line of business. The work he has done in this building, however, may be regarded as a conclusive evidence of his fitness to assume the responsibility of other contracts where first-class work is required. Jobbing of every description has equally his best and immediate attention, and will be executed at the most reasonable prices.

The painting and hardwood finishing of this Model Equine Infirmary was entrusted to Messrs. Perkins Bros, the well known and popular fresco painters and house decorators of Cottage Grove avenue and Twenty-sixth street and 467 West Madison street, Chicago, and. like everthing they undertake, is perfect in finish, style and quality. Their specialties are finishing hardwood, office painting, interior decoration of walls and ceilings, graining of woodwork, covering of walls with paper hangings, etc. In all these various branches of the business they are perfect artists, as well as the workmen whom they employ. They do in conseqnence a vast deal of work in and outside the city. Long experience, an established reputation for highly artistic work and the very best of facilities enables them to take contracts to any extent and complete them in the most satisfactory manner, wherefore it gives us pleasure to commend their services to our readers among architects, builders, contractors, property owners and others near and far who may desire this class and style of work.

The plumbing and gas fitting has been executed in a masterly manner by Messrs. G. L. Wallace & Bro. of No 790 West Madison street, Chicago, Ill., and whatever work they nndertake will invariably be well done.

Interior Decorations.

At this season of the year we deem it proper to call the attention of our many readers to the well-known and favorite house of John J. McGrath, Nos. 106, 108, 110 and 112 Wabash avenue, Chicago. It is almost superfluous to say that this house is always in the advance in its line of of trade, and the new and elegant as well as the latest styles of artistic wall papers, Lincrusta-Walton, window-shades, etc., etc., exhibited this Fall are all that can be desired. Some of them are marvels of beauty and deserve the name of works of art as much as any picture could be. In fact the advance made in the class of interior decorations such as are imported and kept by this representative house cannot be too highly praised, at the same time such a variety is shown as cannot fail to suit the most fastidious taste.

The continued and deserved popularity of this house is owing not only to its first-class rank as an emporium, but to its highly honorable methods of doing business. We can but say, without entering into tedious particularity, that our many readers will find on examination such an array of decorations at the present time as even this house has never excelled. The increasing demand for elegant and luxurious interiors has in this case been fully met, and we close by predicting for the house a very successful season.

New Kind of Stone Saw.

A new sort of saw for cutting stone is described in La Semaine des Constructeurs, which seems to have advantages over those now commonly in use, and is easily and cheaply made and operated. In place of the ordinary long steel blades, supplied with sand to enable them to grind their way into the stone, the new machine presents only a slender endless cord, composed of three steel wires twisted together, which is stretched over pulleys in such a way as to bring the lower portion horizontally over the stone to be cut. The frame carrying the pulleys is movable, so that the cord can be brought into contact with the stone, or lifted away from it, at pleasure, and the whole is kept in rapid motion, while water falling in drops from a reservoir above serves to moisten the stone. The three wires which form the saw differ from the ordinary kind in being square in section, and by twisting into a cord they are so turned as to present a succession of oblique Cutting edges, which act, when set in motion, in nearly the same way as so many small chisels, while the rapidity with which the blows follow each other probably adds to the effect.

To three Milwankee lawyers who pnt in bills amounting to $25,000 for services in settling an estate worth $32,000, Judge Thomas Drummond said; "Gentlemen, you consider yourselves good lawyers. How mnch more are your services worth to your clients than mine to the people? You have charged $25,000 for sixty days' service. Conld you not be content to take my pro rata for the same time? These charges are infamous. They are such as men who are scoundrels and thieves at heart would make. This charge of $15,000 is cut down to $1,500; those of $5,000 each to $500. Repeat such a piece of rapine in this court and I will dis-bar every one of you."

The aggregate assessment for Illinois, as determined by the State Board of Equalization, is $809,169,828. A large addition was made to the assessment for Cook County. Personal property was increased 21 per cent., lands 19 per cent., and lots 17 per cent.

To whom it may concern—I consider Mr. Cary the best man to recoat an old roof. His material stands wear and stops leaks. I employ him and recommend him to others.

NATIONAL SHEET METAL ROOFING CO.

Organized under Charter granted by State of Tennessee, September 30, 1882.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF

WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

National Association of Master Plumbers.

THE ENTERPRISING SECRETARY, MR. J. J. WADE, AS AN ADVOCATE OF "HONESTY AND GOOD WORKMANSHIP" IN HIS PROFESSION.

J. J. Wade, secretary of the National Association of Master Plumbers of the United States, was born in Waterford, Ireland, in 1843. He came to this country with his parents at an early age, and began the trade of plumbing in Hartford, Conn., receiving his instruction from Messrs. Birch & Bradley, of that city, who are without rivals as mechanics and thorough-going men. Having acquired a superior, practical knowledge of the plumbing business, Mr. Wade began the career of journeyman, working at his trade in various cities throughout the United States and Canada. He settled in Chicago in 1862, where he has resided ever since. Mr. Wade began business at No. 142 Dearborn street, in 1863, with James Ferguson, the firm being Wade & Ferguson. He now carries on an extensive business alone at No. 537 West Madison street, and the reputation which he has acquired as an original thinker, thorough, honest workman, is well known. He has never forgotten that plumbing is a science as well as an art, as his methods of construction in house drainage will show. His ideas have not been confined to his own field of operations, as he has written many articles on sanitary matters in the sanitary and daily press.

Mr. Wade has studied the art of fitting up chemical works. One of his largest jobs in this line was the sulphuric acid works at La Salle, Ill. He also did similar work for the Omaha smelting and refining company, at Omaha; the nitro-glycerine works, at Marquette, Mich., and the dynamite and chemical works at Denver, Colo., as well as many others of this kind.

Mr. Wade has always taken a prominent part in the work of advancing and elevating the plumbing fraternity. He believes it is necessary that educated boys should learn the plumbing trade, since the health of the household depends so largely upon the plumbers' honesty and thorough workmanship. He deplores the indiscriminate criticisms of the daily press upon the plumber, as it has a tendency to keep intelligent young men from learning the trade, but hopes that in a few years the fraternity will have a better class of mechanics, as plumbers' organizations are springing up all over the country, one of whose aims is education. Mr. Wade has taken a prominent part in forming these associations, with the motto, "honesty, sobriety and good workmanship" as their guide. A year ago last June he was selected as one of the delegates chosen to represent the Chicago Master Plumbers' Association at the national convention held in New York. At that meeting he was made prominent by a paper read by him on trade interests and protection. He then advanced the idea that the province of the manufacturer of and dealer in plumbers' supplies lay strictly in manufacturing and selling to the legitimate retail trade. When the plumbers refused to sell these goods they resorted to means to sell to the consumer; this was done through the jobbing houses, cheap builders and half educated plumbers, who scarcely knew what they were purchasing,—and did not care, so long as they received pay for the work. The honest consumer, the honest builder and the honorable plumber were in this way cheated either in pocket or reputation.

Mr. Wade was a delegate to the second annual convention of master plumbers, held at Baltimore in June last, and was the author of the now quite famous Baltimore resolutions. He fearlessly attacked the manufacturers of poor goods and urged all his fellow delegates not to purchase goods, nor encourage their use. At this meeting Mr. Wade was unanimously chosen recording secretary of the national association, a position which he has filled with credit to himself and satisfaction to all plumbers throughout the country. It is to be hoped that his career of usefulness in a trade-profession, which is so closely allied to the health of households and communities, will extend through many years.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

Mouldings.

A feature of house finishing during the past few years is the taste for artistic embellishment and elegant decoration everywhere displayed. In no department of industry does this prevailing taste find more striking expression than in the interior woodwork and finishing of our principal residences, halls, theatres, churches, etc. It has, in fact, developed a separate industry to provide for this demand, and some of our leading establishments have devoted no small portion of their resources in this department. The well known firm of John Moore & Co., Desplaines and Fulton streets, Chicago, have especially distinguished themselves in this specialty. They rank deservedly high among business men as manufacturers of wall and all kinds of decorating mouldings, etc. At the same time they manufacture all kinds of work for interior hardwood finish and a full line of carpenters' mouldings. They make estimates and take contracts to any reasonable extent, and do not only a very large city business, but receive also heavy orders from every section of the country where superior work of this kind is required; hence, the specimens we constantly see of their work are equal in finish to those of any other first class house. Our numerous readers and patrons among architects, builders, contractors and property owners, here and elsewhere, will do well to examine their excellent products and convince themselves of the truth of our statement, for on no consideration will they allow any faulty work to leave the premises, which, no doubt, is the great secret of their success and established reputation.

Artistic Gas Fixtures.

Improvement is the order of the day. Perhaps in no more striking manner is this shown than in the Gas Fixtures manufactured at the present day. These vary in style and material to such a degree that the most fastidious cannot help satifying his fancy.

Among the firms who manufacture and deal in these goods is the W. C. Vosburgh Manufacturing Co., 184 and 186 Wabash ave. A very full and varied stock of artistic gas fixtures is kept continually on hand. The latest designs can always be seen at their show rooms. As they manufacture their own goods money can be saved in dealing with them.

We take pleasure in calling attention to this company and their goods, which will be in demand during the coming months, in which very many of the houses started during the summer will be completed.

THE LUMBER MARKET.

It is still as difficult as ever to preserve uniformity of prices between Chicago and outside markets. The latter profess to be guided by the prices prevailing in the former, but lists emanating from this city are but a guide by which prices at outside places can be cut. The numerous railroads which penetrate and traverse the states of Michigan and Wisconsin will in the future prevent in a great measure the leading markets on the lakes from controling a relative range of values. Notwithstanding the movement to shut down the mills, lumber is still cheap, and in all probability will become still cheaper. The cheapness of grain has had a tendency to prevent the farmers from buying lumber. The manufacture of lumber in the South, in the vicinity of Atlanta, Ga., and on the East Tennessee & Virginia, Virginia & Georgia, Richmond & Danville, Western & Atlantic, and Georgia Pacific Railroads, is on the increase and dealers have been shipping in a northwestern direction for the last two years.

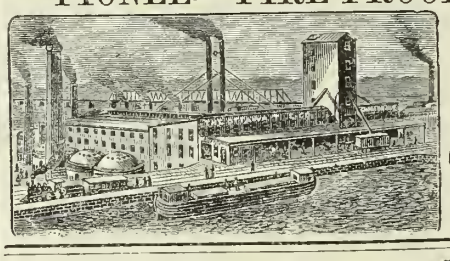
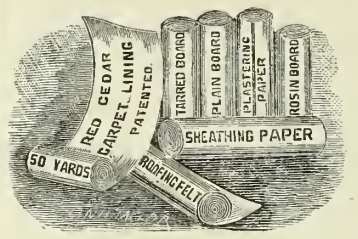
THE
Real Estate and Building Journal
R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.
CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Oct. 25, 1884.



THE MARKET.



At the close of the record of deeds in this journal for the week just closed, the summary compared with a week's business one year ago, or Oct. 25, 1883, shows that that a great difference exists in the volume of business done at the two periods.

Real estate in Chicago has held its own remarkably well considering the magnitude and number of failures reported by commercial agencies and the press. Property owners have almost universally realized a handsome profit from rents, and many have grown rich by turning their investments.

As has been stated heretofore, real estate has undergone the buying period, and for the last two years, at least, we have been having the season of improvement, not alone in fine buildings, but in the matters of paving, grading, macadamizing and sewer building throughout the city. There is speculation enough in the natural rise in property in a great city like Chicago without resort to any unnatural stimulus to bring about a boom. Capital has not been afraid of Chicago realty, as the extensive improvements already completed will attest.

The JOURNAL confidently predicts that next spring, and even this fall and winter, if the weather permits, will witness a decided improvement in the lot trade. Never before have Chicago business men worked so hard and prospered so well as during the last four years, reference being made to houses of established reputation, and the surplus of capital thus acquired has been largely employed in building.

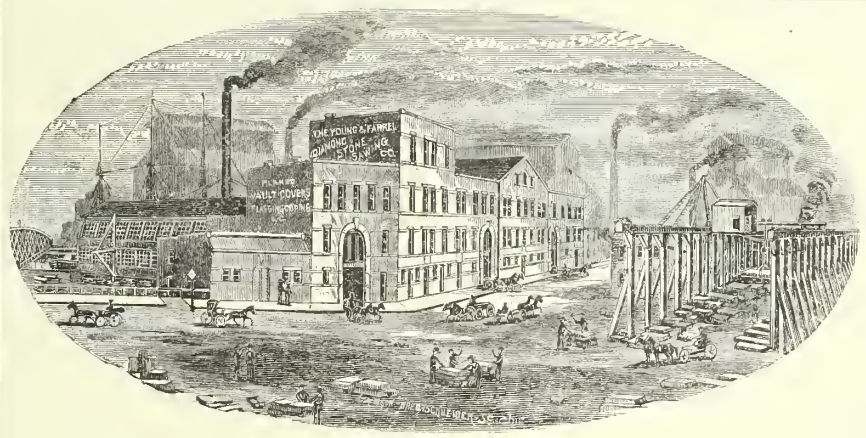
Never before since the panic has the West been so fortunate in crops and a plentiful supply of money at low rates of interest. The unprecedented activity in building cannot result in the over-production of houses, for the reason that instead of occupying sheds for manufacturing purposes, as heretofore, hundreds of business firms engaged in making sash, doors and blinds, mouldings, and a thousand other articles in demand in this rapidy growing country, now occupy splendid buildings of their own, while our merchants and business men generally have quit boarding and have vacated their old houses, now behind the times, to occupy splendid palaces recently completed. Chicago may be said now to be well housed. We have not yet doubled the number of our houses, but rather have we torn down the old structures to find room for the new and elegant residences and the magnificent store and office blocks which now adorn our city. Hundreds of acres in the suburbs, much of which was subdivided before the crash of 1873 and '74, have been lying in a neglected condition until recently; now owners are busy opening up the streets, planting trees and building sidewalks, and new subdivisions are still being made, as the records will show. Especially is this the case west of Forty-fifth street in the town of Cicero.

THE CHICAGO & EVANSTON R. R. CO. has encountered considerable difficulty in obtaining their right of way, not only through the city, but in the village of Evanston. The track is now laid to a point near Calvary Cemetery, and the attorney for the Evanston trustees has stated that all obstacles in the way of the road, so far as the village of Evanston is concerned, will be removed by early spring. This road, it is claimed, will give a wonderful impetus to real estate in Rogers Park, Glencoe, and in fact all along the line.

A country's progress is due largely to its agricultural resources. Indeed to so great an extent is this true that a nation's prosperity is not judged so much by its form of Government or its cities, as by the state and progress of agriculture. For all forms of government, if properly administered, are good, and cities may be built by something outside of agricultural advantages, but neither can long exist or thrive without a good agricultural resource.

Energetic, wide awake farmers make fine farms, and rich farms make a beautiful country and build prosperous cities.

In point of its agricultural resources the United States stands among the first nations of the world. From the East to the West, and from the North to the South, extends a beautiful, rich and fertile country, until over three million square miles of such land, situated in a climate unexcelled, attests to the future greatness of the United States.



England contains 290 inhabitants to every square mile, France 180, Germany 216, while the United States contains but 13 citi- to every square mile! The large cities of the United States have shown a remarkable growth, and speak well for the agricultural resources of our country, Our commerce, our solid basis, our prosperity, is due, more than the unthinking would suppose, to our farms. Nay, indeed, the hands that shape our laws and protect our rights were trained to their duty so well on the farm, while, for an independent life very few, if any, excel that of the farmer.

It is hardly exaggeration to say of New Orleans next winter that the world will be there. The World's Exposition began by promising enormous attractions and is now undoubtedly on the high road to performance. No former enterprise has received snch favor or created so wide-spread an interest. Its rapid progress in publicity is almost as wonderful as the progress of its work. Its main building, now receiving its finishing touches, is the largest ever erected —thirty-three acres under one roof, a quarter of a mile long and a sixth of a mile wide.

The Horticultural Hall, also close on to completion, is the largest for that object ever built, 600x194 feet, and designed to display in one pyramid 20,000 plates of fruit, twice as many as were ever grouped before. A government building 885x565 will be erected. Mexico having appropriated $200,000, has decided to spend half of it in the construction of an iron building, and many other nations, states, territories and cities are demanding space for appropriate structures.

Held under the auspices of the general government, which has oppropriated $1,300,000 towards it, and held in a city where the entertainment of visitors has for years been a special glory, a city too, by the bye, which is the natural portal of Mexico and Central America to the commercial world, this exposition shows every guarantee of opening in accordance with its claim, as the largest and most attractive ever yet proposed.

The County Board.

The County Board met Monday.

The expenses for the year 1883-'84 to Sep. 1, not including election expenses, amounted to about $1,069,624. Add to this sum for last year judges' salaries, court fees, interest, appropriation for the new insane asylum, and election expenses, the sum required to meet the expenses for the current year, based on the expenses to Sept. 1, will amount to $1,590,627. The valuation of Cook County, as reported by the State Board of Equalization, is about $175,000,000, which will produce at the rate of 75 cents on the $100, the constitutional limit, about $1,312,000. The receipts from other sources will be about $150,000, making the total resources of the county $1,462,000, which shows a shortage of nearly $130,000. The following table shows the condition of the treasury the dates named.

	Credit.	Debit.
Dec 1, 1876	$ 48,543	$ 975.449
Dec 1, 1877	6,424	964,597
Sept 1, 1878	21,750	803,695
Sept 1, 1879	141,285	648,126
Sept 1, 1880	572,389	613,589
Sept 1, 1881	512,264	745,951
Sept 1, 1882	394,706	927,832
Sept 1, 1883	367,413	966,442
Sept 1, 1884	255,979	1,106,058

Oct. 1, 1883, the actual balance in the treasury to the credit of the general fund was $276,500. Oct. 1, 1884, the amount was $117,798. Since Oct. 1, $17,000 has been paid out for the Jefferson farm, leaving only about $100,000 in the treasury to the credit of the general fund. The present rate of expenses is about $100,000 a month.

A communication was received from E. S. Overlock, of Judge Shepard's court, offering to take charge of the tract indices, and to keep them in a proper manner, as also the indices to judgments and tax sales, which are now used by the Recorder, and which cost the county $7000 a year. He agrees to do his work well and to pay the County $3000 a year for doing it. In retnrn for this he asks the privilege of using the indices for the purpose of making abstracts of title therefrom for whoever may apply, the privilege to be granted to him for a period of twenty years. The communication was referred to the Finance Committee.

The following ordinances were presented, read and ordered engrossed:

An ordinance providing for improving Bond avenue from Seventy-first street to Seventy-ninth street by clearing, grubbing, grading and ditching the same, Ayes, Cowles, Mason, Peirce, Tobin and Mr. President, 5; nays, none.

An ordinance for water-pipe in Vincennes avenue from Forty-second street to Forty-third street, Ayes, Cowles, Mason, Peirce, Tobin and Mr. President, 5; nays, none.

Deceptive Landlords.

Frequent complaints have been made recently by responsible tenants, that landlords take undue advantages under their leases, which are wholly one sided, to impose upon them. In one instance, where the building is to be heated by steam, and no arrangements are made for stoves or for fuel, the landlord refuses to insert a clause in the lease, that the rooms are to be heated by steam, but simply says with his mouth to the tenant that the facilities for heating the building are ample, and that there can be no trouble. After the tenant signs the lease he finds that the landlord has deceived him. The same difficulty is experienced in regard to water, which the landlord said would be supplied without expense to the tenant the former using a water meter and allowing only a very limited quantity to flow, in order to save expense.

In regard to these cases and all similar misrepresentations, the landlord is guilty of using false pretenses for the purpose of imposing on his tenants, and the courts will protect the tenant.

It is fortunate for the reputation of the real estate agents of this city that no member of the Real Estate Board nor any of our repntable agents are included in these compliants, but only a few grasping owners who go upon the principal that the way to get rich is to gouge and impose upon everybody—the prompt paying tenant as well as the dead beat.

The Journal will devote its columns hereafter to airing these grasping landlords, unless they mend their ways.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

ABSOLUTE DEED AS A MORTGAGE—RELEASE OF.

The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois, by Mulkey, J., passing upon several questions relating to the effect to be given to certain conveyances, and holding that where the owner of property executed a special warranty deed to a grantee "as trustee" and the conveyance was, in fact, intended merely as a mortgage, and the grantor subsequently executes a quit-claim deed to the grantee, a conveyance by the latter, who signs his name "as trustee" to an innocent purchaser, will pass the complete title.

DEED FROM HUSBAND AND WIFE WHEN HUSBAND INDEBTED.

The opinion of the Supreme Court of Illinois by Dickey, J., as to when a deed from husband to wife will not be set aside, even though the husband was indebted at the time of its execution.

The New York Market.

October was regarded as the month of promise, but little has occurred to confirm the sanguine anticipations of the auctioneers of a very animated business. Buyers are cautious, and speculators seem to eschew the market except in special cases. In the sale of the Fox estate there was a feature of this character. It occurred on Tuesday the 14th inst., and the Exchange was crowded upon the occasion, and buyers for hours fought gallantly for the most favored lots.

which are upon the route of the contemplated Suburban Rapid Transit Railroad. There were 250 lots in all, and those disposed of brought about from $300 to $150 per lot of 25x100. The purchases were chiefly made on speculation, but notwithstanding the apparent desire to possess, the bidders were not betrayed by the excitement of the moment into indiscretion, so that the purchases leave a large margin for appreciation without a probability of a decline.

A series of heavy sales were made on Thursday, the 17th inst, of city property, all by order of the Supreme Court, but they brought remunerative though by no means excessive prices. Amongst these was the block between Hester and Elizabeth streets in the Bowery, a portion of which was once characterized as the "Devil's Sanctuary," which brought $173,150. Six brown stone houses, Nos. 3, 5, 7, 9, 11 and 13 brought $439,250, averaging about $73,200 each.

Plant a Home.

Young beginners in life's morning,
Don't forget the rainy day;
Sunshine cannot last forever,
Or the heart be always gay.
Save the dime and then the dollar,
Lay up something as you roam—
Choose some blooming spot of beauty,
Some fair lot, and "plant a home."

You, too, who have babes around you,
Coming up to take your place;
Give them something to remember,
Homestead memories let them trace.
Would you feel the pride of manhood,
Let the sun your dwelling greet,
Breathe the blessed air of freedom,
Own the soil beneath your feet.

You, too, who perhaps have squandered
Life's fairest morn—'tis not too late!
Start at once to woo bright Fortune,
Rail no more at so-called Fate.
Sow the golden seeds of saving
In the rich and quickening loam,
Spend your last days not with strangers,
Enter Heaven's gate from home.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. J. S. Wheeler & Co., Gravel Roofers on our first page. The following letter being one of many received by that firm for first class work:

Messrs. J. S. Wheeler & Co., Gentlemen:—It affords us pleasure to state that the roof that you put on for us, amounting to 750 squares, is entirely satisfactory, and better if anything than what your agreement called for. A number of competent judges, who have examined it, pronounce it a perfect roof of its kind. If it will be of any value you are welcome to refer to us at any time, and you will get a hearty recommend.

Yours truly,
Delaware & Hudson Canal Co.
per W. S. Bogle, Sales Agent.

THE rapid growth during the last few years of Chicago, needs no comment. The increase in price of her choice property causes old structures to give way to new. No longer is it policy to allow a frame building of antiquated design to remain on a lot that far exceeds it in value. The course now pursued is to remove these frame buildings to locations where property is less valuable and where the house will bring about the same rent.

Among those who are engaged in this line of business is the firm of H. Feltmann & Co. Besides the moving of houses this firm raises brick, stone and iron buildings. Mr. Feltmann has for a long time been connected with the firm of O'Brien, Feltmann & Co., and was the practical man of this firm. Within the last year he has withdrawn from the firm and is now located at No. 179 West Washington street, where he will be glad to furnish bids on any work in his line.

Organized under Charter granted by State of Tennessee, September 30, 1882.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF

WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY.

OUR SPECIALTY.

We invite parties wishing to buy or sell real estate in any division of the city to call and inspect our list.

Our long and intimate acquaintance with this class of property enables us to offer the best in the market; very much of which is not advertised.

Prominent Real Estate and Loan Agents.

Many of our leading capitalists are deterred from making profitable investments in real estate, and assisting materially in the city's development, by what they choose to term their lack of the necessary experience. They argue that they know nothing concerning property and its values, and could not therefore purchase to advantage, while having neither time nor talent to devote to its management, they do not wish to saddle themselves with its annoyance. For their information we may state that according to a careful estimate only about one-twentieth of all the property in the city of Chicago is managed by its owners, and not even the fraction of the value of the parcels is made the basis of calculation. In the same connection we might inform them that just as they would resort to a skilled man of good standing, and who has studied his subject, for advice in legal, medical or mechanical matters, so they can resort to a reliable real estate agent, whose counsel they should always seek in all transactions in this important field. Capitalists can profit by the experience of many reputable gentlemen in this line, thoroughly acquainted with the direction of business affairs of this character, and many of whom have an untarnished record for many years.

Prominent among these, we have the pleasure of naming the representative and well known house of S. H. Kerfoot & Co., No. 91 Dearborn street, Chicago, Ill. Possessing a thorough acquaintance with the value of realty holdings, the prospects of exchanges, a large experience, the best of facilities, a record of thirty-two years without a tarnish, and a very large business, few firms are better known or connected with a higher branch of their business than this re putable house.

They make a specialty of the management of property, including letting, collecting rents, paying taxes, supervising necessary repairs, effecting insurance, etc. They are also prepared to negotiate the loan of money on bond and mortgage in any amounts enjoying the confidence of several prominent capitalists, of whose affairs and investments they take entire charge. Brought up in their business, they will be found competent and prudent advisers in all matters relating to the purchase, sale or exchange of property in Chicago and vicinity, being always prepared to give their patrons the benefit of their experience in these transactions, while their lists at all times include eligible parcels of improved and unimproved property for sale. Those of our readers in every portion of the United States who may desire to place their estates in competent hands, or who may contemplate investments in realty, will find it to their advantage to communicate with them at the above address, where the advantages they enjoy in their business will always be promptly placed at their disposal.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

OCTOBER 17.

Ordinances were passed as follows: For sidewalk on south side of Fullerton avenue, from Southport avenue to Clybourn avenue; for same on both sides of Wood street, from Clybourn avenue to Fullerton avenue; for same on both sides of Orchard street, from North avenue to Fullerton avenue; for same on both sides of Grant place, from North Clark to Larrabee street; for same on both sides of Grove court, from Orchard street to Larrabee; for same on both sides of Garfield avenue, from North Park avenue to Herndon street; for same on both sides of Perry street, from Clybourn avenue to Fullerton; for same on both sides of Belden avenue, from North Park avenue to Perry street; for same on Fullerton avenue, from Clybourn avenue to north branch of Chicago river; for same on both sides of High street, from Western avenue to Fullerton avenue; for water-service pipes on Hobbie street from Hawthorne to Sedgwick street; for same on Elm street, from Crosby street to North Wells street; for same on Twenty-sixth street, from State to Wentworth avenue; for same on Paulina street, from West Madison to West Lake street; for same on same from Madison to Polk; for same on West Adams street, from Hoyne avenue to Oakley; for same on Front street, from Carpenter to Sangamon street; for same on De Kalb street, from Flournoy street to Leavitt; for same on Paulina street, from West Lake to Indiana street; for establishing sidewalk space on Tnirty-first street, from L. S. & M. S. R. R. tracks to Cottage Grove avenue; for same on Cherry avenue, from Division street to North Branch street.

An ordinance was passed granting permission to South Park Commissioners to boulevard Michigan avenue from Thirty-Fifth to Thirty-ninth streets.

Permission was granted the citizens of the Ninth Ward to erect a wigwam at 123 South Halsted street, to be removed within thirty days after election.

The Need of New Bridges.

The superstructure of the Chicago avenue bridge is now complete, but the ironwork will not be ready for six weeks to come, and the people of the North and West Sides who have been impatiently awaiting the completion of the structure may only be certain of a bridge some time between this and the new year. The bridge is only to have a single roadway for teams, and will bear a close resemblance to the bridges at State street, Wells street and elsewhere. Bids were opened for the Erie street bridge at the City Hall Thursday. New bridges are needed at many other places along the river. The belief is quite general that State street stands in the greatest need, but City-Engineer Artinstall says that there are many worse bridges than this one. Neither that nor the Clark street are large enough properly to accommodate the traffic, but Mr. Artinstall says that it would be next to impossible to put a wider bridge at State street, and that it is very questionable whether it could be done at Clark. Before widening the bridge at State he says the city would have to purchase more property on either side of the river.

United States Circuit Court.

ACTION EX CONTRACTU FOR A TORT—EXECUTION AGAINST THE BODY IN FIRST INSTANCE.

The opinion of the United States Circuit Court, Northern District of Illinois, by Blodgett, J., holding although this was an action ex contractu, the record showing the judgment to have been rendered for a tort committed by the defendant, it was not necessary to issue an execution against the defendant and demand property thereon, and file an affidavit showing fraud as conditions precedent to the issue of a Ca. Sa.; that the plaintiff having brought his suit in form ex contractu, does not deprive him of the process on his judgment which the law says he is entitled to for a tort committed by defendant.

Supreme Court of New Hampshire.

OPINION FILED AUG. 28, 1884—BETSEY H. DUDLEY V FOOTE & MORSE—HAY SCALES—REAL ESTATE—BILL OF SALE.

1. Held, that hay scales built upon land by the owner are real estate, and pass with the soil under them, not to the executor but to the heirs, as a well dug and stoned by the testator would have passed to them.

2. That a bill of sale from the heirs of five-sixths of the scales, nor under seal, did not convey any interest in the scales or give a right to any portion of the income derived from them.

3. That the plaintiff not being a co-tenant of the land is not a co-tenant of its income.

THE LUMBER MARKET.

The retail price list, as found on page 15 of the Journal, has been corrected according to the best information obtainable, and shows a reduction in prices. The majority of the yards report an increasing business. Some, however, claim that the market is dull. The planing mills are busy, and the yards and mills taken together present an appearance of activity, at least. There is now a demand for assortments, and yards which are well supplied in this line are best off. There is more complaint about prices than dull trade, the former being caused mainly by competition between the different sections of supply, and especially in Iowa and trans-Missouri territory. The tendency to low prices has been augmented by the reduction in freight rates, which have operated so as to give Chicago no advantage over other points. The cheapness of lumber, partly induced by low freight rates, is acting as a stimnlus to building in city as well as country, notwithstanding the depression in other branches of trade. Lumbermen have suffered but little, if we take into account the limited number of failures in their ranks.

Shipments of shingles continue to be heavy, and prices are better. Chicago and vicinity continue to make a heavy demand on retailers for the local trade.

At the docks the quotations are as follows:

Piece stuff, green	$ 8.00
Long timbers and joists, green	10.00@12.00

HARDWOOD LUMBER.

The trade in hardwood lumber has been largely supported by the builders. Many of the best buildings begun in the summer are now being finished, and too with hardwood. A few years ago store and office fittings, as well as the trimmings in a medium and cheap grade of residence buildings, were of softwood; but now all of our best buildings are finished with either ash, oak, cherry, or, perhaps, red oak, birch, etc. The supply of hardwood is ample, but desirable dry stocks are not abundant at the mills.

On page 15 of the Journal we publish a price list for wholesalers, and the following is a retail price list, subject to the necessities of the seller and the condition of the buyer:

THE MARKET.

Thu record of deeds has been diminishing in number and consideration for the last three weeks, until there is a constant cry from the cases for miscellaneous copy; and the reports of deeds this week show as many transfers made from one week to one month ago as new ones. One of the largest sales recorded, viz: 226.7 feet, of irregular depth, on Lake View avenue, 150 feet south of Wrightwood, east front, by Elizabeth H. Fowler to Louis Gathman, for $28,000, was made October 2; and 50x100 feet on Washington boulevard, northeast corner of Ann street, by Rodney Dennis to Jos. S. Young, for $10,250, was sold August 4. The sales that have been made during the week just closed have been unimportant, except in one or two cases. The same dullness prevails among the money lenders—trust deeds and mortgages being fewer in number and smaller in consideration, except one made by Chandler and Co. to the Catholic Bishop of Chicago, for $40,000, dated October 25.

Notwithstanding the limited number of deeds recorded some of the agencies report a good inquiry. For example, Mr. Marshall, of the firm of Knight & Marshall, told our reporter that they were negotiating with two different parties for sales that would amount to $150,000 to $200,000, and that the trades would be put through within two weeks.

Mr. B. F. Jacobs reports a sale of improved residence property for $36,000—at least he has a contract for it and another sale, but for improved business property, for $70,000, which he is sure to close in a few days. For obvious reasons he does not want the particulars given until matters are all fixed up.

Mr. Bond, of Turner & Bond, reports a sale in acre property at a good, round figure, but requested the Journal to not give the particulars. The transaction alluded to includes about 40 acres in the suburbs, and will, no doubt, be closed within a few days. The fact of the matter is that capitalists are making diligent inquiry now, just because the times are hard, in hopes that they can secure bargains.

A well known mortgage banker said some time ago to the editor of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, that the papers did more harm than good by publishing sales before they were closed, and also by continually bulling the market. He said an opposite course, sometimes, would result in more good, as buyer and seller would be brought together with less difficulty.

Sewerage and Water Supplies.

A PRIZE FOR THE BEST ESSAY ON THE SUBJECT.

The Citizens' Association of Chicago offers a prize of $500 for the best practical essay on the main drainage, sewerage, and water-supply systems of Chicago and its vicinity. It is desired that the essays shall discuss the subject in view of the present condition of those systems, and shall consider the best method of providing for the immediate and also the future requirements of the population in those respects. The question should be considered in connection with the Chicago river and the slips, the Desplaines river and the Ogden ditch, the canal and the Fullerton avenue conduit, and should have special reference to a mode of securing an abundant supply of pure water and of providing for the disposition of the sewerage. All suggestions or plans for carrying into effect the views of the writer should have due regard both to efficiency and economy, and should be accompanied by descriptive drawings so far as necessary to make them easily understood. The subject should embrace the city of Chicago and such of its suburbs as may properly use the same means of obtaining water and the same systems or lines of drainage.

The competing essays must be delivered to the secretary of the Association on or before April 1, 1885, and be signed by some designation corresponding with the mark upon a sealed envelope which shall contain the name and address of the writer.

Three gentlemen will be selected by the Association to act as judges, and their uames will be made public as soon as they have signified their willingness to act.

All essays are to be considered the property of the Association for purposes of publication, but the envelopes containing the names of the writers will be destroyed without being opened, excepting that bearing the designation of the successful essay.

ture will occupy a frontage of 75 feet on Jackson street, and 100 ft on Fourth avenue, and will be six stories high. The architectural plans, as prepared by W. L. B. Jenny, are Lombardic-Romanesqe in style, which was in vogue in the fourteenth century. The materials used for the building will be pressed brick and terra cotta trimmings. The basement will contain engine and boiler rooms, heating apparatus, store rooms, ice house, and one large room to rent. The first story will contain a large hallway, in which there will be a fire-place and mantel sixteen feet wide. This floor will also contain lounging and reading rooms, capacious and airy. There will be a digression from the usual rule in club houses, in that provision is made for a dining-room for the ladies, in which the wives of the members can be entertained. The main entrance will be on Jackson street, with a separate entrance for ladies near the corner of Fourth avenue, which will connect with a vestibule, a small hall, a reception room and an elevator for the use of ladies only, together with cloak and toilet-rooms. On the second floor will be located the billiard-rooms, card-rooms, library and cafe. The third floor will be devoted to fourteen sleeping apartments for the use of bachelor members, which will be luxuriously furnished. The fourth floor will contain the ladies' dining-rooms, private dining-rooms, and a reception-room for ladies. On the fifth floor will be the large dining-hall, in the rear of which will be the kitchen, the dining-room being twenty feet high, extending to a roof of open timbers. Over the kitchen will be located the bakery and dining and sleeping-rooms for servants. The corner will be surmounted by a high tower, on the top of which will be a dome lighted with stained glass. At the first and dining-room stories there will be large balconies, which can be used for music, dinners and parties. The contract has been let, and it is contemplated to put in the foundations this fall and have the building completed and ready for occupancy within a year. The stock has mostly all been subscribed, and will be taken by members of the club.

Dividends and "Water."

The returns of mileage and gross earnings for the month of September made by forty-nine railroads do not make a very favorable showing. These roads had a mileage of 34,631 miles in 1883 and 36,318 miles in 1884, an increase of nearly 5 per cent. Their gross earnings for September were in 1883, $17,824,416, and 1884 only $16,867,353, or a decrease of nearly 6 per cent.

Were this all that was to be told the situation might be viewed with equanimity. The railroads are merely feeling the effects of the depressiou that is weighing upon all industry, and with economy and good management would tide over these t'mes of diminishing returns. Dividends would naturally reflect the smaller earnings of the roads. But coincident with less income and reduced dividends there is taking place a marked increase in the capitalization of many lines. This is bad policy, and the manner in which these so-called securities are issued and "floated" does not recommend them to investors. It is such practices that have virtually closed the European markets to our railroad stocks, and it is the dead weight of overcapitalizaiion that is driving into liquidation much property that is really of great value and that might still be made so under judicious management. To increase capital when dividends are falling off is not a healthy sign.

Gardens in the Air.

The utilization of house tops as gardens was long ago advocated by O. B. Bruce in Appleton's Journal. This beautifying the roof by substituting flowers for pulley lines has been adopted by a Boston lady, who occupies the two upper stories of a white marble building near the corner of Washington street and Temple place. Passers-by are much edified by this unusual display, and often take a devious course to catch a glimpse of it. Why should not the flower garden on the roof become an institution among us? Here is an open space "far from the madding crowd" overlooking the city for miles in every direction, away from the summer's stifling heat indoors and bearing a charm and novelty fully compensating for the trouble and expense incurred in planting the flowers and tending their growth. The ancients sought the house-top in the cool of the evening, and in southern and oriental climes the custom still survives. There are houses in this city whose roofs would give a space of from 1000 to 2000 square feet for planting purposes, and the imagination calls up with pleasure the scene of rows of streets with thousands of families enjoying the balmy breeze of a summer's eve on the house-tops, surrounded by flowers planted with their own hands. Indeed New York is specially fitted for this. In no city in the Union is there such a vast congregation of houses and so few gardens. For miles it is naught but brick and stone. Gardens and shrubberies are rare. European cities present a great contrast to this. Gardens front and back of houses meet the eye everywhere Land is too valuable in this city for garden space; why not create it, therefore, on the house top? Our large apartment palaces might be made more attractive by utilizing the large space on their roofs for this purpose. The proposed addition to the "Florence" is to contain a flower-garden with fountain for the use of guests, which is to be forty square feet in size, and the large apartment building on the northwest corner of Fifty-seventh street and Seventh avenue is to have a croquet lawn on its spacious roof. These are steps in the right direction, and a great deal of pleasure might be afforded to thousands of families if they emulated the example of the lady whose botannical ingenuity has evoked the admiration of the cultivated Bostonians.—New York Record and Guide.

An Order for a Paper.

So send on your paper, printer,
Don't strike my name off yet,
You know the times are stringent
And dollars hard to get.

But tug a little harder
Is what I mean to do,
And rake the dimes together
Enough for me and you.

Then take it kindly, printer,
If pay is somewhat slow,
For cash is not so plenty,
And wants not few you know.

But I must have the paper,
Cost what it may to me;
I'd rather dock my sugar,
And do without my tea.

In the Style of Queen Anne.

Let me offer a few reflections on the mania for Queen Anne houses that is now rife, and which I venture to pronounce a failure, and which, with more certainty, will be decreed a failure a generation hence. The thing is all wrong and on wrong principles. The Queen Anne architects indulged in no such ridiculous, fantastic freaks as we see now exhibited, and simply because such was entirely opposed to the nature and character of brick. Brick is a simple, honest, plain material, with a good color and hard smooth surface—that is all. Whatever style can display these qualities best is the Queen Anne style and no other. The result of the modern caprices will be seen ten or twelve years hence, when certainly decay will have disintegrated or destoyed the whole, or when the owner's heart will have sickened of the frequent repairs and restorations. The old Queen Anne houses produced effect by the beautiful color and surface, the bricks being laid almost touching, with the thinnest wash of mortar between. The result is that no rain or damp ever gets between. The modern system of building is opposed to this, thick layers of mortar being interposed, with the certain result that all the elaborate gables, etc., soon begin to separate. Bricks put together in elaborate forms have no strength, no more than stones laid on earth, but displayed in surface it becomes as smooth as a billiard table. Even mouldings should be raised in the faintest degree, and the less they are the richer the effect. There is an old house out at Clapton, a "seminary for young ladies," that for design, simplicity and pure brickwork, mixed with stone and design of outline puts to shame all the brick phantasmata that are now covering the city. Looking at the pretentious masses that cover the new settlement of Cadogan Square or line the Embankment, one does not feel at all drawn back to the days of Queen Anne. There is a coarse, raw treatment in their embroidery, to which the brick lends itself but reluctantly. The material is too rude for such fine work. There is another fad in house adornment, which, it may be said, has run its course. This was the daubing over houses "liver-red", green, blue, etc. These efforts looked daring enough at first, but presently, as the dirt accumulated, they turned all kinds of horrid tints, and the house looked dirtier and shabbier than ever. —Tinsley's Magazine.

Hardwood Lumber

By the kinndess of Robert Larkin, Esq. and other prominent dealers in hardwoods we are enabled to give our readers a reliable price list in this week's issue.

The subject, as is well understood, is receiving more attention than formerly, both by manufacturers and builders. While Hatch & Keith have the reputation of being the heaviest dealers in hardwoods in this city, certainly none have a better stock or a more complete assortment of hardwood lumber than is found in the yards of Robert Larkin, Esq., wholesale and retail dealer, whose office is located on Twenty-second street, [corner of Union. Mr. Larkin has been in business at the above place for the past six years, and has enjoyed a prosperous trade during this entire time. He receives a considerable patronage from the builders of Chicago and vicinity, and likewise from the retail dealers in the country, north, south, east and west. In his yards is found the best grades of hardwoods, such as are used by manufacturers of agricultural implements and furniture. Mr. Larkin carries a full and well assorted stock of white woods, oak, ash, cherry, walnut, and in fact, all of the hardwoods sold in this market. His prices are reasonable, and his bills will be cut to order. Promptness and dispatch in filling orders, and courteous treatment of customers are chief characteristics of this house. His office aud yards can be reached by the Madison & South Halsted Street cars, or by Canalport Avenue & Canal Street, or by the Archer Avenue cars. A good way to drive to Robert Larkin's place from the center of the city is to go south on State street or Michigan avenue to Twenty-second street, and then go west across the river to Union place; or if traveling from a point west of the river. drive south on Canal street to Canalport avenue, cross Eighteenth street and enter Lumber street, which will lead you to Twenty-second, near the yards and office.

The number of his telephone is 9310.

The Brick Season Closed.

The brick yards in Chicago and vicinity closed up two weeks ago, at the beginning of the cold weather. The output for the year 1884 amounts to 380,000,000, or about 25 per cent. greater than for the year 1883. This iucrease has not been confined to the city yards, but has been proportioned among the yards in and out of the city in this vicinity, the Pullman yards having shown a greater proportionate increase than any others. All of this enormous quantity of material has been consumed in Chicago, mainly by the large office and store buildings which have been erected in Chicago during the summer.

At the beginning of this year the quantity of brick on hand was 50,000,000, and at the present time the number on haud, burned and unburned, is about 90,000,000. The buildings now in process of erection will require about 40,000,000, which will leave on hand this year the same number left over from 1883. From an article in the Chicago Times, on the subject, the following is taken:

"During the season the price has been generally steady, $7.50 per 1,000 being the average ruling figure. Recently the price ran to $8, which is now asked. The cause for the advance at this time lies in the fact that many of the yards are full of unburned bricks, while the supply of burned has been almost exhausted. The advance has only been paid for a few thousands, the belief prevailing that the price will go back to $7.50 within a few days. It has been predicted that the supply of bricks would be so much in advance of the demand that the price would drop to $6 before the opening of business for the year 1885. In anticipation of this, a number of parties who have put in foundations, or who have projected large buildings, have delayed the erection of the superstructures, expecting to profit by the purchase of their bricks at a reduced price. In this they are likely to be disappointed, as the manufacturers have carefully gauged the demands of the season, and have avoided overstocking the market, for the very purpose of maintaining the price.

For the coming season the brick-makers of Chicago expect the demand will be less than it was during the closing season. They confidently expect the usual number of residences, cottages, flats, and small stone buildings will be erected, but the number of large buildings will be materially less. In this view they are sustained by the contractors, who express the belief that it will be several years before Chicago witnesses another season in which so many mammoth buildings will be erected. Estimating the brick crop for the coming season upon the reasonable expectation for building, as viewed by the brick-makers and contractors, who are, perhaps, the best judges, it is reasonable to assume that the output of bricks for the season of 1885 will not exceed 300,000,000."

Growth and Progress.

Statistics show a nation's wealth and progress. Mulhall's Dictionary of Statistics, an English work, furnishes the following data of the growth of manufactures in the United States since 1850:

"Value of American manufactures in 1850, $1,060,000,000; in 1860, $1,970,000,000; in 1870, $4,230,000,000; in 1880, $5,560,000,000. In 1860 the value of manufactures per inhabitant was $61.75; in 1880, $110. In 1850 the number of persons employed in manufactures of all kinds was 957,000; in 1860, 1,311,000; in 1870, 2,054,000; iu 1880, 2,739,000. In 1850 the wages paid were $245,000,000; in 1860, $400,000,000; in 1870, $805,000,000; in 1880, $990,000,000. In 1850 the capital invested in manufactures was $550,000,000; in 1860, $1,040,000,000; in 1870, $2,205,000,000; in 1880, $2,405,000,000." These statistics are taken from the census reports, and are approximately correct. At the present time, the United States turn out more manufactured products than any other nation in the world—the total in 1880, as above given, being $5,560,000,000, while those of Great Britain were valued at $4,091,500,000 in 1882. By the same authority the total industries of the United States in 1880 were worth $11,405,000,000; those of Great Britain $9,200,000,000; those of France $6,840,000 and those of Russia $4,650,000,000.

House Raising.

"Chicago is a great city," remarked one

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

traveling man to another, as they got off the train in that town.

"Yes, it's a big place. Did you ever see them raising houses and building the first story last?"

"No, do they do that?"

"Yes, all the time. Why, some time ago they raised the whole Tremont House, with four thousand jacks."

"How many?"

"Four thousand!"

"Thunder! It didn't take that many, did it? By gravy, I saw a fellow down in Cincinnati, about a week ago, go into one of the biggest establishments there, and I'm a sucker if he didn't raise the whole house with two jacks. Prettiest game of bluff I ever saw."

The other man gave Cincinnati the lead, and Chicago came in a very fair second.—Merchant Traveler.

NATIONAL SHEET METAL ROOFING CO.
Organized under Charter granted by State of Tennessee, September 30, 1882.
SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow —which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY.

OUR SPECIALTY.

We invite parties wishing to buy or sell real estate in any division of the city to call and inspect our list.

Onr long and intimate acquaintance with this class of property enables us to offer the best in the market; very much of which is not advertised.

Abstracts of Title.

Bnt few bnsiness men outside of real estate agents and experts who handle them, know really what an abstract of title is. Many of those purchasing a lot as an investment, or for building purposes, think that the mere fact that they are furnished with such a document evidences a clear title in the party of whom they purchase. This, of course, is a great mistake. The more voluminbus and complete the abstract the more imperfect and clouded the title may be. The condition of the title can only be ascertained by a thorough examination of all the matters shown in the abstract. The expert, who examines it for the purchaser, must determine whether all the deeds, mortgages, releases, suits of partition or foreclosures of mortgages or trust deeds were properly drawn, executed and acknowledged and prepared and carried through the courts in strict accordance with the provisions of law. If tax sales or judgments are shown he must determine the extent of such liens and suggest the proper remedies for their removal; in fact he must know the proper cure for all other ills, defects and legal objections which he may find. In cases of foreclosures or other chancery or probate proceedings, the expert examiner must exercise great care and construe everything very strictly, as the law protects the unfortunate as well as the widows, the orphans and all other heirs in their rights, even for years after imperfect proceedings may have been had.

Everyone purchasing real estate should insist upon being furnished by the seller with complete abstracts, and then not fail to place them in the hands of a competent examiner for examination before finally paying his purchase money or before signing his papers of obligation under the purchase. No honest seller will object to giving him reasonable time and the proper facilities for this. Every purchaser has a right and ought to select his own confidential examiner, who, if he does his work well, should be well paid.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn ont gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

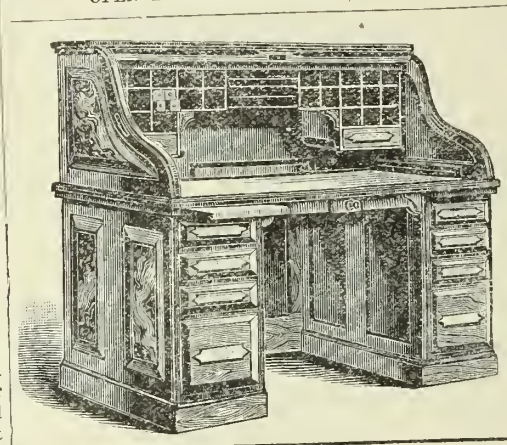
The Lumber Business.

A Minneapolis lumberman told me the other day, that it was only a question of time before the lumber mannfacturing business would be transferred from the north to the south. He may find some encouragement for the opinion in the constant increase in the shipment of southern yellow pine to the north. A traveling salesman for one of these southern concerns told me the other day, that his firm had recently sent a man to South America to buy lumber for manufacture in Atlanta. He will buy French walnnt, which isn't French at all, but grows only in Persia, Circassia, Asia Minor and Brazil. It is exceedingly expensive and the veneering often sells for $2 per pound. One "hurl", weighing 2300 pounds, which was exhibited at the Paris exposition, sold for $5500. The French walnut is a small tree, crooked and dwarfed in its growth. A year or so ago there was a rage for its use in furniture, but the cabinet makers says it is going out of fashion.—"Voices" in Pioneer-Press.



Lumber Rates.

The Western Lumber Rate Association has been dissolved, and rates west and southwest from Chicago have dropped to a merely nominal basis. The rate to Missouri river points has reached 5 cents per 100 pounds, and to St. Louis 3 cents per 100 pounds. This rate does not pay the cost of operation and several of the roads have withdrawn entirely from the business. Those which are handling the business at such ruinous rates admit that it is merely to secure the patronage of shippers, whom they hope to retain after an advance, The northwestern lumber districts have dropped out of the business, and are quietly watching the demoralization out of Chicago.

Carpenters and Builders.

Among the prominent carpenters and builders of the city is the firm of Clark & Harrison, successors to Jonathan Clark. This firm is one of the old firms, being established in 1852. They have the facilities for first class work, and are competent to carry out any contracts given to them in the most satisfactory manner. They are doing an extensive line of jobbing. Estimates on all kinds of carpenter work will be cheerfully furnished. Their office is in the Builders' and Traders' Exchange, 159 LaSalle street, Room 15.

The Grannis Block has been sold for $175,000 to the Brooks estate, which owns the land. The cost of construction was about $70,000. The rentals have been over $40,000 a year. The ground rent paid by Mr. Grannis under his fifty-year lease, of which four years had run out, was $8000.

THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF LUMBERMEN will hold its second semi-annual meeting in Chicago on Wednesday, Dec. 3. A regular notice will be sent to the members, so that they will be officially informed of the time and place of meeting. The Lumber Trade Journal says it is the unqualified testimony of those who attend the meetings of the Association, that they are thereby benefitted,and return to their homes satisfied that no dealer should fail to present himself. In most towns there are at least two lumber dealers, and we suggest the importance to their interests of at least sending a representative to these meetings. The standing of the Association, and the general respect shown by the wholesale trade, ought to infuse enough interest in every dealer to take some part. The Secretary is

BUILDING NEWS.

CHICAGO AND VICINITY.—J. W. Champin is building a handsome residence on Forty-seveuth street near Lake ave. Charles Brewster will erect a handsome eleven-room cottage at Hyde Park; the plaus are furnished by W. L. B. Jenney, architect. Smith & Gable have been awarded the contracts for the five-story building to be erected by the Thomas Hoyne estate at 91 Michigan avenue, and work has commenced. Contracts have been let and work is to be pushed on the seven-story office building for C. L. Jenks, adjoining McCoy's hotel on Van Buren street. A $14,000 three-story and basement flat building is being built for Mrs. C. Deeden at the corner of Wells and Wendell streets by T. Karls, architect; the ground plans are 27x70 feet in size. Schaub & Berlin, architects, have designed two two-story dwellings for F. Kamin. They will be erected at once at 664 and 666 North avenue, and will cost when completed about $10,000. Hoffman Brothers are pushing rapidly forward the work on their new factory, 50x100 feet in size, at 43 to 49 Green street; the plans are by architect Pentecost, and contemplate an outlay of $9,000. P. Ratley has had plans prepared by Furst & Rudolph, architects, for a handsome residence which it is his intention to erect at 2962 Bonfield street at an early day. Some $10,000 will be expeuded. A three-story store building to cost $10,000 will be erected at 242 Indiana street by H. Goldsmith, after plans by Strippleman & Co., architects; the ground plan is to be 20x75 feet in extent. The directors of the new opera house building will put on a temporary roof at the seventh story, thus enabling the rapid prosecution of the work of inside finishing. George M. Bogue has well under way a tasteful two-story brick and stone building on Fifty-third street, near the corner of Lake avenue; the first floor will be occupied as a store, the second story as a dwelling. Work has been begun on a block of fifteen houses for T. G. Richardson on Prairie avenue, between Forty-first and Forty-second streets; they will be two-story frame buildings, and will cost $40,000 complete. J. Theurer has had plans made by E. Bauman, architect, for a three-story and basement dwelling of brick, 28x82 feet in size, to occupy lot 1809 Indiana avenue; the front is to be of pressed brick with orna-

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Nov. 8, 1884.

THE MARKET.

News in real estate is hard to find. The minds of business men are more occupied with election matters now than before the election. The country is now in a state of suspense. Capital will not venture in the dark, although it ought to make no difference to the business of the country whether Blaine is the president, or Cleveland.

Few transfers are reported, and an equal scarcity of mortgages and trust deeds. Though money has been in plentiful supply for loans on good real estate security, rates, at the present time, are stiffening up a little; for example, Joel Bigelow, in the Reaper block, has just got a loan through for $7,000, at seven per cent., on improved property worth about $30,000. The seven per cent. interest does not include the commissions of the broker. This same transaction could have been made for six per cent. and commissions three months ago, and during last spring a larger amount on proportionately good security could have been obtained for five and-half per cent.

is in the same condition: it displays no activity.

By a sort of tacit understanding there is a sluggish movement, if not a pause, in almost every branch of business on the occasision of a presidential election; and this is particularly characteristic of the real estate market at this period. There are plenty of buyers for business properties in prominent situations and for residences in fashionable resorts; but apart from these no anxeity is observed, and when property does change hands the business is concluded to the advantage of the purchasers.

Quite an historic piece of property was sold at auction on Tuesday, the 28th ult.—twenty acres at Inwood, upon Manhattan Island. beautifully located at the junction of the Hudson River and Spuyten Duvil Creek, and which brought $75,000, or $3,750 per acre, which must be considered a flattering price. In the revolutionary war the site was alternately occupied by the rival forces, and Washington Irving has referred to it as a tongue of land whence Peter Stuyvesant's famous trumpeter attempted the bold feat of swimming to the Westchester shore.

British Iron Industries.

The depression in steel and iron manufacturing in Great Britain is far more severe than in America. Fifty per cent. of the blast furnaces in the United Kingdom are idle, and a paralysis has struck English shipbuilding as severe as that which closed our shipyards in 1857 to 1860. They attribute the failure in these industries to the fact that other countries, and especially the United States, have become their own manufacturers of iron and steel. The London Statist tries to take comfort in the fact that Great Britain has still her home trade left, and that "the home trade is of more value in every country than the foreign trade." That would be a proper statement to make in America, but the fact remains that the British iron manufacture was developed with a view to the foreign trade. One-half the furnaces in that country are ample to supply the home demand. But the indications are that she cannot hold her home markets. German firms are filling contracts for iron and steel work for the British navy and American pig iron is superseding Scotch in the manufacture of stoves in Glasgow, and American bells are finding a market in Manchester. It would seem that she will have, even of the home market, only what foreign nations are unable to supply.—Exchange.

Facts about Shea's Collection Agency.

Mr. Ira Barchard disclaims any connection with T. J. Shea, and says emphatically that he is not coupled with him. The accounts for collection belonging to this Journal were given to the "firm", whose name was signed by T. J. Shea in the receipt for the same in February last. A number of collections were made, and Shea always took out his commissions in hot haste as the money was paid, and in cases where the money was paid to the publisher through the instrumentality of this concern of which Shea claimed to be a member, he immediately turned over and paid the commissions (25%) to said Shea or his representative. T. J. Shea collected $19.50 judgment and costs as seen in Randall H. White's docket, on Aug 14, and never reported the fact to the court for two months or more, nor to the plaintiff. The said Shea met the publisher several times during this period on the street and in the former's office at 162 La Salle st. The contract with this man Shea, or this collecting agency, was that he or they should receive a uniform per cent. of 25 cents on the dollar for all collections made and no more, and no fees should be paid in addition to this 25%. Besides receiving his pay in full for all business transacted, he, the said Shea, received some favors from the man he now robs. The costs, as required by the Justice Court, were paid by R. C. Smyers on the spot, or given to Shea to give the Justice.

After being notified twice by letter and once by calling at his office, he returned the accounts uncollectable and rendered a statement wherein he made for the first time a fictitious charge which he cannot hope to sustain.

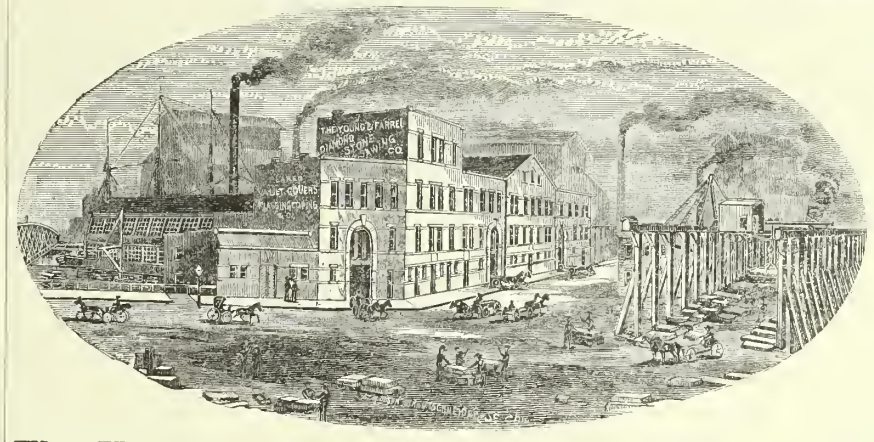
quantities. Each nation is both an importer and exporter of the same kind, if not the same class and quality of goods. Great Britain exports cotton goods worth more than three hnndred million dollars yearly, but she cannot exclude from her own markets foreign manufactures of cotton amounting to eighteen or twenty millions. Her exports of woolen manufactnres amount to $80,000,000 or $90,000,000, and her imports to about $30,000,000. France exports $70,000,000 or $80,000,000 worth of wool manufactures, and imports from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 worth. Her exports and imports of cotton are about an offset. The United States finds Great Britain one of her best customers for those classes of manufactured goods, in which the latter country is thought to beat the world. Excepting China, we sell more cotton manufactures in England than anywhere else. Our cutlery and edge tools go directly into the English cities, which are the largest manufacturers of those goods. This shows principally two things—first, that transportation has been cheapened more rapidly than any other branch of industry; and, secondly, that the increasing specialization of manafactures makes it impossible for any one nation to hold a monopoly in the supply of a single class of goods.—Alta California.

The Permanent Exhibit and Exchange

OF BUILDING MATERIALS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

During the Convention of Architects to be held November 12th, there will be an exhibit of general architectural designs, combined with that of building materials, comprising a display of exterior and interior decorations, at No. 15 Washington street.

The exhibit rooms will be open each day and evening, commencing November 10th, and extending to November 22d.



All are cordially invited to visit the exhibition. HENRY LORD GAY, Proprietor.

Will Business Improve?

For the last six months politics have been booming at the expense of business. It is matter of congratulation to all honest men that the election passed off quietly. Successful candidates, if they are honest, will feel grateful for the assistance rendered them by their friends. Hundreds of business men stood at the polls all day on Tuesday, in the rain, for the sake of their party and the success of their friends on the tickets. Defeated candidates should feel that disappointment is the lot of the politician, and that their loss is some other fellow's gain. The business community as well as the laboring men are tired and disgusted with politics—the former because instead of receiving from $100 to $300 worth of new business each week, have, for the last six months had none; and the latter, because they have been thrown out of employment by the failure of their employers.

The summer and fall have passed with poor results to the majority of business men, and the election leaves us on the thresh hold of winter, when expenses must necessarily increase with everybody.

Nothing can be more beneficial to business interests than a satisfactory settlement of the election, one way or the other. Confidence is the mother of prosperity; doubt breeds failure; capital will not venture where there is any distrust. If we look at the resources of the country we are convinced that the people have the means to become prosperous, if the channels of trade are not clogged or diverted from a natural course.

The Morning News of Wednesday contained the following article bearing on the subject:

"During the contest just closed a marked feature thereof was the almest entire divorcement of polities from the practical business affairs of the country. While the campaign was being waged questions of great industrial moment, though eagerly pressing for public consideration—questions which involve the loss of millions to the trade of the country—have received scarcely the slightest attention.

It is true that Mr. Blaine, in a few of his campaign speeches, held out the hope that by certain political arrangements we might perhaps restore the balance of trade with South America, which stands against us to the amount of some $50,000,000. But, on the other hand, no great party leader on either side alluded to the fact that we are on the point of losing almost our entire export trade with France because of the development of the extremest form of the old Spanish protective idea and theory in that country.

The minister of that republic has just introduced a bill in the chamber prescribing for such a scale of taxes—the amount in each case the Daily News has heretefore given—as will virtually prohibit the import into the country of cattle, hogs, provisions of nearly all kinds, and of flour, wheat, oats, and barley.

Thus, while, after a sentimental rather than practical manner, Mr. Blaine was holding out the hope that, during some time in the future, near or far, we might be able to balance our trade with South America. He never once pointed out that, by the French people carrying out his own trade theories to their logical conclusions, we are actually on the eve of losing nearly one-eighth of the entire export trade of our country.

The worst phase of this barbaric French proposition is that it comes at a time when there is an almost utter stagnation in our crop movement. As a leading Chicago banker says, "at a time when we should be sending from $200,000 to $300,000 in currency to the country each day at this season, we are shipping a merely nominal amount, and some money to New York city, while the crops are not moving as they naturally should." He added that this is the chief cause of depression in financial circles.

But if there be depression now, when we have the French ports open to us, what will be the depth of that depression when they are virtually closed to $100,000,000 of our exports, which will then be thrown on the free market of Great Britain that already absorbs over $500,000,000 of them?

Here is a question which, while it may not tickle the poltical fancy of the multitude, has a very practical relation to the pocket of every individual citizen.

Convention of Architects.

There was a largely attended meeting of local architects at 15 Washington street, on the 23d ult., for the purpose of advancing the convention of architects to be held in this city on the 12th inst. W. W. Boyington was made chairman and H. I. Cobb, secretary. It was agreed that the visiting architects should be received in an appropriate manner, and entertained while in the city. A reception committee, made up of J. W. Root, H. I. Cobb. N. S. Patton and H. L. Gay, was appointed. The following gentlemen were named as a committee on the convention programme: S. A. Treat, H. F. Starbuck, L. D. Cleveland, H. L. Gay and N. S. Patton.

Chicago School Board.

At the last meeting of the School Board it was decided to recommend the award of contracts for a new twelve-room school on the Garfield lot, amounting to $31,000; also for a fifteen-room building near the corner of Lincoln and Division streets, to cost $51,000.

The Growth of Chicago

The school census of 1884 affords a most striking evidence of the wonderful growth of our city. The totals of the last three censuses made by the school authorities are as follows: In 1880 the population was 491,516 (the federal census made it 503,185); in 1882 it was 560,693; in 1884 it is 629,985, or within fifteu of 630,000. The classification of population by age and sex brings to light some curious inequalities. By divisions the number of inhabitants over 21 is: North division, males 48,819, females 42,790; south division, 38,252, females 36,477; west division, males 105,591, females 94,945. In every case the males considerably preponderate—a fact not without bearing upon the morals of the city. Below the age of 21 the females preponderate, as follows: Under 6, males 45,636, females 47,442; between 6 and 16, males 60,330, females 59,754; between 16 and 21, males 23,176, females 24,843.

The highly diversified nationality of the people of this city is remarkable. They come from twenty-six different lands. The nations most abundantly represeuted are shown in the following table:

Division.	American.	English & Scotch.	German.
South	44,198	7,760	40,397
West	74,971	16,441	106,679
North	23,831	2,123	62,555
Total	143,000	27,324	209,631

	Irish.	Scandinavians.	Poles & Bohm'ns
South	35,061	4,981	4,089
West	62,204	17,198	45,863
North	16,740	15,939	1,838
Total	114,005	38,118	51,790

Adding to the total of foreign population about 16,000 from countries not included in this table, we have the imposing total of 456,865 foreigners now in this city, against a native American population of only 143,000. Even this statement falls short of the truth, for it is evident that out of 93,078 children under the age of 6 probably 60,000 are the children of foreigners and are growing up under influences which are but partially American. To measure it another way we have an American city a little smaller than Cleveland; to this we have added Germans enough to nearly fill up Dresden, more Irish than there are in Cork and Loudonderry combined, more Scandivavians than there are in Bergen, and more Poles and Bohemians than there are iu Cracow.

The Value of Our Crops.

While the politicians were holding conventions and fighting the campaigns in Maine and Ohio, the crops were growing. And now, when the merchant and manufacturer are complaining of dull times, and everybody is awaiting the result of the election, to see if we are likely to have unwise legislation that will still further increase the business depression, the farmer drives his team afield with a light heart, for nature has been bountiful and the harvests abundant. Whatever the result at the polls, we need not, as a nation, fear going to bed hungry because of an empty larder, nor doubt that we shall be able to raise a little spending money by selling part of our surplus crops to our neighbors. We have raised, it is estimated, about 520,000,000 bushels of wheat and 1,800,000,000 bushels of corn, with oats, barley, potatoes, beans, hay, etc., in proportion. Considered in the abstract the sum totals of these crops do not convey a very definite idea to the mind. But it is more easily comprehended on saying that the 520,000,000 bushels of wheat would give every one of the 57,000,000 of people now in the United States a little over nine bushels apiece. Four years ago the yield was almost ten bushels per capita, so that the present wheat crop is smaller in proportion than in 1880, while the price per bushel is lower and will remain lower probably. But there will be some advantages in the lower price; more of it will be consumed at home, more people being able to substitute wheat flour for corn meal; our own country will get the benefit of the lower prices before the wheat is called out of it by foreign demand, while this increased home demand will after a while tend to raise the price. Although the crop of 1884 is smaller in ratio than that of 1880, yet the grain in production is greater than the increase of population. The increase in population since 1870 has been about 48 per cent., but the increase iu the wheat crop has been over 120 per ceut., which is really too high, as the wheat crop of 1870 was very light. The increase is almost wholly due to the use of machinery in the fields. The corn crop of 1884 is the largest ever raised by our farmers. A yield of 1,800,000,000 would have covered over 69,000,000 acres, if the statistician of the Department of Agriculture is right in placing the average yield per acre at twentp-six bushels. That means that if in one great field the size of it would be nearly as great as that of the States of Missouri and Arkansas combined, almost the area of Italy, or about as big as England. Scotland and Ireland. The greatness of our country and the bigness of its crops may be comprehended when the possibilities of such a field as to the plowiug, hoeing and husking of its yield are considered. Faney the "tending of a crop" where the plowing of a single row of corn involved a journey of about 475 miles north and south, without a single turn! We have increased our production of corn about 67 per cent. since 1870, outrunning the increase in population about 19 per cent. The price will not be high, but the farmer has raised his crop at less cost per bushel than he did fifteen years ago, and he can add to his savings quite as much from the sale of his sur plus now as he did then. If the farmer gets only 30 cents per bushel for corn this fall, our whole crop will be worth $540,000,000; if wheat brings only 60 cents, we have raised $312,000,000 worth. The cotton crop is worth about $256,000,000. So that through these three staple crops alone, by uniting his labor to the operations of nature, the farmer has added $1,108,000,000 to the nominal resources of the nation, to say nothing about all the other resources of agricultural wealth, which would include all other cereal crops, the live stock, the dairy products and the wool, tobacco, sorghum, sugar, fruits, etc., all of which would swell the grand total to very nearly as much as those uamed, or, in round numbers, say $2,000,000,000.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Manufacturing in the United States.

The United States is now the largest manufacturing country on the globe. This is shown by Mr. Nimmo in his annual report recently made to the Secretary of the Treasury. The report just made shows that the value of the products of the various industries of the United States is seven times the value of the foreign commerce of this country, nearly three times the total value of the foreign commerce of Great Britain and Ireland, and five times the total value of the foreign commerce of France, including both imports and exports. The total value of the industrial products of the United States is shown to exceed more than twice the total value of the merchandise of all the countries of Europe. As showing the extent and value of our home markets, the report also shows that 99 per cent. of the coal mined here, 95 per cent. of iron and steel products, 95 per cent. of leather, 99 per cent. of wool and cotton products, more than 99 per cent. of silk manufactured, and 97 per cent. of our products of glass, glassware, earthenware and stoneware are consumed in the United States. The value of products of American manufacture consumed at home is more than fourteen times the value of the exports of manufactured products from France to all other countries, and is five times the value of the manufactured products of Great Britain and Ireland exported to other countries. This statement indicates the overshadowiug value of our home markets aud the enormous consumptive capacity of our populatiou. In reference to periods of depression and of prosperity, which have succeeded each other iu the history of our industrial and commercial growth, Mr. Nimmo says: "Experience has proved these fluctuations to be but symptoms of an exuberant and uncontrollable spirit of enterprise, outrunning the possibilities of a heathy and well-proportioned development, even in this land of abounding uatural resources." We are now passing through the reactionary effects of this overflow of iudustrial enterprise, and pending the adjustment between supply and demand, manufacturing and commercial interests are alike depressed. There is cause for just pride, however, in the fact that the United States leads the world iu the extent of her manufactures, the largest part of which have been developed within the last twenty years. At the beginning of that period the greater part of our cutlery, iron, steel, glassware, woolens, cottons and silks were imported; now home products supply the largest portion of home markets, and our gold is kept here instead of flowing abroad to pay for foreign goods. The balance of trade is in our favor, and gold from Europe flows to our shores. Our wealth consists not alone in our soil and minerals—the product of the forge and loom are also a great element in our prosperity. —American Grocer.

A MAN wants a piece of his neighbor's land to improve the approaches to his house, but the owner objects to sell, except under conditions. In the meantime a public body acquires the land compulsorily, but does not want the whole of it, and sells the surplus portion to the original owner's neighbor, who turns it to his desired purpose, free of all restrictions. Has the involuntary seller any remedy agaiust the second buyer? None whatever, says Mr Justice Chitty, in deciding such a case at Camberwell, where the school board had been the purchasers under compulsion. Good law, doubtless, but rather hard, notwithstanding. The law calls this "damnum absque injuria." The suffering party generally thiuks the first syllable sufficient.—English Paper.

The journeymen plumbers belonging to the Union having quit work in a body because their employers refused to accept nine hours instead of ten as a day's work, a meeting of the Master's Association was held last night to settle the differences if possible. M. J. Corboy, J. J. Clark, P. Nacy, Wm. Simms, E. Baggot, Frank E. Ruh and Robert Griffith were appointed a committee to arbitrate with journeymen McAvoy, Barrows, Brislin, Burns and Mandable. The master's committee were out a few minutes and reported on returning that they had settled with the workmen to allow nine hours as constituting a day's labor from Nov. 15, 1884, to Feb. 15, 1885. The Committee on Apprentices reported 120 apprentice boys on record.

Wednesday afternoon a committee reported a bill to be presented to the Council providing for the restriction of blacksmith shops and livery stables. The object of the measure is to prevent the erection of such structures in localities and on streets partly devoted to residences and partly to stores, the present ordinance only being framed to protect residence districts. Consideration of the report was laid over until the next meeting.

NATIONAL SHEET METAL ROOFING CO.
Organized under Charter granted by State of Tennessee, September 30, 1882.
SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

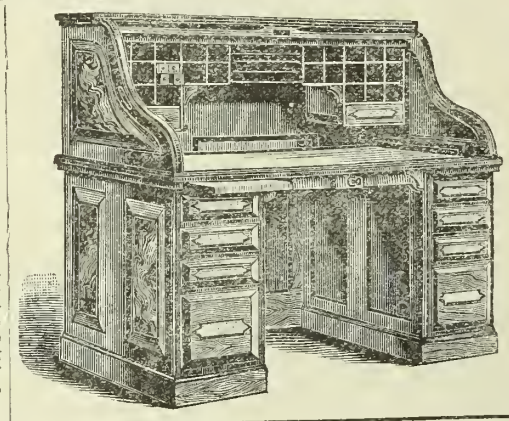
Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.



Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

Abstracts of Title.

Now that business among our real estate agents and money brokers is not as brisk as it has been for some years past, the matter of general expenses in their business is taking up a little more attention on their part than it did during flush times. When salss and loans were plenty and profits good a few dollars more or less in the way of expenses were of little consequence against time spent to save them. But now that business chances are scarce and time plenty it will pay to spend a few hours in saving even a few dollars.

There are many cases in which the agent or broker contracts to make a sale or a loan for an agreed, definite sum as his commission, and he should make good use of his right to insist upon the acceptance of reliable copies of abstracts.

The price of the abstract is an item of considerable consequence, in which every dollar saved is a dollar made.

It will pay our agents and brokers in all cases to bear in mind that the firm of Otto Peltzer & Co., which is too well known to need any special recommendation, has on hand a large stock of letter press copies of original anti-fire abstracts, of which they furnish merchantable copies on short notice, at reasonable rates. The firm will also attend, as heretofore, to the furnishing of continuations to copies from whatever date such may be required. We mention this fact here in the interest of our subscribers, because there seems to be an impression among some of them that this firm has abandoned the furnishing of abstracts entirely, which is a great mistake.

They are still at their old location, No. 85 Washington street.

County Board.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS.

The County Board met Monday. The Committee on Finance reported that the total valuation of Cook County for the fiscal year 1884-85, as assessed and equalized by the State Board of Equalization, was $174,433,355, and 75 cents per $100 on this valuation would produce $1,308,250 to defray county expenses. It is thought that this amount, together with the earnings of several county offices paid into the treasury, and the interest on delinquent taxes, will be sufficient to meet the expenses of the year 1884-85. Following are the estimates:

War bonds due May 1	$258,000
Int'st on $1,300,000 war bonds, 7s.	91,000
Int'st on $2,500,000 war bonds, 7s.	17,500
Int. on Graceland Cemetery bonds	2,310
Interest on $1,158,500 4½s	162,942
Int'st on $1,431,000 fire bonds, 7s.	100,730
Interest on Graceland Cemetery bonds, 7s	770
Int'st on Court House bonds, 7s	37,500
County purposes—

PETRIFIED TIMBER.

Several weeks ago this journal published an account of the petrified wood industry, and a description of the petrified forests of Arkansas, which have been purchased by a stock company, who have the machinery and facilities to cut them into slabs to be nsed for ornamental furniture. The petrified forests near Holbrook, Arizona, have been purchased by a company. They have commenced the shipment and manufacture of the petrifactions into tablets, tiles and various ornamental articles in bnilding and finishing. In connection with this the Prescott Miner has the following: "Gov. Tritle informs us that, while in San Francisco, he inspected an establishment recently started for the cutting and polishing of petrified wood taken from the wonderful forest of petrifactions existing along the line of the Atlantic & Pacific in this territory. The parties engaged in this work state that the petrified wood is rapidly driving California onyx from the market as a material for mantels, etc., as it is susceptible of a much finer polish, and is also more permanent and lasting than that of the onyx. Several companies have already been formed for the purpose of getting possession of portions of the forest by pre-emption" thus promising to further push the manufacture.

BUILDING IN THE NORTHWEST.

In the great centers of population there is always activity or a steady advance in building, but in the Northwest the work of improving is general and not confined to the large cities, although we risk the statement that Minneapolis and St. Paul will rank first in number of buildings erected of any two cities of similar population in the United States. These cities head the list with upwards of 7000 new structures which are followed by every village, town and city in the Northwest, with a general increase of at least 60 per cent., and in many places 100 per cent. It has been estimated that $22,000,000 would be invested in new buildings in St. Paul and Minneapolis during 1884, but from present indications this sum will be exceeded by at least $3,000,000. The features in structural work in the twin cities include everything—large, expensive commercial edifices, factories, retail stores, etc., and residences without number from the $1000 cottage to the $40,000 mansion. Little towns of less than 1000 population are erecting business blocks, dwellings, mills, etc., of no mean proportions or architectural beanty to accommodate the growing trade and increasing tide of immigration, while the older places that may just be called cities, have done more in building during the past year than has been recorded in some of the Eastern cities for five years back. While this cannot be called a prosperous year for building operations, enough has been done to prove that the Northwest has attractions both for the capitalist and the mechanic, and offers inducements for investment and labor found in no other section of the country.—N. THE STATUS OF TRADE—THE MARKET.

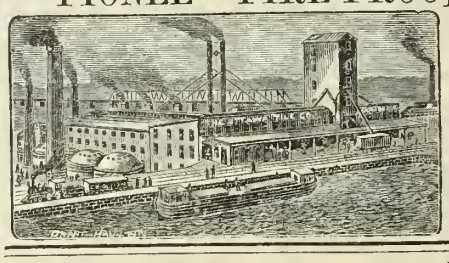
In discussing the subject of the real estate market at the present time, we must look further than the volume of business done and the character of the transactions recorded from day to day. The problem or question cannot be presented in a word or a line, nor can it be well understood by reading a report of important probable transactions that are to be perfected in the future. Sellers as well as buyers dislike this practice among newspapers, and the honorable agent abominates it.

Real estate is more or less affected by the general markets and crop prospects, but at the present time by the yield and low prices of grain and produce. It is a matter of regret to all business men that the results of the election are held in suspense. This state of affairs, if continued, will work a great deal of harm in this, that it will further unsettle prices, It is a pity that nearly all of the telegraph stock in the country should be controlled by one man. To this one great telegraph company is committed all family and business secrets.. It is an indispensible agent for communicating information of all kinds, and in no country in the world but the United States would its absolute control and ownership by one ambitious man be tolerated. There should be a demand from the whole country that the Government take control of the telegraph system. It is a pity that politics can not be divorced from business matters, and that wholesome laws can not be enacted and enforced for the better regulation of trade.

An eastern journal devoted to real estate says: "The depression of industry and the steadily lowering prices is a phenomenon common to the whole world, and is as true of Asiatic trade as of the industries of Europe and America. The products of human labor—nearly everything dealt in by merchants or produced by manufacturers—is cheaper than at any times during the past century. The farmer complains of the price of his small grain; the manufacturer is appalled at the ruinously low figures of the cotton and woolen goods which he offers on the market. There must, therefore, be some general cause at work affecting prices the world over. Tariffs have nothing to do with it, for free trade England and protectionist nations like France and the United States are common sufferers. It cannot be traced to the waste of war nor to a wide-spread pestilence, for we have had no international conflict since the close of the Franco-German contest and the cholera of this past season has been practically confined to one of the poorest nations in Europe, Italy. What, then, is the cause of this steady lowering of prices?"

The writer next proceeds to answer the question in a long-winded disquisition on the "decrease of the money metals and the demonetization of silver and the adoption of the gold unit of value", appealing to the history of past ages to justify his position and finally winds up by establishing the fact to his own satisfaction that "things are cheap enough if the people had the money to buy." His argument is far-fetched but he is near-sighted nevertheless. Tramps and illegitimate speculators would wish a greater abundance of money, but business men think there is sufficient currency to supply the needs of the commercial world. Over production and its concomitant, under-consumption, undoubtedly have something to do with the present and past dullness, but it requires too much space to get at the beginning of this feature of the subject in this article. To stock speculation and its train of evils, together with political excitement and threatened changes in legislation must be attributed much of the bad effects of dull trade. The uncertainty hanging over us in a great degree feigned by those who want to be scared, is a further aggravation.

THE NUMBER OF DEEDS AND MORTGAGES filed for record during this week is nearly double the number for the previous week. Everywhere a marked improvement is noticed—even fifty per cent. better than for the two previous weeks to the election. As will be seen, the transfers are for small amounts and none of the loans are higher than $5,000, and the majority of them for less than $2,000.



Building continues active, by the way of completing work begun during the summer and fall, and there is a marked increase in the number of building permits taken out, but these are likewise for small amounts.

A visit to the rooms of the Real Estate Board revealed nothing of importance, except that a well attended meeting was held on the 5th inst., and the committee on the abatement of certain nuisances reported in favor of petitioning the City Council for an ordinance covering the same.

Some of our agents are scared about threatened "free trade" and predict that real estate will slide backward on a descending scale. The REAL ESTATE JOURNAL does not regard their belief as well founded, and it further knows that much of the property, especially residence, in the city, has been held too high. Capital will not take hold where it must erect four acres of house on two acres of ground to make it pay, as the advocates of flats would have us do. Chicago has too much room horizontally to adopt the veritable sky-scraper of New York.

The Architects.

A final meeting of the Chicago architects was held Monday afternoon to complete arrangements for the convention. The reports of the committees upon reception, programme, etc., were approved, and it was decided that a register should be placed at the architects' headquarters at the Palmer House, where all architects, both of the city and visitors, will be required to register before receiving tickets of admission to the convention. The editor of the Inland Architect and Builder reported that a large number of architects from abroad had signified their intentiou to be present, though there were still a number to hear from. The principal report. by the Reception Committee, was to the effect that a banquet would be given by the Chicago architects to the visitors Thursday evening at the Pacific Hotel. Arrangements have been made to make this an exceptionally pleasant occasion. Several architects from abroad have already arrived, E. H. Taylor and Mr. Merrill of Des Moines being present at the meeting.

REAL ESTATE LAW.

DELIVERY OF DISTRESS WARRANT—LANDLORD NOT LIABLE FOR TORTIOUS TAKING.

The opinion of the Appellate Court, for the First District of Illinois, by Wilson, J., holding that the delivery of a distress warrant to an officer or person, with directions to execute it, does not render the landlord liable for the unauthorized and unapproved acts of the bailiff or his assistants.

THE metallic circulation of the United States is estimated by the Director of the Mint to have been on October 1st about $528.000,000 of gold coin and $257,000,000 of silver coin; of the latter $75,000,000 is fractional. This is a net increase of $13,000,000 in gold coin and $22,000,000 in silver coin during the year. According to the same anthority the money circulation in thirty-nine principal countries of the world, as compared with the circulation a year ago, shows a decrease in gold of $52,000,000, an increase in silver of $42,000,000, and an increase in paper of $112,000,000.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

THE NEW CITY HALL.

The City Council held its first meeting in the new quarters, last Monday evening. The Chamber was decorated with flowers, presented by the Park Commissioners, and present among the spectators were a number of ladies. Commissioner Creiger made a short speech and presented to the Council a black walnut gavel, bearing in the wide silver band encircling it, an inscription, saying that the instrument was made of timber taken from Fort Dearborn and finished by H. H. Hurlbut. Mayor Harrison made a short speech in response. The greater part of the evening was spent in discussing the arrangement of the Aldermens' desks and seats.

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

Make $20.00 for Christmas

The publishers of Rutlege's Monthly offer twelve valuable rewards in their Monthly for December, among which is the following:

We will give $20.00 to the person telling us which is the middle verse of the New Testament Scriptures (not the Revised Edition) by December 10th, 1884. Should two or more correct answers be received, the reward will be divided. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15th, 1884. Persons trying for the reward must send twenty cents in silver (no postage stamps taken) with their answers, for which they will receive the January Monthly, in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in which several more valuable rewards will be offered. Address Rutlege Publishing Company, Easton, Penna.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

THE LUMBER MARKET.

Business at the docks, as usual this time of year, is winding up as far as the market season is coucerned. A considerable amount of lumber is still arriving, but the greater portion is taken directly to the yards. The demand for moderately dry stock has been fairly good, being induced by a heavy southwestern demand at the yards. Large shippers of lumber have been obliged to sort up in order to fill their bills, and there is a tendency to advance prices. The present extraordinary demand from the Southwest, as stated above. is occasioned by the low 5-cent rate, and dealers are able to pay a slight advance in order to pick up what they want out of a meagre fleet. This rush of lumber to the Southwest has caused a set of prices to be made for that particular trade which are below the general market prices. The cut in the rate alluded to is tantamount to $2.50 per M. Owners of yards in Kansas have been straining every nerve to place lumber in them before the roads resume the old or higher rate. The Lumber Journal of Nov. 15 says: "Lumber is going out of the yards at a prodigious rate, and though receipts are still heavy, the receiving season is nearing its close. Yet, when we consider that stocks in yards were, on October 1, about 50,000,000 feet in excess of stocks at a corresponding date last year, and that there is plenty of dry lumber at the mills that can, in an emergency, come forward by rail, there is little chance for any considerable stiffening of prices. If they become tolerably steady, at the present average selling rates, it is all that can be safely expected."

A PLEA FOR WOOD PAVEMENTS.

The system of wood-paving as pursued in England is perhaps as perfect as it can be, for wear and general utility. The ground is well consolidated and formed to a contour by a bed of Portland cement concrete six or nine inches in thickness. This is evenly floated to a curved surface upon which the creosoted blocks are placed transversely in courses, with strips of wood between. The joints are filled in with an asphaltic mixture, and finally they are run in with sand and lias lime, or Portland cement, afterwards covered by shingle or fine gravel for the purpose of indurating the surface. The blocks are thus placed directly upon a hard and unyielding foundation of concrete, which, being rounded, serves to drain off any water which may find its way through the blocks. In one system red wood boards one inch thick are placed upon the foundation, one set crosswise and the other longitudinally, and upon this surface the blocks are set. In another system a bed of asphalt covers the concrete. These systems have all been pronounced good, and are now becoming general in the suburbs of London.

Our own cedar blocks, which we believe had their first test in Chicago, have proven a better pavement for many reasons than anything of the kind heretofore adopted in this country. They are calculated to last from ten to twelve years, for a perfect road-bed, the foundation is impermeable to water by reason of the tightly rammed gravel, the whole upper surface being covered with tar and then overlaid with gravel. This pavement is largely adopted by the cities of the Northwest, and has given universal satifaction, while its cost is much less than that of anything heretofore introduced.—Improvement Record.

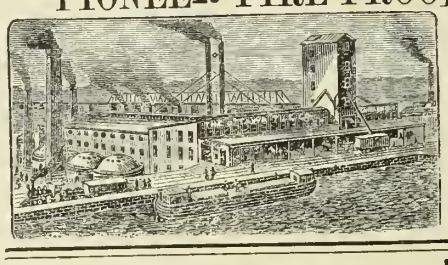
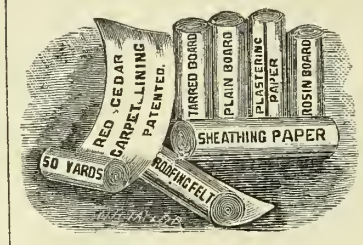
THE

Real Estate and Building Journal



R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Nov. 22 1884.



THE REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL has now completed the eighteenth year of its existence. For ten years or more its columns were devoted strictly to real estate and the publication of the records of Cook county and its editorials on the market were of a "bull" nature. During the last three years at least the tone of its articles on real estate has been conservative, with a constant aim at the truth, and a wider scope has been given to its contents.

The present publisher has constantly endeavored since his connection with the journal, to increase its usefulness and make it a Building paper as well as a Real Estate Journal. Besides those two prominent features the JOURNAL is extensively used as a protection to credit as well as a guide to investment, and on these accounts its circulation extends throughout the eastern States, and, to some extent, in Germany and France. Non-resident capitalists and tax-payers interested in Chicago property, are found in all the States of the Union, and all those who are not regular subscribers receive occasional copies through the mails. Very few journals in the United States are so carefully kept and so generally filed and bound by subscribers. In many offices and business houses in Chicago, as well as in eastern cities, bound volumns of the JOURNAL in book form can be seen; so much so is this the case that it becomes a perfect reference record. Therefore an advertisement in its pages does not disappear in a week or a month but remains to be seen by thousands for years to come. A card published in any of the dailies has but an ephemeral existence, because the paper disappears as soon as read, and in the case of the majority of weeklies and monthlies the rule is the same. The greatest value of the REAL ESTATE JOURNAL consists in preserving it for future reference, after a careful examination of its contents when it first reaches its readers. With the return of activity in business, the JOURNAL promises to take a step forward for the benefit of all concerned.

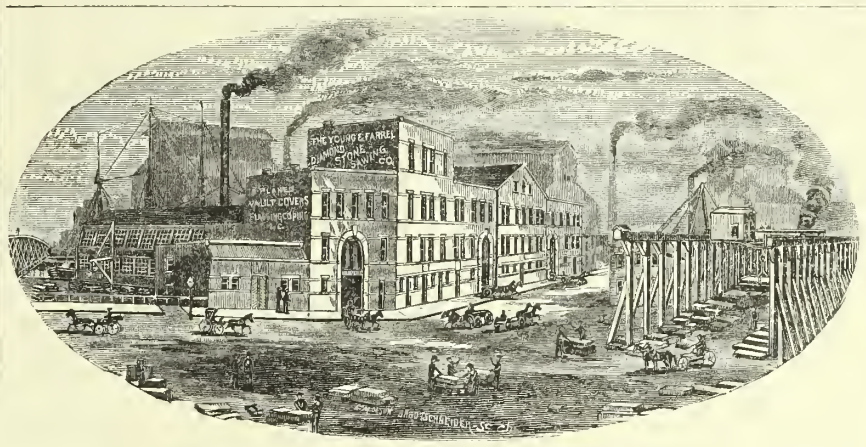
BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

There is an improved feeling in trade circles since the election is over. The New York stock market shows signs of strength, although a little dull with a growing bull sentiment. The same may be said of the New York money market, which also shows strength, and there was on Wednesday an advance of more than one per cent in all gilt-edged speculative stocks. From the same source comes news of a better feeling in the dry goods trades. Confidence is being restored, and there is already a perceptible improvement in business. In Chicago we find less activity in the produce markets which are gaining strength and ruling firm. Considerable quantities of gold are coming from Europe, and the enormous corn crop will soon begin to move. Leading business men both in New York and Chicago have expressed confidence in the security of the government and the future conservative action of Congress. Nothing that that body can do will injure the trade of the country, and if Grover Cleveland should undertake to run things with a high hand after his inauguration—that is if he is a "bad man" with sinister motives, as the Chicago Tribune alleges, he, the said Cleveland, will find that he cannot do much of anything!! Nervous republicans should know and understand that they have a bulwark of safety in the United States Senate. The reader must not infer that our editor has an ax to grind or that he is a democrat, or even a mugwump, for such is not the case. It will matter little to the country whether the same set of men continue in minor offices or a new set of honest men come into place. People of the "Long Jones" stripe are apt to measure others' corn in their half bushel. But the Journal assures its readers that Cleveland will not attempt to appoint irresponsible and desperate men to office, for if we concede no more, we must allow that an incoming democratic administration will have to steer clear of the rocks and barriers which prevented the party ship from coming into port for so many years. The two most dangerous elements in any political party are the fanatics and the barnacles. The former will embroil the country and disturb business, and the latter will filch the public funds. The President-elect must not attempt to satisfy these two elements by throwing "sops" either way. By so doing he will forfeit the respect of the independents who hold the balance of power.



THE REAL ESTATE MARKET

is firm and dull. There are as yet no reports of a decline in values, except in one instance reported by an old settler where a piece of unimproved property was held at $25,000, and sold recently for $20,000, simply on account of a pressing necessity for money by the seller. Owners of residence property stand firm by the prices asked six months ago, and a few good properties have changed hands at such figures within two weeks. The county and city, taken on an average are showing very nearly a normal condition as to prices and number of transactions, but there have been no sales recently for large amounts. This is we understood by the average dealer, who has been "inflicted" by too many theories already. Our reporter learned from one of the mortgage bankers, on Dearborn street, that plenty of capital would be ready to go into Chicago real estate early in the spring unless some uncertainty was brought about by Congress tampering with the tariff laws. R. W. Hyman, Sr., of the firm of R. W. Hyman, Jr., & Co., gave it as his experience that we were having the usual depression which occurs every twenty years, but that Chicago real estate would not be reduced lower than it has been because, although commanding a good price, yet it must be admitted that property here in Chicago is, and has been cheaper than real estate in less pretentious cities, and in many of not half the importance.

Pierce & Ware, and other prominent dealers in real estate, declare that values have not receded in the least, but that business is dull. Mr. James Cairns, with office at 1072 Fulton street, reports from three to five sales per week, in the vicinity of Fulton street and Western avenue, at an average of about $900 a lot. Other outside dealers are doing more or less in the same line of property. Capital will take hold of this class of property much more readily than the gilt-edged sort, which is desirable for the high order of improvements, made by men who can afford to put from $25,000 to $50,000 in a home. Very little or no complaint is heard from owners of business or store property, and the few vacant houses in the city are found mostly in the residence districts of the West Side.

The Chicago and Evanston Railroad.

The decision of the Court in the appeal case of the Chicago & North-western vs. the Chicago & Evanston was filed on last Monday in the Supreme Court, at Ottawa. A trial was held last April before Judge Smith, and the jury awarded the Chicago & Northwestern $20,800 as damages. The road, deeming the amount too small, took an appeal to the Supreme Court. There the judgment of the lower court was reversed on account of certain errors in the trial. This necessitates a re-trial of the case, with a prospect of increased damages to the Northwestern, and will delay the Chicago & Evanston in reachlng the West Side depot.

This case, however, relating as it does simply to the amount of compensation which shall be paid to the Chicago & Northwestern for the property taken from it and the damages inflicted by the crossing of its tracks by those of another corporation, is not as important as the one which has just been given at Mount Vernon in the quo warranto proceedings begun early this year to test the validity of the Council ordinance giving the Chicago & Evanston its right of way into the city—action which caused a great sensation and led to charges of bribery against some of the Aldermen. Soon after the passage of the ordinance by the Council proceedings in quo warranto were begun by Attorney-General McCartney before Judge Shepard for the purpose of testing its validity. Judge Shepard's decision was in favor of the Chicago & Evanston. The case was carried up to the Supreme Court, argued at length, and has now been decided, with the exception of one point, in favor of the Chicago & Evanston. This point is regarding the laying of additional tracks on Hawthorne Avenue. It was claimed in the bill filed by the Attorney-General that the railroad could have no authority to run freight cars on Hawthorne Avenue without the consent of the property-owners representing the necessary number of feet of frontage; nor could additional tracks be laid down for any purpose without the same consent being obtained. Under the old charter of the company and the old permit of the Council it was authorized to lay tracks for passenger use only on Hawthorne Avenue. By the ordinance adopted last year the company was authorized to run freight cars on Hawthorne Avenue, and also to lay down additional tracks. That these two things could be done without the consent of the property-owners was denied by the bill, and the Supreme Court now holds that in that point, and that only, must the quo warranto be sustained. In all other points it finds for the railroad company. Now that the operations of the road are delayed by the necessity of trying the condemnation proceedings over again, it is probable that the Chicago & Evanston will set to work to get the consent of the property-owners and see what it can do to make good this weak point in its case.

Government Lands.

TITLES THREATENED TO MICHIGAN OWNERS.

The owners of Michigan land, purchased on government grants, met in Chicago at the Grand Pacific Hotel on Monday afternoon. The disputed title covers over a million acres of land in the northern Peninsula of the Lake States, and about sixty men took part in the meeting.

The purpose of the meeting and the results of the same are embodied in the following statement:

"In 1856 Congress made a grant of land to Michigan to aid in building two railroads in the Upper Peninsula. One of these grants was vacated by act of Congress and the other was allowed to lapse by failure to construct the road. The roads, by the terms of the grant, were to be built within ten years. Neither of them has ever been constructed. After the ten years had expired and after certain relinquishments of the lands by the governors of Michigan, the local land office at Marquette and the general land office at Washington treated the lands as other public lands and sold them to all comers. Sales were made up to 1880 and aggregated nearly a million of acres. More than half of this amount was patented, while the remainder of the entries are pending in the land office. In 1880 the State undertook to bestow one of the grants on a new railroad company. About the same time the land officers began to doubt their legal authority to make sales. In view of this the purchasers went to Congress at the beginning of this term to get relief. Their bill is still pending.

"It seems now that a few weeks ago the Secretary of the Interior gave a decision which, if applied in its full scope, will cancel all the entries which have not been patented. It would also resnlt in cancelling entries of land all over the country aggregating many millions of acres. The purport of this decision is that lands which have at any time been withdrawn from market by reason of railroad grants can not afterward be sold at $1.25 per acre until they have first been put up at puplic auction. It is claimed that the practice of the land department has been to restore such lands to sale again without public auction, and that vast tracts have thus been restored and subsequently sold. Thus, it is said, the Secretary's decision endangers titles in every State where there have been railroad grants. In view of this decision, and to otherwise prepare for the winter's work in Congress, a large number of the private owners of the Michigan grants referred to have met at the Grand Pacific. The opinion is freely expressed that no government could afford through its officials to take its citizen's money by pretended sales of its public lands and then rob them, under cover of a technicality, of both the lands and the money thus paid."

Fifty or sixty owners were present, and a committee consisting of Col. F. B. Stockbridge, J. H. Van Dyke, A. A. Carpenter, Mr. J. Hubbard, and others was appointed and authorized to take such measures as they may deem best to secure the end sought.

Real Estate Law.

JAMES A. R. SEVELT V. JEHU J. HUNGATE—FILED AT MT. VERNON, SEPTEMBER 27, 1884.

1. EJECTMENT—Evidence showing prima facia case for plaintiff.—On the trial of an action of ejectment, the plaintiff showed, by affidavit, that a certain person was the common source of each party's title, and then introduced in evidence a deed of conveyance from the person so shown to be the common source of title, and rested: Held, that this proof made out a prima facie case for the plaintiff, and entitled him to recover unless a good defense was shown.

2. SAME—Special pleas held improper.—In ejectment the defendant pleaded two special pleas: First, that the defendant held possession from the plaintiff as a tenant from year to year, which tenancy had not been terminated by sixty days' notice prior to the end of the year; and second, that the defendant held the lands by virtue of a written lease from the plaintiff, from March 1, 1883, to March 1, 1884,—the suit having been brought prior to the latter day: Held, that these pleas were wholly improper, as every matter of defense in them was admissible under the general issue, which was also pleaded.

3. LANDLORD AND TENANT—Tenancy from year to year—Notice to terminate.—The owner of land, before bringing his action of ejectment to recover possession, is not bound to give the defendant notice to terminate his tenancy from year to year, unless such defendant holds as the tenant of the plaintiff, or as the tenant of his grantor.

4. SAME—Tenancy from year to year terminated by taking new lease.—If a tenant from year to year accepts a new lease for a definite period, the prior tenancy is terminated; and no notice is necessary to terminate the new tenancy, prior to the end of the term.

5. SAME—Owner not bound by lease of a stranger.—Before alease can be set up by the defendant to defeat an action of ejectment brought by the owner of the land, it must appear that the plaintiff, or his grantee, executing the same was the authorized agent of the plaintiff to lease the property.

JULIUS LANCEY V. ROBERT T. BROCK—FILED AT MT. VERNON, SEPTEMBER 27, 1884.

1. POSSESSION—Of part, under color of title of whole tract.—The visible and exclusive appropriation and use of a part of a tract of land, claiming the whole under the color of title, is in law an actual possession of the entire tract, except so far as there may be adverse possession.

2. This rule only applies where the deed purports to convey the whole. The possession does not extend beyond the color of title, and hence where a deed only purports to convey an interest in land, it is not evidence of possession beyond that interest.

3. Where, it is impossible to say what interest, if any, passes by a deed, the grantee or holder cannot make it available to extend his possession of any part of the premises over the whole.

4. CONVEYANCE—Sufficiency of description.—A deed deseribed the land as "sixty-seven acres, part of claim 1096, survey 117." Survey 117 contained one hundred and thirty-four and a fraction acres. Held that the description was fatally defective, its failing to describe definitely any specific tract; held, also, that it could not convey an undivided half of survey 117 for the reason that an undivided half of the north-west half of the undivided half of a tract of land describes nothing tangible, either in quantity or interest.

5. Possession—To show title to land.—Where possession alone is relied on as evidence of title to a tract of land, it must be an actual, not a constructive, possession. Possession per se is evidence only of the mere fact of present occupation by right, and the facts and collateral circumstances may be looked to as affording evidence whether or not the possessor claimed a fee. Abandoning possession, ceasing to pay any taxes, and allowing others to enter and occupy, will repel any presumption of a claim of a title in fee, and raise a presumption that his claim was less than a fee. and had terminated.

Title—Refused to pay Share of Purchase Money.—Parties to an agreement to purchase property who fail and refuse to advance and pay their proportion of the expenses cannot afterwards ask to be placed in the same position as the purchasers. Appeal of the Fidelity Insurance Trust and Safe Deposit Co., Sup. Ct. Pa., Phila. Leg. Intel., Oct. 3, 1884.

Universal Furnace.

Buchanan's "Universal" Furnace combines the most desirable qualities in a furnace heater. Its points of superiority are many and self-evident when understood. It is very simple and easy accessible to all its parts, so that any one can manage and clean it. It can be varied to any height desired. These furnaces are all made and put up by the inventor, F. Buchanan, 306 Ogden Avenue. Write for further information or circular.

Some very beautiful designs in gas-fixtures can be seen at the warerooms of Mannegold & Holden, 67-69 South Canal street They have the only gas-fixture manufactory in Chicago and so are able to offer special inducements to the trade. They also carry a large line of stove pendants, brackets and fittings &c.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

For more detailed information, see Maps and Folders, which may be obtained, as well as Tickets, at all principal Ticket Offices in the United States and Canada, or of

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

+TIN+SHINGLES+

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

A order was passed to rescind an order to stay proceedings in the opening of Haynes court.

NOV. 21.

An ordidance was passed to perfect the title of a piece of property sold to Frederick Wacker, on July 14, 1875, as follows:

Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of Chicago:

Section 1. Whereas, By an order of the Common Conncil of the city of Chicago, passed April 12, 1875, which order is on file as document 782 of 1874 and 1875, in the office of the City Clerk.

It is ordered, That the City Comptroller be and he is hereby directed to transfer the property lying south of Eugenie st., north of North av., east of La Salle st., and west of North Clark st., to Frederick Walker for $51,000, and

Whereas, The actual bidder for said property was one Frederick Wacker, whose name is a German one, is prononnced similar to Walker in English, and

Whereas, In pursuance of said order, the Mayor of Chicago, City Comptroller and City Clerk, did on July 14th, 1875, execute and deliver a deed of said property to said Frederick Wacker, whose deed is recorded on Angnst 20th, 1875, in the Recorder's Office of Cook Connty, and the agreed price for said property has been paid in full to the City of Chicago, and

Whereas, Some question has been raised as to the validity of said deed owing to the error in spelling of the name of said Wacker in the order of April 12, 1885.

Now, therefore, be it ordained By the City Conncil of the City of Chicago, that said deed be hereby ratified and fully confirmed.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall be in force on and after its passage.

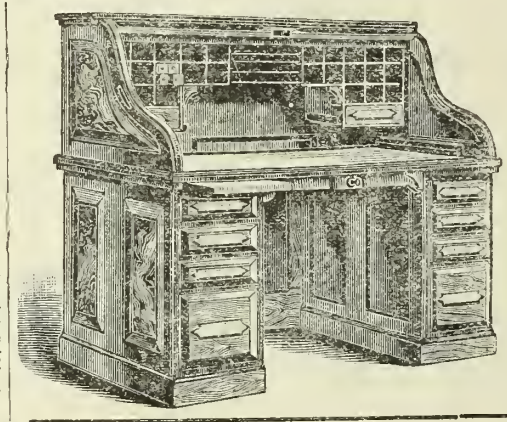
Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.



Old worn ont gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, aud find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repsiring old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

and the saw of the enterprising lumbermen. The beautiful timber lands of Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas are beckoning, with their perennial foliage, the lumber industry from the frigid north, with its hardships and wasting forests, to the clime of genial skies and wealth of uncut timber. Hemlock, cherry, poplar, cedar, oak, white and black, are to be had in great abundance, with the price of land at a very low figure; cheap land is always the foundation of prosperity co-existent with the enterprise of labor and capital, and intelligent labor and capital are now turning toward the south. According to the last census, the amount of capital invested reached over $313,365,000, and the annual product is valued at nearly $500,000,000. The south is growing and offers welcome and wealth to the men who will bring within her borders capital, whether in the shape of money, brawn or brains. But in no direction is there more need of encouragement than in the uncut forests of the south.

The lumber trade at Mobile, Ala., has felt the usual summer dullness, in falling off of orders and drooping prices, especially for Atlantic coast supply. The Mobile lumber trade from September 1 to July 1 foots up 56,582,712 square feet, being an increase of nearly eighteen and a half million square feet over the same period last year. This is all custom-house clearance, and does not include interior shipments by rail or water, which would run the total business for ten months up to 75,000,000 square feet.

An enthusiastic resident of Atlanta, Ga., claims that city to be one of the lumber centers of the south. The recent convention of lumbermen there proposed a schedule for the Atlanta market; no prices were fixed, but lumber was fairly and honestly classificd. In answer to the question, How did Atlanta build up such a lumber trade? the gentleman referred to said: "It was the opening of a western market which caused it. So long as Georgia pine went only to the eastern trade it was controlled by the seaports. By the energy and enterprise of a few men Georgia lumber came into demand into western cities, and they now are taking it in great quantities. Years ago not thirty car loads of Georgia pine were sent from Georgia across the Ohio river, and I have sent nearly 400 car loads myself. This recent action of the saw millers in Georgia and the material men of Atlanta reduces the business to a proper system. At the meeting in October of saw millers in Atlanta a proper scale of prices to fit the new schedule was adopted. Heretofore the business has been taking care of itself, and has had no regulations whatever. It will not be long before we will have sworn inspectors in Atlanta. The great western market is the most promising field for Georgia lumber. Atlanta will and can command it."—Cincinnati Building Review.

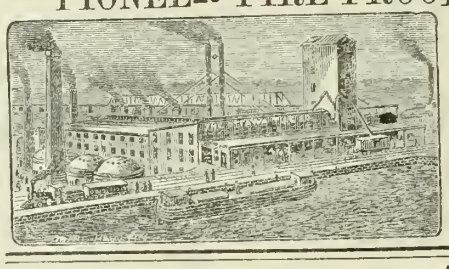
BUSINEWS VIEWS.

A TRIP AMONG THE FARMERS.

The year 1884, which is now fast drawing to a close, will be a memorable year in the commercial and business history of the country. More corn and wheat have been produced than in any previous year, and all products of the farm are in great abundance, as shown by agricultural reports recently published in this journal. The flurry and excitement on the New York Stock Exchange and the Chicago grain and produce markets has long been quieted, and on the former a firmer but duller feeling exists. The day before Thanksgiving the New York stock market was strong and more active than for some time past, the sales being 384,600 shares.

There is more cause for grumbling among farmers than is generally thought of by people doing business in the cities. The enormous crop of wheat has lowered the price so much that the farmers cannot afford to sell, although many are compelled to. The low price of wheat is beginning to have its legitimate effect in the recent reduction in the prices charged by bakers. This is a compensation to working men and women whose wages have been reduced, and to many who have been thrown out of employment. The farmers also find a corresponding benefit in the cheapness of clothing and dry goods. Farmers as a class, however, are prone to find fault. When prices are good they do not raise as much as they calculated upon, and shipping expenses, together with bad roads and high taxes, are frequent causes of complaint. In Southwestern Ohio and in Western Indiana the corn crop was fairly good, the drouth notwithstanding. Very little corn is sold in these localities, but is almost invariably fed to hogs and cattle, which are fatted in great abundance for the Cincinnati and Hamilton markets. Except where there was a scarcity of stock hogs, corn will be "fed up" as usual but in many of the corn-raising districts farmers are now making preparations to haul it off to the still houses or to the railroads for shipment, as present prices are firm and strong at 40@41 cents, with slight variations.

The winter bids fair to be a mild one, but it is hoped that we will have cold enough to makethe "packing season" good at the stock yards,where from ten to twenty thousand men are usually employed at this season of the year at good wages. Farmers who have fat hogs will sell them about the holidays,and by that time, also, a considerable portion of the vast corn crop of the West and Southwest will begin to move in good earnest.



The Chicago Tribune of Nov. 27, in an article on "Cleveland's Election" and its effect on business, says: "While it is the plain duty of the business men of the country to pursue a conservative course, I see no reason for undue anxiety; nor for alarm; the country is going ahead, not backward. The executive control of the government for the next presidential term is to be in the hands of the Democratic party. As true citizens of the republic it is the duty of the hour to do and say nothing that shall hinder the return of business confidence. When the Democratic party begins some effort prejudicial to the business interests of the country it will be soon enough to attack, and if possible, defeat it, but the inclination of some to bewail the inevitable and spread needless alarm and distrist should be discountenanced."

The above contains the sentiments of all fair minded business men, and if the Tribune, and many other influential sheets, had written all they said on the same subject in the same candor and conservatism, the country today would not be halting "and would be going ahead, not backward." One of the chief troubles with the United States is that the country is too free, and too many want office. It is the only country in the world where a "pudding head" can out-run and defeat a man of brains at the polls. In the new and undeveloped condition of our western country we have too many professional men and too few honest laborers seeking to work out a living on the farm; and last, but not least, we have too many false-alarmists who write for newspapers. They consume in such a way as to be of no benefit to the world in the first instance, and in the last mentioned case they will produce nothing themselves and only succeed in driving to idleness those who would continue in their wonted course.

THE MARKET.

Before writing a line on the subject we have asked the opinion of a few of the solid and conservative men in the business of real estate and loans. Mr. Coxe, of the banking firm of E. S. Dreyer & Co., said that he saw nothing in the air or anywhere else to shatter the confidence of real estate owners. As far as the loan market is concerned he said that the demand for loans on real estate was good and active, but that money was cheaper than it had been six months or a year ago. He further said that money was coming out of the boxes, and that people with money were anxious to invest it in first mortgage paper—meaning trust deeds and mortgages. Where money could be loaned for 7% six months or one year ago, the same kind of a loan is now made at 5½ or 6%, and lenders were satified with that. This idea of lower prices is not confined to wheat and stocks, bnt is taking hold of the money lender and the borrower, and the landlord as well as the tenant. Real estate has not been high in Chicago and suburbs, and in but few cases, such as gilt-edged residence property, have prices and rents been so high as to admit of a fall. A gentleman well versed in such matters makes the statement that there is an entire absence of speculation, such as buying a lot or property with a view of selling again at a profit, and that all sales made at this time were for actual use or improvement. This is best understood by assuming that the actual amount of wheat and corn handled on the Board of Trade is small in comparison with the volume of business done. If all specnlation on the Board was stopped, and nothing done except buying and selling bushels of real grain, which would be delivered, we would then have a grain market snch as the real estate market we now have. A conservative feeling has existed since the panic of 1873, and no amount of blowing through the newspapers has had an opposite effect.

The records are running about as usnal for the last month or six weeks. Many of the sales recorded were made in October and even in September, and the transactions pnblished must not be taken as an indication of anything. Thanksgiving day cut short the week's record fully one-sixth. The volume of business done is no less inconsiderable than the amounts involved. A few sales, however, are worthy of notice. On Lumber st, 167½ feet n e of Canal street, an undivided ½ of 125 feet to alley, with undivided ½ of 148½ feet to river opposite above, by James H. Pearson to Silas Q. Perry for $16,250. John T. Dale sold to B. L. Dodge house and lot No. 3537 Prairie avenue for $9000, and 21x80 feet on Clark street, between North avenue and Eugenia street, was sold by C. D. Larrabee to Josephine H. Shea for $10,000, all of which must be considered fair prices for the localities.

Scurrilous Abuse of Public Men—Its Bad Effect on the Public Morals.

No one who is a well-wisher of the community at large, and a law-abiding citizen, will deny the bad effect of bitterly partisan and scurrilous newspaper articles during a political campaign. Young men and boys, who read the criticisms on the private and business relations of James G. Blaine by a partisan press, will no doubt think that if a great man, occupying a high position socially and politically, is able to stand up under such accusations, which are apparently verified by his opponents, they can show disregard for the truth and do just a little stealing and still be respectable. The same may be said of the criticisms on the private character of Cleveland, and the sport made out of it at the time the returns were coming in. We wonder how many will try to imitate Grover in this respect!

A short time ago a young man who claims to be a lawyer, but who in truth is no more than a collecting agent, remarked that "the amount of meanness and dishonesty was so great of late years that one could not trust anybody, not even his best friends," and further remarked that the Irish were a d—d mean race, and that although he was an Irishman he would have nothing to do with them. This same fellow had received favors from this journal, and was employed to do some collecting on a per cent. The way the fellow verified the truth of his statements was to collect a judgment of $19.50, after the costs and fees had all been paid by the plaintiff, kept the matter a secret for more than two months, and then refused to give it up, and has never done so on the grounds, no doubt, that he may as well steal as men in high positions. and that the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL would figure ont the cost of prosecution and find that it wonld be cheaper to let him keep it than to undertake to have him punished. In this last particular he will find that he is mistaken, if he has been able to verify his first proposition. In this day and age, when the public are treated to a fresh scandal in high life by the newspapers every day, is it any wonder that young men go astray? It is the common belief that a man who has a few friends can escape punishment for embezzlement and larceny as bailee in the courts of Cook county, not so much on account of any dishonesty on the part of any official, but because there is a false sentiment abroad in the community. Each day brings forth more of the perfidy and dishonesty of employees or trusted assistants. A lawyer, or an alleged lawyer, who will practice the kind of larceny complained of in this journal in the issue of November 8th should be disbarred, if he is a member of the bar, and sent to the penitentiary for at least two years, as an example to other wrong doers in his line.

Lower Prices and Lower Wages.

The liquidation in wages in our return for all services and labor has fairly begun. In the dry-goods district there will be a general reducing of salaries and many clerks and book-keepers will be thrown ont of employment. For some time past factory operatives have been required not only to accept a smaller compensation but to submit to a reduction of the time in which they are employed. This movement is becoming general. The coming year will see the great army of the unemployed doubled, if not trebled, both in this country and in Europe, whilst those who are retained at work must snbmit to a serious reduction of their former incomes.

But these economies are not confined to the operative classes proper. The railroads are reducing their expenses and the high officials are beginning to feel the pressure as well as the men working on the lines. President King, of the Erie road, not only accepts $25.000 a year in lien of the $40,000 charged by his predecessor, but has announced his intention of cutting down the high salaries which that road has always paid to its unnecessarily large staff of officers. Other roads will be forced, by public opinion and the demands of their stockholders, to reduce the prequisites of their principal officers, as well as the wages of the working force on the lines.

We are not among those who look upon a general reduction of wages to the lowest point as a desirable thing in itself. On the contrary we regard it as an almost unmixed evil. The working class is the great consuming class; when its compensation is cut down to the lowest point every business interest suffers. Individual employers are naturally anxious to get their work done at the lowest possible rate, but a moment's consideration must show them that if the great consuming class is impoverished by inadequate wages or no employment at all, that every business interest receives a vital blow. Let us dwell on this matter for a moment. With our present population there ought to be at least 12,000,000 of wage receivers, men, women and children. Let us suppose that in prosperous times the average income would be $15 per week; but hard times come, production is checked, many are thrown out of employment, there are fewer days of labor, and the sum paid to the working classes then averages say $5 weekly less per capita. This makes $60,000,000 a week, and over $3,000,000,000 in the year. This vast sum is withdrawn from active retail trade in the course of one year, and with what results? Bankruptcies, reduced rents, cutting off of profits, the distress of everyone engaged in all the multifarious employments of life; the rich and the poor alike suffer. Other things being equal high wages mean prosperous times and low wages the opposite, for it should always be remembered that the working classes proper comprise some 94 per cent of the whole community.

But individual employers cannot afford to overlook their own interests, they must reduce wages, or they will be distanced by their competitors. Other employers will take advantage of the situation, but there should be no illusion on this subject. There is a period of distress right ahead of us. Nature has been bountiful, it has given us splendid crops, the warehouses of the world are filled with cheap goods, but the money supply has been cut off, temporarily at least, and all classes save alone those who are wealthy must pass through a period of acute suffering. This will be true not only of this country but of every civilized nation. These views will not be acceptable to sanguine people but it is well sometimes to look at the dark side of things as it has a sobering effect in a community disposed like ours to be over-hopeful.—N. Y. Record and Guide.

Dwellings for the Poor.

The Prince of Wales has been exhibiting his sympathy with a movement having for its object the improvement of the moral, physical and social condition of the working classes in England by opening the new block of buildings erected by the Improved Dwelling company in Soho. Westminister, which are to be named Sandringham buildings, after his country seat in Norfolk, Upwards of $5,000,000 have been already expended on this enterprise in the English metropolis, and accommodation has been thus afforded for close upon 5.000 families, which probably means something like 25,000 men, women and children. Those who know what the ordinary dwellings of the poor in London and its outskirts are, and who have seen the comparatively bright and cheerful, airy, cleanly and well-ventilated blocks of dwellings erected by the trustees of the Peabody fund on the one hand, and by the Improved Industrial Dwellings company on the other, will appreciate the magnitude of the boon conferred upon their occupants by both. In these dwellings drunkenness or other gross conduct is almost unknown, and the sickness and death rate in them is considerably below the general average of London.—London Letter to Brooklyn Eagle.

principles, is that of Slicer v Town of Hyde Park, (Supreme Ct. Vt., 1883, 17 Reporter, 28,) where it appears that after the making of a mortgage on real property, a highway was laid out within the land, and on subsequent foreclosure, the mortgagee sought to have the highway cleared off as a junior incumbrance, unless the town would redeem from the mortgage.

The complainant relied on the fact that the highway was laid out by agreement with the mortgagor and without notice to the mortgagee, so that he received no compensation, and that the farm was worth less than the amount of the mortgage.

The court held that the action could not be maintained as against the town. This decision was put partly on the ground that the statutes of the State provided full remedy for the mortgagee, if his interest in the farm had been taken or impaired unlawfully without notice to him.

JULIUS LANCEY v ROBT. T BROOK—FILED AT MT VERNOM SEPT. 27, 1884.—Possession.—To show title to land.—Where possession alone is relied on as evidence of title to a tract of land, it must be an actual, not a constructive, possession. Possession per se is evidence only of the mere fact of present occupation by right, and the facts and collateral circumstances may be looked to as affording evidence whether or not the possessor claimed a fee. Abandoning possession, ceasing to pay any taxes, and allowing others to enter and occupy, will repel any presumption of a claim of title in fee, and raise a presumption that his claim was less than a fee, and had terminated.

The New York Market.

The market has participated largely in the general dullness that characterized business throughout the States dur'ng the progress of the presidential election, and the excitement subsequent to the closing of the polls; but a more favorable disposition is now manifest, and although this increased activity is not sustained in the recent auction sales, the trausactions at private sales have been more numerous and more favorable to the increased value of property. The comparative autumnal inactivity has been a source of disappointment both to the sellers and the brokers; but this inanimation may be ascribed to the one great cause of com mercial laxity—the disturbing influence of the presidential crisis. Now that this event is concluded and the result accepted by the contending parties, the market will now become more settled, though a large business must not be anticipated until the spring of the coming year.—Insurance and Real Estate Journal.

Mantels, Grates, Art Tiles, Etc.

The arts employed in home decoration receive increased attention with the lapse of time. Each season witnesses the bringing out of tasteful novelties in embellishment and the manufacturer and dealer in these goods finds himself constantly brought face to face with fresh demands from a public whose taste, stimnlated by exercise, longs ever for something new and of greater elegance than what has preceded it. In no branch is this more marked than in the department of interior decoration coming under the head of mantles, grates and art tiles. Among the largest firms in this line of bnsiness is the Butler Company, with office and warerooms at 209 Wabash avenue. They have a very beautiful display in the Permanent Exhibit and Exchange. The Butler Company carry a very beautiful line of marble and wood mantles, grates, fire sets, screens, foreign and domestic tiles, etc. A visit to their warerooms cannot but prove interesting and instructive.

WM HAYDEN, 163 Wabash avenue, is agent for the celebrated Cutter Desks. The entire arrangement of every part is calculated to give the greatest economy of space, and for convenience and comfort to the user, the saving of time and trouble to the business man will soon repay the moderate cost. Whenever they have been exhibited, they have taken the First Prize Medal and Diploma above all competitors, viz:

The International Industrial Exhibition, held at Buffalo, 1873. The Centennial International Exhibition, held at Philadelphi, 1875. Also the Exposition de L Union Centrale des Arts Decoratifs held at Paris, France, 1882.

They have constantly added improvements, and now they have the best made, best finished and most convenient desk in the world.

EDWIN F. GETCHELL is offering for sale some fine property in South Evanston, Douglas Park, Lawndale and Hinsdale. This property is improved and unimproved. Lots in Lawndale and Douglas Park are offered very cheap, and money will be furnished to parties for building. Mr. Getchell has also other property for sale. He buys real estate, pays taxes, negotiates loans and collects rents. Any business given to him will be faithfully and promptly discharged. His office is at room 5, 127 Dearborn street, Chicago.

The Vanderbilt Residences.

I doubt the yarn that was current on the street on Wednesday, that Cornelius Vanderbilt offered to sell his $2,000,000 house for $1,000,000, and was going to the Fifth Avenue Hotel to board, for economy's sake, and that W. K. had already gone to Paris to live. They probably all feel poor, though. It was a folly for Cornelius to put up that gorgeous mansion on Fifth avenue and 57th street. The $50,000 house his doting grandfather gave him on 4th avenue and 33d street was a very comfortable residence, indeed; but when he got hold of that $2,000,000, he went and bought the new and spacious houses on 5th avenue, giving Bigelow $175,000 for one, and $135,000 for the other. They had been begun only two years before, and one was not yet finished; but he levelled them to the ground, every brick, and built his own personal palace there. A prudent man would not have done it. And Mrs. Wm. W. would think her dolls were stuffed with sawdust if she were compelled to quit the residence where she and Lady Mandeville have given such magnificent entertainments—especially that gothic dining room, which inspired her little girl to enquire, at the end of the first week, "Ma, have we always got to eat in the church?"

A Domestic Row.

One morning the Washington Hand Press in a Printing Office suddenly flew its Frisket and called out in a loud voice:

"Hear ye! hear ye! But for me the Banner could not be issued each Week."

"Just hear that!" sneered a Case of Bourgeois over by the Window. "Where would be the Paper but for its Type?"

"And they never Printed a Paper yet without Ink," added the Roller in a Glue-and-Molasses voice.

"Well, I don't want to Appear Egotistical," observed a Bundle of White Paper lying on the floor, "but, if you knew how hard it was for the Editor to raise the Cash to buy me, you'd Imagine I was of some little Account Around here."

"Gentlemen," added the Imposing-Stone in a marble voice, "I don't claim to own all the corner-lots in Town, but if the Chases, Shooting-Stick, Mallet, Quoins, and myself were to go off on a Picnic, I'd like to see the Banner go to press—I would!"

The Gordon Jobber, Box Stove, and several of the Galleys were getting ready to chip in, when the Editor entered and asked the cause of the Row. The matter was explained by the Card Cutter in a Calm and Unbiased manner, and the editor replied:

"Each and every one of you are valued in your Respective Places, and all combined go to help issue the Leading Newspaper of this county—circulation (when a circus agent comes along) 6000 copies. Wood Received on Subscription as Heretofore."

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

NOV. 21.

An ordidance was passed to perfect the title of a piece of property sold to Frederick Wacker, on July 14, 1875, as follows:
Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of Chicago:

Section 1. Whereas, By an order of the Common Conncil of the city of Chicago, passed April 12, 1875, which order is on file as docnment 782 of 1874 and 1875, in the office of the City Clerk.

It is ordered, That the City Comptroller be and he is hereby directed to transfer the property lying south of Eugenie st., north of North av., east of La Salle st., and west of North Clark st., to Frederick Walker for $51,000, and

Whereas, The actual bidder for said property was one Frederick Wacker, whose name is a German one, is prononnced similar to Walker in English, and

Whereas, In pursuance of said order, the Mayor of Chicago, City Comptroller and City Clerk, did on July 14th, 1875, execute and deliver a deed of said property to said Frederick Wacker, whose deed is recorded on Angust 20th, 1875, in the Recorder's Office of Cook County, and the agreed price for said property has been paid in full to the City of Chicago, and

Whereas, Some question has been raised as to the validity of said deed owing to the error in spelling of the name of said Wacker in the order of April 12, 1885.

Now, therefore, be it ordained By the City Council of the City of Chicago, that said deed be hereby ratified and fully confirmed.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall be in force on and after its passage.

Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insnrance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

THE LUMBER MARKET.

"It is an ill wind that blows nobody good." In this seeming depression of trade we have heard of no failure among lumbermen of much consequence in this locality. The condition of the lumber dealer is analagous to the condition of the farmer. In the former case, over-production of lumber necessitated a reduction in prices which has not crippled the dealer but lessened his profits. In the latter the farmer has raised two bushels of almost everything this year to one last year, but has only been compelled to sell at reasonably reduced prices. The lumber dealers of the Northwest have had more competition from the forest regions of Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Arkansas during the last year or two than ever before, but the low freight rates to the West and Southwest made expressly for lumber has enabled our dealers to ship and fill orders at an advantage over Atlanta yards.

The effect of the Southwestern rush has been on the whole good in the trade from Chicago and vicinity. While all have not shipped on the cut rate, nearly all have been benefitted by filling orders for their neighbors—those having yards in Kansas being the heavisest shippers.

The warm and pleasant weather has much to do with keeping up trade in every line of building material. Notwithstanding the present dulness, which is to a great extent "feigned", the local or city trade has been fair among retailers and has extended throughout all cognate interests. If the reduction in wages, produce, lumber and every necessary article of consumption is to be uniform, and just which seems to be the case, what cause have we to cry hard times?

With the superabundance of everything which is so much complained of, we will certainly not be troubled with underconsumption, which is a relative term to over-production; because if we went on consuming in the same ratio in which we are producing, we could not be troubled with either, but we would soon reach a condition of satiety. The sick man's case in this instance is difficult to diagnose. The doctor is called upon to find a remedy which is not laid down in Therapeutics. or worse still he is called upon to find a disease on which Pathology is silent, unless it is "dyspepsia" or "gout". The cheapness of lumber is not due to the fact that less building has been done the last two years than heretofore, but because there is too much lumber and too many different kinds of trees from which lumber is made, and too many rivers by which too many logs are conveyed down to the mills, and too many railroads cutting rates by which a thousand feet of lumber can be shipped a thousand miles for five cents. Now, if the railroads would only reduce the shipping rates on corn, wheat, hogs, etc., to a uniform basis eastward, we would be smothered with flour, meat and lard, and would call in the doctor again, and begin to swear at the Democrats who have not had an opportunity to regain their lost reputation in twenty years.

From all parts of the West come news of activity in building, and if we are to have an open, pleasant winter, the buildiag season will continue to give employment to thousands heretofore idle at this season of the year, and Chicago yards at least will continue to fill orders for city and country customers.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION

After years of "boom" and inflation a period of realization is necessary. A new adjustment must, in the nature of things, be made, and it is useless to try to prevent it. But along with such a readjustment of values and mercantile standards, there is danger of its degenerating into a panic; particularly when political or social questions seem to introduce new elements of disturbance. In all such times it should be remembered that the very utterance of a prophecy tends to its fulfillment. As some epidemics are said to owe their spread more to public fear and despair than to their own virulence, so widespread financial disasters are often due to the fears of men. While about half of the population of this country are very much pleased with the result of the late election, the other part are much disappointed, and many are free to predict all sorts of calamities in the business world. If we assume for a moment that the tendencies of the new government will be as bad as these persons predict, it must be remembered that the upper house of congress is still republican. and as long as that is so no radical changes can be made. But whatever is done or not done, and whatever party is in power, the people of the United States will have to be fed and clothed, provided with shelter and luxuries, and to produce all these the farmer and mechanic and craftsmen of all sorts must be kept at work, and the handling of all these products means trade. Better times are coming; only hold on. Do not be a party in any attempt to frighten the country to death.—Northwestern Lumberman.

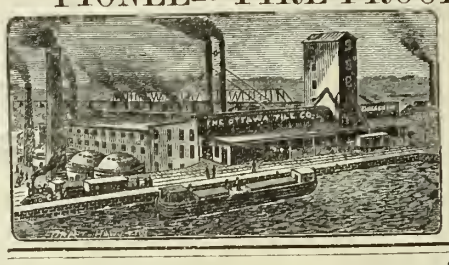
A NEW no 6 Tobey Black Walnut Desk, suitable for store or office, for sale by the Publisher of this JOURNAL. Also other property of a like description. I have taken the above in trade and will sell it cheap.

R. C. SMYRES.

President Arthur in his message calls attention to the fraud of 1876, and the controversy concerning the result of the National election and says "It is of the gravest importance that this question be solved before conflicting claims to the Presidency shall again distract the country " Notwithstanding the fact, the politician is still abroud in the land, undismayed.

Real Estate transfers in chicago & suburbs are on the increase but some of our agents are decamping, and a few cannot meet their expenses. E'e'r long the land tradewill be in responsible hands as the bnsiness drifts that way.

President elect Cleveland contemplates making a visit to chicago. We hope he will and that he will go straight and rub Mr Medill and the Inter Ocean down. Something of a sedative nature is better than to allow nature to work out its course even in mild forms of disease.



The best news from the Recorders office is that no more deeds or mortgages will be suppressed. This will be hard on the fellows who loan without publicity, etc., but it will be as a god send to the business community.

The favorite trick of resorting to a chattle mortgage to save property from anxious creditors was safely & successfully employd by James Wilmott the decamping real estate agent.

As a rule buseness men should not employ an uneducated lawyer to transact any financial buseness for besides murdering the Kings English or their credit his audacity which takes the place of education & Knowledge will cause him to steal the amount of the judgment together with court costs,—— a LaShea collecting agency.

One of the healthiest indications of the Real Estate market at this time is a perceptible increase in the amount or consideration in the deeds, as well as an increase in the number of transactions. Loans are more numerous and the rate of interest charged is not so high as that charged six months ago It will be utterly impossible to scare up a panic in Chicago real estate for the simple fact that we have been as it were on rock bottom since 1873.

THE MARKET.

Already a glimmering light appears from behind the gloom of depression which characterized the traffic in real estate for the past two or three months. The timid mind which is so easily influenced by a temporary eclipse begins now to take courage. Save and except the croakers, real estate agents report a good inquiry and the records show a decided improvement in the number and importance of transfers. For instance, the sale on Talman avenue near North avenue, 225x125 fect, with improvements, sold for $36,000; and on Paulina street, corner 48th street, 25 acres together with 15 lots in same subdivision, were sold for $35,765; also on same street near 50th street, the same 15 lots were transfered by the purchaser to B. F. Jacobs, for $13,000, full particulars of which can be seen by consulting the columns of deeds. The outlook is therefore better than it has been for the past three or four weeks, which were the dullest since the dark days of 1873-74 and 75, caused by the presidential election mainly.

The temporary distress—or to put it more mildly, the depression among working people and manufacturers, is to some extent compensated for by the cheaper cost of living and the reduced price of material.

The almost universal opinion of the Real Estate and Loan fraternity is that we are to have an active trade in houses and lots as well as renewed activity in building in the early spring, on account of the abundance of the past year's crops and the plentiful supply of loanable funds at low rates.

REAL-ESTATE MEN.

PUSHING THE MOVEMENT AGAINST "LIVERY-STABLE" BLACKMAIL.

At the meeting of the Real-Estate Board on Wednesday, the matter of the erection of livery-stables and blacksmith-shops in residence neighborhoods was again taken up, E. A. Cummings presenting a minority report in which he gave the draft of an ordinance designed to reach the desired end. It provided that no livery-stable, blacksmith shop, or foundry should be hereafter erected, or any building now built be used for these purposes without the consent of a majority of the property-owners on both sides of the street for 300 feet eech way, counting from the centre line of the building. It was said this would not unduly discriminate against any locality. In support of his report Mr. Cummings gave instances where the value of residence property had greatly deteriorated in consequence of the erection of livery-stables or blacksmith-shops in the neighborhood. North Clark street, near Washington Park, Madison street, near Seeley avenue, Forest avenue, near Thirty-first street, Jackson street, near Robey, and several other instances, proved, he said, there ought to be some protection for property-owners against persons systematically engaged in buying property and then threatening to build upon it these objectionable places for the purpose of selling out at an advance to the neighbors. Many residence neighborhoods had been injured because the money was not raised to pay this blackmail, a shop or a stable being erected in spite work. He thought it was the duty of real estate men to protect their property from these plague-spots. The ordinances come within the powers expressly granted to the City Council by the charter.

William L. Pierce said the city law department was in harmony with the movement.

After a general debate, in which a good deal of feeling was shown against the speculators in livery-stables, the substitute was adopted, and E. A. Cummings, A. L. Coe and Bryan Lathrop appointed a committee to draft an ordinance.

The Committee on Telegraph and Telephone Lines advised property-owners to make leases with the companies so as not to alienate their rights in the prolonged possession of their roofs by the wires.

As the annual meeting of the board is close at hand, J. L. Lombard, W. W. Baird and M. R. Barnard were appointed a committee to nominate officers, and W. L. Pierce, H. L. Turnigold, W. A. Merigold, H. S. Turner, James M. Marshall and R. C. Givens a committee on the banquet.

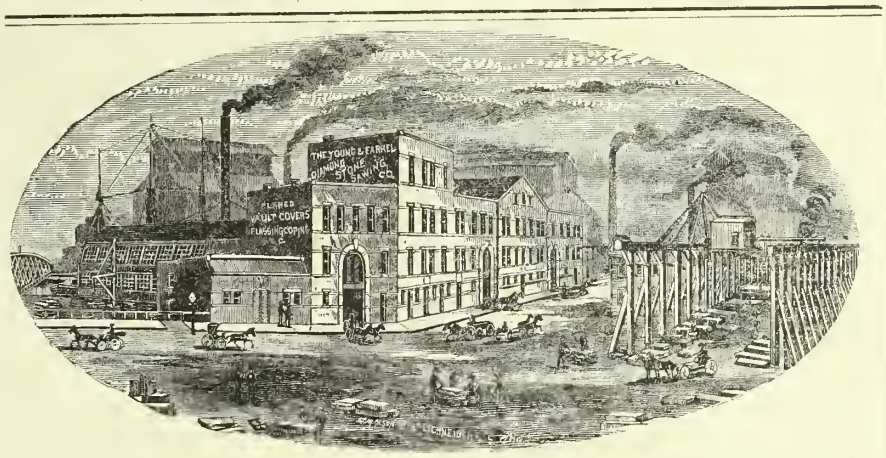
HOW TO GET RICH FAST, GO SLOW.



From the House and Lot Monthly.

The two great questions of the day are: "How we shall become rich, and how fast can we become rich?" The average Chicagoan does not believe that the only sure way is to go slow and take it very easy. Attend to business promptly and honestly, pay no attention whatever to accumulating money, for when you have your business promptly arranged, and the right men in the right place, and you attend to it and nurse it, and run it in a quiet, reasonable, and common sense manner, the money will come all right; and if you don't do this you can sit up all night, work yourself to death, run into debt, impetuously rush around all day and scold your employees and boss things about, and find fault with every one and raise all the disturbance and noise you can, and advertise yourself poor, and go into all sorts of schemes and expenses, and jump and kick and fret and fume until you are a mass of nervous misery, and in ten years, or twenty years you will not be worth one cent more than when you started, or perhaps not half so much. And the sooner the man discovers this and changes his tactics the better.

Do you know that there are a thousand men in Chicago to-day that have never done anything to accumulate money but by day's work—manual labor? Many who have never earned but $2.00 per day, but have supported a family and are now worth $25,000 to $50,000. How can this be possible? They commenced saving a little, buying a piece of property, saving a little more, buying another, and so on. Nothing accumulates so fast as riches when you can once save money, and get on the right side. These men have never speculated. They had no faith in reckless schemes. They didn't know anything but work and save, and they have become rich fast on $2.00 per day. Now many others have had $50.00 per day, have had chance after chance, and they wanted to get rich fast. Ten years have passed, twenty, thirty, forty, but they have not become rich. Old age is after them, their hair is turning gray and they are worn out. Their time is past. It is, alas, too late. They have been trying to get rich fast for forty years, but to-day they are entirely worthless in every way. health, spirits, and of pocket. Therefore, verily, the true way to get rich fast, is to get rich slow. Don't buy anything you don't want, and it is going to strain you to pay for—lots, houses, horses, clothes. Don't go into any scheme that looks big and full of money. Just attend to your business properly, and don't feel that you are losing time and money by going along quietly. Good real estate, bought, paid for and improved, will help a man to earn money faster and safer than any other commodity, and if you will count all the men and women in Chicago to-day who have become well off, you will find that ninety-five out of every one hundred have saved and made their money out of real estate.

Not by going in head over heels in debt for real estate, but by saving a little money this year and a little the next, buying a little piece and paying for it, buying another and paying for it, building a house on it when you have the money, and so on. Go slow! Go slow!! Go slow!!! for by going slow you are going as fast as it is possible, for it is not the natural order of things that you should make a fortune in one year or ten years. It takes time and patience. Remember that many of the very rich men of the country made their money after they were 40 years of age, and settled down to the slow method. They tried the swift way till they got tired of it. They made and lost fortune after fortune in being in a great hurry, and then they stopped, considered the matter all over and decided to take a different course, and then they struck it and became wealthy.

BUILDING MATERIAL.

LUMBER, LATH, SHINGLES, SASH, DOORS, BLINDS AND MOULDINGS.

Messrs. J. H. Pearson & Co., Canal and Lumber Streets, Chicago, are among the best known lumber merchants in the city, doing a large trade in lumber, lath, shingles, sash, doors, blinds, mouldings, etc., at prices which are as low as those asked by any other first-class and respectable manufacturers in their line. They possess unsurpassed facilities, and have attained during their business career, a high position among the influential and reliable commercial men identified with this important business. The convenient location of the yards and mills, and their great advantages in selecting and obtaining supplies of the best growth, have secured them an enviable reputation with the trade. They are always prepared to meet any demand, and they offer every inducement, and possess a stock that is second to none either in quality or reasonable price.

As THE REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL is read by leading architects, builders, contractors and property owners in and outside the city, it is with pleasure we call their attention to these facts, feeling convinced that all orders will be executed in the most satisfactory manner. Give them a call and verify the truth of our statement.

F. Buchanan, Dealer in General Hardware, Furnaces, Etc.

Buchanan's Universal Furnace has some excellent points worthy of notice. Its dampers are conveniently arranged, and its flues and air passages are so proportioned as to give as pure a heated atmosphere as is possible to obtain. Chief among its points of superiority are its simplicity and conformity to the laws of heat. It combines the result of years of experience of a practical furnaceman of acknowledged ability, and takes the field on its merits alone.

Mr. Buchanan has had years of experience in putting in Hot Air Pipe into ceilings, partitions, etc., to convey hot air to upper chambers. Call and examine these points at their store, 306 Ogden avenue.

Why Roofs Leak.

The numerous causes assigned for leaky roofs have often been discussed, and many theories advanced. The Builder writing on this subject advances the following: "There are many reasons besides carelessness and dishonesty why roofs sometimes fail to keep the house dry, ice dams in winter being among the most common. Not those tremendous barricades that are found across deep gorges, when rivers, swollen by the coming life of Spring, burst their prison walls and build their fragments into "jams" that no human power can manage; nor yet the possible achievements in the polar regions where everything, from burning glasses and graven images to bridges and palaces, is made of frozen water, but the insidious, unmanageable, destructive and wrath provoking parasites that form on the roof of houses and send the melting snow and ice down through the lath, plaster, fresco, paint, paper, carpets and draperies of the interior into the cellar, instead of allowing it to run peacefully to the eaves of the building and fall to the ground as it ought.

In practice we find that when a roof is of such a form that snow will lodge upon it, it not infrequently happens that it will melt in the upper portions but freeze again before it reaches the eaves. This may be owing to more direct exposure to the sun's rays, or it may be because the roof is warmed through from the inside. Whatever the cause, if the water from the melting snow does not fall to the ground before it congeals, it lays the foundation of an ice dam between, above and below the shingles or slates that allows nothing to pass through it, a dam that will rise steadily, provided the supply of material is sufficient, until it finds an outlet for the water behind it, up stream; that is, through the roof. If this back outlet happens to be on that part of the roof that projects beyond the main walls, the principal damage done, beyond the fracturing of slates, is the soaking of the wood work composing the cornice, whereby it is disfigured and brought to premature decay. If the dam is above the line of the outer wall, the damage to the interior can only be expressed by the symbol of an unknown quantity with a decidedly positive sign. It may be even beyond the eaves, in the gutter which it simply causes to overflow, forming big icicles that will, if possible, pull the gutter and all to the ground. If it is beyond the gutter in the conductor it will do its best to burst them, and its second best is fully competent for that. Reasonable care as to their shape in the construction of the roofs and thoroughness in all material and workmanship, will diminish to the minimum the danger of ice dams from snow melted by the sun, but when a portion of the roof is so much affected by the interior warmth as to cause the snow to melt as it falls, even in freezing weather, all postible care in laying the slate or fitting the flashings may prove unavailing. Weather of the right sort is sure to bring down the calamity. Protection agaihst this must lie below the slate. The roof must be built in such relation to the warm rooms below that none of the internal heat can affect the surface on whlch the snow rests. This can be done by proper ventilation between the roof and the chambers underneath by a double roof or by linings of asbestos, mineral wool, or other non-conducting material.

Of course there is an indefinite waste of fuel when the fire that warms the house melts the snow out of doors, hence there will be economy in this thermal isolation of the roof from the interior. A second result scarcely less desirable, will be greater coolness of the chambers in hot weather.

Real Estate Law.

OPINION FILED NOV 17, 1884.—MARY C DOBBINS et al., v. FIRST NAT. BANK OF PEORIA.—APPEAL FROM SECOND DISTRICT.—REAL ESTATE—LIEN OF JUDGEMENT AND EXECUTION—STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS—ACTS OF 1845 AND 1872 CONSTRUED—SAVING CLAUSE.

1. Limitations—Act of 1845.—That under this statute a levy of an execution upon the lands of a defendant, made within seven years, does not extend the lien upon the land beyond the seven years, and that a purchaser at a sale made under such levy, but after the seven years, takes the property subject to the right of intervening purchasers and incumbrances.

2. Act of 1872.—That sections 1 and 6 of the act of 1872, must be construed together. That it was the intention of the Legislature to so change the law that where a levy is made within seven years, from the date of the judgement, a sale of the land may be made within one year after the end of the seven years, upon a venditio rei exponas, with a same effect as if the sale had been made within the seven years. That the new statute covers the whole subject and was intended to take the place of the old.

3. Under the Old and the New.—Under the old statute, the judgement did not become a lien at all, unless an execution was issued within one year, but when issued within a year, the lien was created, and related back to the end of the term at which the judgment was rendered. By the new statute, the judgment becomes a lien from the day on which it is rendered (except as against other judgments rendered at the same term.) Before the passage of the new statute, an execution was not a lien at all, and after a year and a day, if no execution had been issued, none could lawfully issue. By the new statute, where no execution is issued within one year from the entry of judgment, the same ceases to be a lien; still an execution may be sued out at any time within seven years, and in such case the execution becomes a lien upon land from the time it is delivered to the officer to be executed; and if such execution is levied within the seven years, the land may be sold under it within one year after the expiration of the seven years.

4. Ex Post Facto Law.—That the Legislature has no power to pass an ex post facto law, but it has the right to change the limitation laws of the state with respect to existing or antecedent causes of action; subject to the qualification the new or amended law must afford ample opportunity to enforce them by suit within the new limitation, for if it should not, it would in effect be to deprive those having such existing or antecedent causes of action, of vested rights, under the pretense of a change of the limitation laws, which could not be done. That the effect of the saving clause in the act of 1872 was to continue in force the old law as to all cases where suits had been actually commenced.—Ed. Chicago Legal News.

JOSEPH J. BENTLEY et al., v. WILLIAM O'BRYAN et al.—Filed at Springfield, September 27, 1884.

1. EVIDENCE—Judgment on distress for rent for defendant to disprove tenancy.—A judgment in favor of the defendant in a proceeding by distress, on a plea simply denying indebtedness for rent, but not putting in issue the fact of a demise, is not admissible in evidence in another suit to disprove there was any tenancy between the parties.

2. FORMER ADJUDICATION—No bar as to matter not made an issue.—To a distress warrant the defendant pleaded that he was not indebted in manner and form as alleged in said warrant, upon which issue was taken, but filed no plea denying the demise. A verdict and judgment were given for the defendant: Held, that the verdict and judgment did not estop the plaintiff in another suit from asserting that the defendant was his tenant.

3. MORTGAGE—Presumption that a deed is not a Mortgage.—Where a deed for land on its face appears to be an absolute and unconditional conveyance and ackuowledged and delivered, the law will presume, in the absence of proof showing the contrary, that it is what it purports to be, an absolute conveyance.

4. SAME—Burden of proof on question whether a deed is or not a mortgage.—Where a warranty deed for land, absolute on its face, is claimed to be a mortgage only, the party alleging such a character must sustain his claim by evidence sufficiently clear and satisfactory to overcome the presumption of law that it is an absolute conveyance. Loose, indefinite and unsatisfactory evidence will not suffice.

5. ADMISSIONS—Of grantor after conveying, as against grantee.—The admissions and declarations of a grantor of land, made when the grantee is not present, can not be admitted in evidence to invalidate his deed or to affect his grantee.

FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE—Mortgage Composition with Creditors.—H was hopelessly insolvent, and July 21, 1880, he executed a mortgage of all his real estate in Vermont, where his creditors were, including his homestead, to V for $15,000. This mortgage was recorded August 2, 1880. The consideration (money) was paid to the brother of H at Aurora, Ill., in October, 1880. July 27, 1880, H started a composition with his creditors, in which he agreed to pay 35 cents on the dollar, and it was declared therein that he might have four months within which to sell or dispose of his property, stock and effects, "for and toward the payment and satisfaction of the composition of the debts, claims, or demands of us and every one of us." There was no provision that all the creditors should sign, and some of them did not come in. H did not carry out the composition deed with those who signed, but paid only a small part of the percentage fixed, and fled to Canada with money received from V. Among the creditors who signed the composition deed was V, and he knew the declared purpose of H in making the mortgage to him—to pay his creditors the agreed 35 cents—but he made no provisions for the application of the money lent to the payment of this percentage. In a suit to forclose the mortgage the creditors—those who signed the composition deed and those who did not—attacked the validity of the mortgage, setting up that it was fraudulent as to them. The United States Circuit Court for the District of Vermont in deciding the case—Voluntine vs Hurd—held the mortgage was fradulent as claimed. Judge Wheeler, in the opinion, said: "That the mortgagor intended, when he received the money, to take it beyond the reach of his creditors if the composition failed, is apparent. There is no evidence that V knew of his purpose, but he was fully aware that placing the money in his hands without safeguard would enable him to avoid his creditors if he would. As to the creditors who signed the composition deed, and as to those who did not sign it, the case stands differently. Those who agreed to take 35 cents can have only that percentage of their claims—not that the statute of Vermont requires all the creditors to sign to make the deed binding, but that the agreement here is a separate agreement with each creditor, it not being contemplated that it should be a joint agreement between debtor and all the creditors which would bind them also to each other. The creditors who did not sign the deed will be entitled to a perceutage upon their full claim.

CHATTEL MORTGAGES.

DEATH OF MORTGAGEOR—GUARANTY BETWEEN MORTGAGEORS.

S gave a chattel mortgage to M, and four days later he gave a second mortgage to J. The first mortgage was not recorded until after S's death, and the second mortgage was not recorded at all. The administrator and the creditors of S claimed the property as against M. and J asked that his debt be satisfied before the claim of Mrs. S, to whom M had assigned his mortgage, which had been given to secure a loan made to her husband, on the ground that she had promised to see his debt paid. She had sent to J, who had demanded the payment of his debt before the death of S, this letter: "Dear Sir: Mr. Sanders is too sick to attend to business, and I wish to say that I will be responsible for whatever he owes you or the El Paso County Bank, and see that the same is paid. In the suits for foreclosing these mortgages, brought in the United States Circuit Court for the District of Colorado, Judge Hallett and Judge Brewer, in deciding the case, said: "(1) The mortgage was good against the deceased, and therefore was good against his administrator and his creditors. (2.) In this action, which is in equity, Mr. Sanders must give way to J, the second mortgagee. Having written this letter, with the promise therein contained, he cannot now be permitted to repudiate it. It is always to be presumed that one making a promise like this to pay an indebtedness knows all that is included in that promise."

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF

WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

Building Brevities.

The building which is to be built for the Panorama of the Battle of Shiloh is to be fire proof, and will be in readiness for the picture by the first of next June. The company has been organized with a cash capital of $150,000. Gen. H. H. Thomas, Capt. A. T. Andreas, Maj. Geo. E. Mason, R. W. McCloughry and A. J. Marble are the directors. The picture when completed will represent the battle as it appeared to an observer at 2:30 P. M, on the second day of the battle.

The tenth story above the basement of the Chicago Opera House has been reached, and the last course of brick has been laid. The copper roof is now being put on. The structure will be under roof by Dec. 20.

Between Cottage Grove Avenue and Drexel Boulevard and the tracks of the U. S. Y. & T. Co. and Clinton Avenue, ground has been broken for a series of improvements. The property was recently purchased by C. R. Steele, Esq., and Bowen avenue and Forty-second street have been opened up through the block, water, gas and sewer pipes laid, and pavements and stone sidewalks are being put down. Fifty houses are to be built fronting on Bowen avenue, Forty-second street and Drexel boulevard. Contracts for ten of these have been let and the foundations are already well advanced. Two of these ten, 24x70 feet in size each, and 3 stories and basement in height, will front on Drexel boulevard, north of Bowen avenue. They will be of rock-faced brown stone up to the second floor, with the superstructure of pressed brick and terra cotta and slate. Two more will occupy the corner of the thoroughfares last named, fronting one on each. These will be 24x43 feet each in size, three stories and a basement in height, and will have tasteful fronts of pressed brick and terra-cotta. The fifth, fronting north on Bowen avenue, near Drexel boulevard, will be 30x40 feet in dimensions, a basement and three stories high, and in the colonial style of architecture, with the first story of rock-faced stone and red brick and slate above. Another will face north on Forty-second street, near Cottage Grove avenue, and will be two stories, basement and attic high and 25x45 feet in size. It will have a richly carved stone front. Opposite the last named structure and facing it will be erected a fancy red-brick house with bent plate glass front, two stories high with a basement. Facing north on Bowen avenue, near Cottage Grove, will be two 2 story and basement red-brick houses, 22x50 feet each in extent, while the tenth house, a modern Gothic one, of pressed brick, 25x43 feet in size, will front north on Bowen avenue,

Cary's
Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

CHATTEL MORTGAGES.

DEATH OF MORTGAGEOR—GUARANTY BETWEEN MORTGAGEORS.

S gave a chattel mortgage to M, and four days later he gave a second mortgage to J. The first mortgage was not recorded until after S's death, and the second mortgage was not recorded at all. The administrator and the creditors of S claimed the property as against M, and J asked that his debt be satisfied before the claim of Mrs. S, to whom M had assigned his mortgage, which had been given to secure a loan made to her husband, on the ground that she had promised to see his debt paid. She had sent to J, who had demanded the payment of his debt before the death of S, this letter: "Dear Sir: Mr. Sanders is too sick to attend to business, and I wish to say that I will be responsible for whatever he owes you or the El Paso County Bank, and see that the same is paid. In the suits for foreclosing these mortgages, brought in the United States Circuit Court for the District of Colorado, Judge Hallett and Judge Brewer, in deciding the case, said: "(1) The mortgage was good against the deceased, and therefore was good against his administrator and his creditors. (2.) In this action, which is in equity, Mr. Sanders must give way to J, the second mortgagee. Having written this letter, with the promise therein contained, he cannot now be permitted to repudiate it. It is always to be presumed that one making a promise like this to pay an indebtedness knows all that is included in that promise."

MAN'S ORGANISM

Is the most complex work of the Creator, and when this complicated structure, so exquisitely wrought, is disturbed by disease, the most efficient aid shou'd be sought from the most skilled physician—for the human body is too precious to be neglected. It becomes the question, then: "What physician shall he employed?"

Dr. OSCAR JOHANNESEN, of the University of Berlin, Germany, has made a life long study of ailments of the Nervous and Genito-Urinary System.

His Remedies Cure

any Debility or Derangement of the Nervous System including Spermatthorea, Gonorrhea, Syphilis, Stricture, Impotence, etc., etc.

BECAUSE you may have been cheated and fooled by QUACKS, who claim to cure this class of disorders, do not hositate to give Dr. JOHANNESEN'S method a fair trial before your case becomes chronic and incurable.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

THE LUMBER MARKET.

The market in hardwood lumber has been much better this month than during November. The late Fall and the thus far open Winter have kept building material moving, and manufacturers are inclined to put up the price of lumber. Manufacturers are even now quoting higher prices for green hickory lumber than were asked for dry hickory a week ago. Messrs. Holbrook & Co., extensive dealers in hardwood lumber, are satisfied that present prices will be firmly maintained, with a possibility of a moderate advance. They also predict a brisk trade during the Winter and a "boom" at the opening of Spring. There is plenty of lumber offered, but the tendency is to ask higher rates. By refereuce to the following retail price list it will be noted that there has been a slight advance in maple, oak, (white and red) and oak quarter sawed. On other grades the prices are firmly maintained. A visit to a large number of lumber yards shows that there is a much better feeling both among buyers and dealers, and while the season of building has practically drawn to an end for the year 1884, the outlook for the future is exceedingly encouraging.

At the docks the quotations are as follows:

BUILDING MATERIALS.

The demand for Mason's material during the present week has been light, yet prices have been generally maintained, while there has been quite an upward movement in common and pressed brick. Manufacturers of cut stone are receiving few large orders, but are busy in filling present contracts. Messrs. Young & Farrell Diamond Stone Cutting Co. are driving their machinery eighteen hours out of the twenty-four to fill present orders, and they expect a brisk trade up to the New Year. The market for lime, cement, hair and stucco is dull, and prices remain practically the same.

The Lime Manufacturers.

A meeting of lime manufacturers of the Northwest was held at the Sherman House, Wednesday, Dec. 10, for the purpose of forming a regular organization, and discussing the question of establishing uniform prices, the business having been somewhat unsatisfactory, financially, of late. About thirty firms were represented, and a temporary organization was formed, J. Drencher, of Chicago, being elected President and F. A. Heath, of Chicago, Secretary. A number of firms were not represented, and for this reason nothing definite was done. These firms will be conferred with, and then a general meeting will be called by the temporary officers already chosen.

THE

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

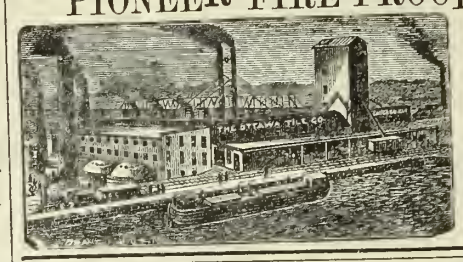
CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Dec 13. 1884.

A NEW no 6 Tobey Black Walnut Desk, suitable for store or office, for sale by the Publisher of this JOURNAL. Also other property of a like description. I have taken the above in trade and will sell it cheap.

R. C. SMYERS.

IN an interview with Mr. R. W. Hyman, of the firm of R. W. Hyman, Jr. & Co., as published in the JOURNAL of Nov. 22, our reporter misquoted the gentleman as saying that "we were now experiencing the depression which comes upon the country every twenty years, &c." Mr. Hyman said that we had, between panics every twenty years, an intermediate or semi-panic, as in the present depressed condition of trade—just about ten years since the crash of 1873 and 1874. Our reporter did not intend to misquote the gentleman, and we make this explanation to set him right before the public.

THE combined action of the Citizen's League, Iroquis Club and the Federal authorities ought to be effective in reducing the cheek of Joseph Chesterfield Mackin, and bringing the ballot box stuffers to justice. The professional politician must go!



THE "boom" started by the big dailies in the Board of Trade District, last Sunday, does not boom much after all. The facts are better than news, partly suppressed, at the request of the informant.

THE Secretary of the Real Estate Board has received numerous letters offering encouragement, and expressing sympathy with the Revenue Reform movement inauguration by that body.

THE committee appointed by the Real Estate Board to arrange the details of the Annual Banquet have not yet reported. The first one was a success, and it is hoped the next one will not fall short of its predecessor.

LAST week's operations of the mills at Minneapolis were the heaviest on record, reaching nearly 26,000 barrels a day. The flour production is shown by official figures to have been 152,800 barrels—an average of 25,433 a day—against 94,710 barrels in the preceding week. When the fact is taken into consideration that a number of the mills lost time ranging from two or three hours to two days, while a 500-barrel mill was shut down entirely, the showing is remarkable. The mills, as a rule, are being run strong this week, but with not quite as much power as a few of them could use, and the output of flour is likely to fall off to some extent. Although there is a tendency on the part of a few, in the face of the present weak condition of the flour market, to ease off operations and make needed repairs in their mills, the majority are inclined to crowd out the last barrel possible.

THE REAL-ESTATE MARKET.

Outside of attending to a few inquiries for real estate and the care and management of property, the well-to-do agent has nothing to do but to close up his books for the year. All, however, are turning their attention to the preparation of plans for the future Spring trade, which is regarded as hopeful. The loan market has loomed up during the last week, and a large amount of the business is being transacted by the Building and Loan Societies. Rates are said to be getting better. As usual this time of the year chattel mortgages are becoming numerous even among printing houses and small dealers. There has been no depreciation reported in Cook county realty, and but little else where. The most discouraging feature to be noticed at this time in Chicago, is the meagre sales recorded. A sale for $25,000 on Madison street, s. w. cor. Fifth avenue, and on Thirteenth street near Indiana avenue, for $15,000, Dec 4th and 6th, show that prices are being maintained. The sale reported a week ago for 175,000 on Van Buren street, corner of Clark, by Kent to Brooks, is recorded in this issue of the JOURNAL in its proper place, and will tend to substantiate the above statement that Chicago realty is holding its own in values. Sales beyond the seven mile radius in the country are quite numerous, but meagre in amounts. Building permits have dwindled down to almost nothing, but the work of completing new buildings is decidedly brisk on account of the favorable weather.

The Produce Markets.

The prices of farm products as reported on Wednesday, Dec. 10, by the Department of Agriculture at Washington, shows a tendency to a general decline. This showing will exert a depressing influence, in addition to over-production or abundant supply.

The average price of corn is 36½ cents, one cent lower than the average for 1879, when the supply in proportion to the population was quite as large. It has been lower but twice in ten years, in 1877 and 1878, after the two previous years of abundance. It is highest in Florida, 80 cents per bushel, and the lowest prices are 18 cents in Nebraska, Kansas 22, Iowa 23, Missouri 26, Illinois and Minnesota 31, Indiana and Wisconsin 34, Michigan 40, Ohio 41, Kentucky 43. It is 52 in Pennsylvania, 54 in New Jersey and 60 in New York. The range of values in the South Atlantic States is from 36 in Delaware to 72 in South Carolina and 80 in Florida, increasing in the order of movement, except that Georgia reports 66 cents. It is 45 in Tennessee, 54 in Arkansas, 61 in Alabama, 62 in Mississippi and Texas, and 67 in Louisiana.

The average farm price of wheat is 65 cents per bushel against 91 cents last December. The December price in thirteen years has previously been below $1 per bushel but five times, in 1874, 1878, 1880, 1882 and 1883. The average in Nebraska is 42 cents, 45 in Kansas, 46 in Dakota, 50 in Minnesota, 55 in Iowa, 62 in Missouri, 63 in Illinois, 67 in Indiana, 74 in Michigan and 75 in Ohio. The average home-grown wheat in New England exceeds $1. In New York it is 85 cents, Pennsylvania 86, 80 in Virginia and 83 in Maryland.

The average value of oats is 28 cents, against 33 last December, and 37½ in 1882. The present value is the lowest ever reported by the department. The lowest State average is 19 cents in Nebrasda, the highest 60 in Florida; Iowa and Minnesota 20 cents, Kansas 22, Illinois 23, Indiana 27 and Ohio 29. The range is from 42 to 60.

In the South the plantation price of cotton as reported, ranges from 9 to 9⅓ cents per pound. It is 9 in Tennessee, Arkansas and Texas, 9.1 cents in Louisiana, 9.2 cents in Georgia, and 9.3 cents in the Carolinas and Virginia.

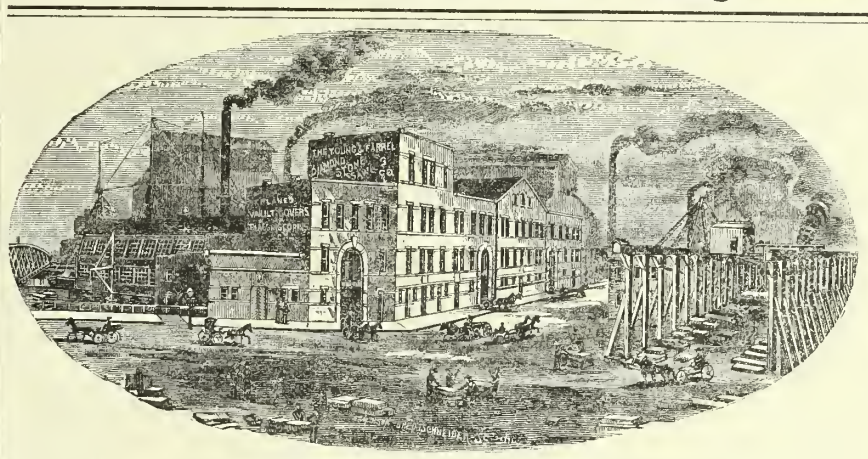
The average farm price of the entire crop of potatoes is 40 cents per bushel. The lowest price is 25, in Michigan. The average in New York is 39 cents, 42 in Ohio, 35 in Indiana, 34 in Illinois, 28 in Iowa, 29 in Nebraska and 48 in Kansas. The average price is two cents lower than last year, though the crop is not so large.

Important to Capitalists and Property Owners.



The risk in purchasing desirable real estate, the details peculiar to the consummation of a pnrchase or sale, and the trouble incidental to its management, where taken as a permanent investment, have debarred many of our capitalists from engaging in real estate transactions, although, at the same time, they could realize that they offered the safest opportunity for the investment of capital and the most profitable returns. As a consequence, we find men of bnsiness capacity, and thoroughly familiar with property values, entrusted with the transaction of this business for nearly all the most prominent of onr property owners, one among the best known firms being Messrs. Snow & Dickinson, No. 97 Washington street, Chicago, Ill. They have a lengthy experience in their business, a thorough acqnaintance with values, and enjoy the confidence of a large circle of property owners, having always on their lists an extensive selection of improved and unimproved city property, both for sale and to rent, and are prepared to afford capitalists and others special inducements, and the most profitable opportunities for investment. In mortgage loans they carry on a large business, investing eastern and local capital in improved Chicago real estate of unquestioned security.

They also undertake the entire management of estates, collecting rents, supervising repairs, finding responsible tenants, procuring insurance, etc., and the careful transaction of this description of business, together with uniform success, has gained them an excellent and well established reputation. Directly and indirectly, we are constantly hearing expressions of entire satisfaction from their many clients, and to those of our patrons, east and west, who may be desirous of purchasing or selling real estate, and owners of property in and out of the city, who may wish to place it under experienced and reliable management, we recommend the above gentlemen as thoroughly competent, reliable and responsible, and they will promptly reply to all commnnications addressed to them on the subjects of mortgage loans, purchase, sale, exchange and management of real estate.

A Real Estate Purchase in Arabia.

A Syndicate of German merchants have recently purchased the Territory of Sheik Said, at the southern extremity of Arabia, bordering on the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden, paying therefor the sum of 4,000,000 francs. They intend to open up the country to colouists, and expect to make a large profit from the trade that will thus be developed.

The Journey of a Million.

Statistics as carefully studied by Dr. Farr tell ns that of a million children ushered iuto life, nearly a hundred and fifty thousand pass away by the end of the first year. Twelve months later fifty-three thousand more will have followed. At the end of the third year the number living will be diminished by twenty-eight thousand more. Each year of the decade following will make its inroads npon the ranks, but less serious in amount, till the thirteenth year will call for less than four thousand. Those remaining will fall out by twos and threes till the end of the forty-fifth year, wheu it will be fonnd that in the intervening period about five hundred thousand have succumbed to the hardships of the way. At the end of sixty years three hundred and seveuty thousand gray haired veterans would still be keeping step with the duties of the passing days. Eighty years would see thirty-seven thousaud remaining, with strength impaired and steps growing feeble. At the end of ninety-five years but two hundred and twenty-three would linger in the darkening path, and these would be rapidly thinned till in the one hundred and eighth year the last survivor of the milliou would disappear, and join the ranks of his predecessors in the great host of the majority.—Scientific American.

Real Estate Law.

ALFRED A. LEHMANN ET AL. V. PAUL ROTHBARTH.

Filed at Mt. Vernon, Sept. 27, '84.

APPEAL.—Whether involving a freehold or not.—Where one of the main objects of a bill is to recover an equitable freehold in land, or in other words, to establish a resulting trust iu a freehold estate, a freehold is iuvolved, and this court has jurisdiction of an appeal directly from the Circuit Court.

TRUST.—When an agent may be compelled to account as a trustee.—If an agent acts fraudulently and collusively, he may be treated as a trustee by construction, and as such held accountable to the cestui que trust. If he secures to himself any benefit by a breech of trust, he will be responsible for the property to the party entitled to the beneficial Interest. If by an abuse of his power as simple agent he obtains possession of trust property, the cestui que trust may proceed against him as a trustee.

Where the husband of an administratrix of an estate and guardian of minor heirs, takes upon himself the exclusive control and management of the estate, excluding his wife from any participation in the same, and makes reports for her, and nses the trust funds, or places them to his own private account, the heirs and minor wards maJ, in equity, call him to account for the fnnds, etc., coming into his hands as agent of the administratrix and guardian.

SAME.—Reports made by hnsband of a guardian in her name—When may be impeached.—A husband of a guardian, who assnmes an exclusive agency of the trust funds and securities of the wards, and makes ont reports in his wife's name, not nnder oath, of the correctness of which she has no knowledge, aud is kept ignorant by him, which reports are approved by the Probate Court, will not be entitled to the same protection under them, when called on by the wards to account, as if made out in his own name, and he was the legal guardian.

GUARDIAN AND WARD.—Charge for taxes and repairs of homestead occupied by tenant for life.—Where a husband of a guardian of minor children, who assumed the entire management of the trust estate, in making out reports to the Probate Court, charged the wards with the taxes, and cost of insurauce and repairs of the homestead premises, occupied by him for a residence while his wife and the minors were absent a great part of the time at their own expense it was HELD that such charge was unwarrantable, and that in any event they shonld not have been charged with more than their equitable share of such expenses.

SAME.—Settlement with, after age—When may be opened.—A settlement pressed upon wards about the time of their becoming of age, by one standing in loco parentis, and claiming to represent their mother and lawful guardian, from which the latter is forcibly excluded, should not be sustained, except in so far as it is just and fair to them. If based chiefly on improper charges against them, they should not be concluded by it.

SAME.—Basis for restating account after settlement.—On bill by wards to set aside a settlement made by the husband of their guardian, with them, shortly after their majority, for improper charges in his accounts, etc., on granting the relief prayed, the court, in restating the account, should charge the complainants with all payments made to them on the settlement, including rerl estate taken by them at its cash value at the time it was received; bnt the defendant should not be charged with any snbsequent depreciation in its valne, and the proof of such property being turned over to the wards at an excessive price should be clear and conclusive.

SAME.—Trustee, when liable for interest.—Where one chargeable constructively as a trnstee, nses the trust funds in his private bnsiness, the same as his own, and makes false reports as to their being in his hands, he will be liable for interest on the same.

One in the possession of trust funds can not use them in his private business for his own gain, and then relieve himself of liability to pay interest on the same by falsely reporting in his accountiug that he has them on hand, and is unable to invest them.

EVIDENCE.—Bank account to show how much money he has at a giveu time.—Where it becomes material to show how mnch ready money a party who keeps a bank account has on hand on particular days, the state of his bank account at the times in question, is clearly competent and proper evidence of that fact, and his bank account is admissible on the question.

HUSBAND AND WIFE — When settlement between, opened.—Where a husband comes into the possession and exclnsive management of his wife's estate, including her moneys, and practically excludes her for several years from participating in its mauagement and control, aud by harsh treatment and cruelty causes her to have a protracted sickness and great despondency, and to file a bill for divorce, he will not be allowed to shield himself from liability to account to her by a settlement made with her in ignorance of her just rights, when in a condition not capable of entering into a bnsiness matter of such importance. Such a settlement is a fraud upon her rights.

Interior Decorations.

The decorating of the interiors of our best houses has of late years been given into the hands of those who make this their special busiuess. There are many advantages to be derived from this. The interior decorator can take in view the house as a whole, and can produce a more harmonious effect. He has made this his study, and so knows what will be best adapted to the rooms and halls, taking into consideration their size and shape. His knowledge of material also enables him to make the best selections for the money to be outlayed. The firm of Crossman & Lee, whose studio and office are at No. 209 Wabash avenue, are well known Interior Decorators. They have given this line of business special attention, and they can be relied upon as to their taste and skill. Any information will be gladly furnished by them in reference to interior decorations. We take pleasure in noticing among some of their patrons whom they are permitted to refer to M. D. Wells, Edson Keith, Sidney A. Kent, Anson Stager, Geo. E. Adams and Geo. Stnrges, et al.

A Decree Affecting Kansas Lands.

The United States Supreme Court decided on Tuesday the railroad land case of the Kansas Pacific Railway Company, appellant, against the Atchisou, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company, a suit involving the title to 5,000 acres of land in Wabaunsee and Osage connties, Kansas. This court holds that the Kansas Pacific Company, under the acts of Congress of 1862 and 1864, acquired title to the lands in controversy, and have accordingly a right to record evidence of it in the form of a patent. The decree of the court below is therefore reversed and the case remanded, with directions to enter a decree adjudging title to land in controversy to Kansas Pacific Company, and that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Company execute to the Kansas Pacific Company a conveyance of its claims and interest therein.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Cailatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

NATIONAL SHEET METAL ROOFING Co.
Organized under Charter granted by State of Tennessee, September 30, 1882.
SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

Building Brevities.

CHICAGO AND VICINITY.

A block of five houses is to be erected on Scott street northwest of Stone street, by W. A. Paulson. They will front 132 feet on Scott, and will be two stories and mansard roof, besides basement, in height. The fronts will all be of Berlin and Euclid stone, but will vary for each house. Contracts have been let, and it is intended to have the entire block ready for occupation by the first of next May. The estimated outlay is $45,000

A new building to be called the "Imperial" is to be erected at an early day, fronting 100 feet on Clark street, immediately in the rear of the new "Trader's" building, by a syndicate composed of J. F. Rhodes, F. S. Eames, Mr. Conley and others. It will be four stories high and ninety-five feet deep. The first story will be of glass and iron, and the superstructure of Anderson pressed brick. The basement will be occupied as a restaurant, the front of the first floor as a billiard hall, and the remainder will be cut up into offices. The walls are to be made sufficiently heavy to support a number of additional stories to be added in the future. L. G. Halberg is the architect.

Two more stories are to be added to the Mendel block early in the spring.

The flat building of Wm. Hoyt on Illinois street, just west of Cass, is ready for occupation.

Champion Roofing,
In use here 27 years.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago.

Plans have been prepared for a gallery in the Eighth Presbyterian Church, cor. Leavitt and Washington boulevard. The work is under the charge of W. L. Carroll, architect.

Architect W. L. Carroll has drawn plans for a residence for B. D. West, to be erected at 968 West Jackson street. It is in the Eastlake style of architecture, 21 1-2x66 ft. in size, with a prominent bay window. In height it will be two stories and basement, and the material is to be red brick and terra-cotta.

CHATTEL MORTGAGES.

DEATH OF MORTGAGEOR—GUARANTY BETWEEN MORTGAGEORS.

S gave a chattel mortgage to M, and four days later he gave a second mortgage to J. The first mortgage was not recorded until after S's death, and the second mortgage was not recorded at all. The administrator and the creditors of S claimed the property as against M, and J asked that his debt be satisfied before the claim of Mrs. S, to whom M had assigned his mortgage, which had been given to secure a loan made to her husband, on the ground that she had promised to see his debt paid. She had sent to J, who had demanded the payment of his debt before the death of S, this letter: "Dear Sir: Mr. Sanders is too sick to attend to business, and I wish to say that I will be responsible for whatever he owes you or the El Paso County Bank, and see that the same is paid. In the suits for foreclosing these mortgages, brought in the United States Circuit Court for the District of Colorado, Judge Hallett and Judge Brewer, in deciding the case, said: "(1) The mortgage was good against the deceased, and therefore was good against his administrator and his creditors. (2.) In this action, which is in equity, Mr. Sanders must give way to J, the second mortgagee. Having written this letter, with the promise therein contained, he cannot now be permitted to repudiate it. It is always to be presumed that one making a promise like this to pay an indebtedness knows all that is included in that promise."

MAN'S ORGANISM

Is the most complex work of the Creator, and when this complicated structure, so exquisitely wrought, is disturbed by disease, the most efficient aid shou'd be sought from the most skilled physician—for the human body is too precious to be neglected. It becomes the question, then: "What physician shall be employed?"

Dr. OSCAR JOHANNESEN, of the University of Berlin, Germany, has made a life long study of ailments of the Nervous and Genito-Urinary System.

His Remedies Cure

any Debility or Derangement of the Nervous System including Spermatthorea, Gonorrhea, Syphilis, Stricture, Impotence, etc., etc.

BECAUSE you may have been cheated and fooled by QUACKS, who claim to cure this class of disorders, do not hesitate to give Dr. JOHANNESEN'S method a fair trial before your case becomes chronic and incurable.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

—)o(—

THE LUMBER MARKET.

The late freeze and the extremely cold weather throughout the northwest has had the effect of stopping building operations for the winter. A week ago manufacturers were inclined to put up the price of hardwood lumber, but at this date but little is said about it. All seem to think that present prices will be maintained, and the coming spring trade will be brisk. All classes of lumber dealers feel encouraged, and there is a better feeling among buyers and sellers. Our price list remains essentially the same except building material.

At the docks the quotations are as follows:

Piece stuff, green	$ 8.00@ 8.75
Long timbers and joists, green	10.00@12.00
Coarse common	9.00@ 9.50

Questions for the Examination of Sanitary Officials in London.

What volume of sewage would you provide for at the outfall-sewer from a town of 10,000 population, the drainage area being 550 acres, taking 25 gallons per head of water-supply and one-half inch rainfall in twenty-four hours?

Give a specification and draw a sketch of a water-tight sewer.

Describe and give a sketch of the form of man-hole which you consider best adapted for ordinary town sewers, and state the rule which you adopt for determining the amount of ventilation to be afforded in the main street-sewer.

In what way do the size and shape of a sewer affect the velocity of the sewage flowing through it?

If a twelve inch pipe sewer with an inclination of 1 in 175 gives a velocity of 3½ feet per minute, what velocity would it give if it laid at an inclination of 1 in 500, the pipe running half-full in each case; and would this latter velocity suffice to keep the sewer clear of deposit?

To what extent would this velocity be increased by flushing?

Describe, in detail, what precautions should be taken in connecting houses with sewers, in order to prevent the foul gases from the sewers entering the houses. Illustrate your answer by a sketch.

In providing a water-supply for a town, what are the chief points to which you would direct attention if the supply is to be derived (a) from wells, (b) from streams?

What is meant by "constant" and by "intermittent" water-supply?

Explain the advantages and disadvantages of each.

Can a constant supply of water become polluted inside of a house where there are no cisterns, and, if so, in which way?

What precautions are necessary to be taken to prevent water being polluted inside of a house?

What are the most important points to be considered in examining the ventilation of a room?

How much cubic space would you require per head (a) in sleeping-rooms, (b) in rooms for living and sleeping?

The questions submitted to inspectors of nuisances were similar, on some topics, but, in addition, there were such as the following:

Describe some efficient and simple means of ventilating sleeping-rooms?

What do you consider over-crowding?

How should the soil-pipes, sink-pipes and overflow-pipes of a dwelling be dealt with so as to prevent any danger to the inmates?

What do you consider a proper fall for a six-inch house drain, and how should it be connected with the public sewer?

Describe a bell-trap, a D trap and a pan water-closet.

State the objections to each, and illustrate your answers by sketches.

Real Estate and Building Journal
R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.
CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Dec 20. 1884.

A NEW no 6 Tobey Black Walnut Desk, suitable for store or office, for sale by the Publisher of this JOURNAL. Also other property of a like description. I have taken the above in trade and will sell it cheap.
R. C. SMYERS.

Do Not Miss A Good Opportunity.

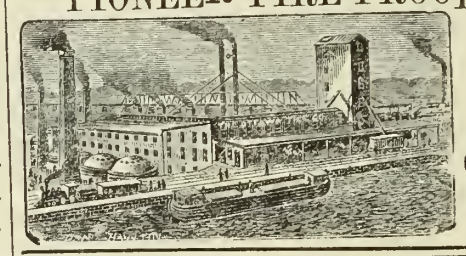
Our reporter is now visiting all the real estate men and the loan agencies doing business in Chicago, for the purpose of an annual article touching upon the past years business and plans for the ensuing year. The names and addresses of all the Building and Loan Societies in the State have been procured, including the names and addresses of the directors and the leading stockholders of the same. The JOURNAL has also obtained a list of the non-resident tax payers, all of whom will receive our New Year's number.

SANITARY regulations, like salutary laws, are of no value to the inhabitants of a city unless they are enforced. On another page we publish specimen questions for the examination of applicants for sanitary positions in the city of London. The first question, involving as it does mathematical problems, would wind up Carter Harrison's whole force, including the health department, and the third and fifth would paralyze the Board of Education.

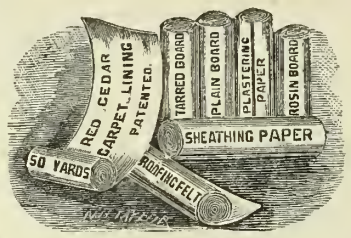
THE United States is not only a nation of producers and consumers, but the people can also be generally divided into tax payers and tax eaters. Go into the county hospitals and the poor houses, or, in fact, any of the public buildings in our large cities—in the courts as well as in our eleemosynary institutions—on the streets among our police force and in the bridewell and the penitentiary—the politician and the pauper, the tramp and the dead beat, all draw from the public crib, and look like they had been born for that purpose. But what of the real estate owner, the only tax payer? He pays the state and county taxes for the blessings the state gives, to-wit: the public schools, and for anything he gets by way of improvements he pays the political jobbers two prices for inferior work, under the guise of a special assessment. This is getting to be "a h—ll of a country" in the language of John Hayfield.

THE work of renting the offices in the new Board of Trade building was begun this week. The expenses of cleaning, lighting, heating and watching, including the elevator expenses, will be borne by the board. Written applications may now be made for desired locations, and on and after Dec. 20, the offices will be offered at a schedule of prices, subject to such premiums as may be offered for the most desirable offices. Prices of single rooms range from $600 to $6,000 per year. In all there are seventy-seven offices. The entire building will be heated by steam, and will be ready for occupancy May 1, 1885. Applications already on file for desirable offices will aggregate $65,000, all of the ground floor being applied for.

THE REAL-ESTATE MARKET.



As predicted by many of our subscribers the month of December has been barren of anything worthy of special notice.



As the holidays approach, and the old year rapidly vanishes from the present, the business world pauses to take its reckoning before continuing the voyage in new seas. The year 1884 has not been a blank with a majority of dealers in real estate, and property owners are far from their condition of ten year's ago. One thing is certain,—the new year when ushered in will bring some changes. By the first of March the country will be relieved of much of the the doubt that now envelopes the business world. Congress will not have the hardihood to stir up the "tariff" but on the other hand will have wisdom enough to propose something new that will inspire the people with confidence. Democrats and Republicans, north and south should feel that the new President and the republican senate can be trusted to wrestle with the spoils seekers. The Journal ventures the assertion that no sweeping changes can be made unless with the acquiescence of the Upper House.

Under the present circumstances the greatest care will be exercised in making new appointments. But a truce! What has all this to do with the demand for real estate in Chicago and the west generally? We answer, a good deal. As long as capital is timid and business is dull on account of political uncertainties such as the talked of or threatened reduction in the tariff, real estate will not receive much attention and great improvements upon which real estate so much depends, will languish. An examination of the records will show some acre transactions and but few city sales of importance.

The Plumber and the Builders.

The plumber desires to free himself from builders' contracts, his connection with which has not been either beneficial to himself or satisfactory to the public. He desires, not udnaturally, to be taken into the confidence of the architect, to be regarded more as a thinking power than as a mere tool in the hands of a designing builder. Builders, it is well known, too often sublet the plumbing work at a price which not only encourages "scamping," but makes it almost a necessity, if the plumber is to make any profit at all for himself. The system literally compels him to practice those arts of substitution and simulation which have for years distinguished a certain class of so-called plumbers. But a new era is dawning. With education, improved sanitary laws, freedom from the tyranny of builders, and an organization capable of weeding out the incapables and the intruders, and of encouraging honest work and workers, the plumber will take out his proper position. The master plumber will then be entrusted with all matters pertaining to sanitary art, and the plumbing of buildings will not be planned without his counsel. Evil devices, inferior materials, cheap substitutes and unscientific plans of drainage, sewage, ventilation and water-supply will be banished, because, under a correct system, involving rigid responsibility, neither architect, builder nor plumber, can afford to make mistakes.—London Sanitary World.

Real Estate Law.

WILLIAM H. HERON v. SAMUEL L. GILL, et al. Filed at Ottawa, Sept. 27, 1884.

1. Landlord and Tenant—A lien is given by the statute to a landlord upon crops growing and grown upon demised premises in any year for the rent that shall accrue during such year; but no specific lien is created or given as to any other property of the tenant.

2. Same—The statute of 8 Anne, c. 14, giving a landlord a lien on the goods and chattels of his tenant, is not in force in this State, being of a date later than the fourth year of James I. If ever in force here as a part of the laws of Virginia, it has been repealed by implication or superseded by subsequent acts of our Legislature intended as revisions of the whole subject.

3. Same—A distress warrant, issued and placed in the hands of a sheriff after his receipt and levy of executions upon the goods and chattels, not crops grown or growing, does not take precedence of the executions, and a levy of the distress warrant will be subject to the prior liens of the executions.

Appeal from the Appellate Court for the Second District; heard in that court on appeal from the County Court of Peoria county; the Hon. L. W. James, Judge, presiding.

The lien of a landlord is prior to the lien of executions, although they be levied before a distress warrant issues. See O'Hara v. Jones, 46 Ill. 288; Hadden v. Knickerbocker, 70 Id. 678.

The following authorities hold that the landlord had no lien at common law before the adoption of the statute of Anne, but a mere right to distrain: Grant v. Whitwell, 9 Iowa, 156; Doane v. Garretson, 24 Iowa, 351, Craddock v. Riddlesbarger, 2 Dana, 208; Ege v. Ege, 5 Watts, 139; Woodfall's Landlord and Tenant, 563.

The force of the statute of Anne here has been recognized by this court in Hadden v. Knickerbocker, supra, in which this court cites Taylor on Landlord and Tenant, sec. 576; Martin v. Block, 7 Paige, 641; Coles v. Marquan, 2 Hill, 447.

THE CHICAGO & ALTON RAILROAD COMPANY v. HIRAM GOODWIN, et al. Filed at Ottawa, Sept. 27, 1884.

1. Life Estate—A person having an estate for life in land may make or allow any use of it he sees fit during his life, provided no injury is done to the inheritance. The remainder-man, during the existence of the life estate, has the right only to prevent the commission of waste.

2. Trespass—The entry upon premises by a railway company and the construction of a railroad over the same, which is no injury to the inheritance, under the verbal license of the tenant for life, is not a trespass or an unlawful entry. Such entry will not subject the party so entering to either an action of trespass or ejectment on the part of the remainder-man.

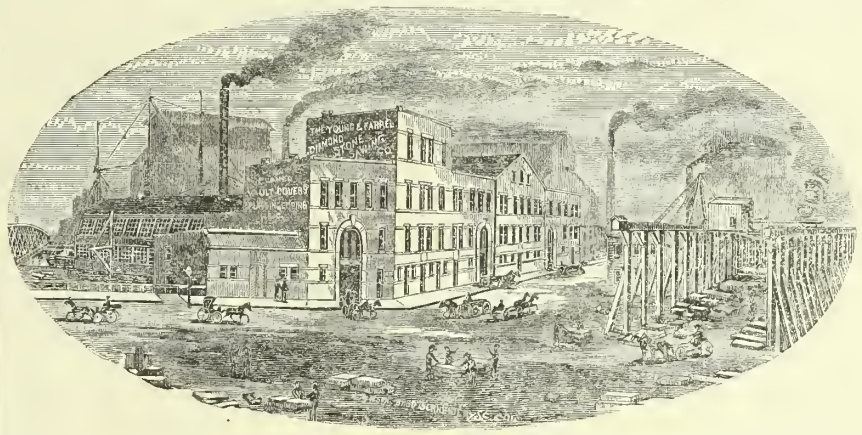
3. Real Estate—It does not necessarily follow that structures or even buildings placed by one person on the land of another become a part of the real estate. When they are trade fixtures they are regarded as personal property. So a house erected upon the land of another, under an agreement that it shall belong to the builder, is personal property.

4. If a person enters upon the land of another without permission, and places a building or other structure thereon permanently attached to the soil, he will be a trespasser, and the building or structure will become a part and parcel of the land, and will be the property of the land owner. In such case the builder acquires no right by his tortious act.

5. Compensation for Structures put on land by Railroad Company itself—Where a railway company under license of the life tenant enters upon land and constructs its road over the same with costly embankments, and enjoys the use of the same without objection, on an application by the company after the termination of the life estate to condemn a strip of land on which such road and structures are built for a right of way, the law will not require it to pay the owner of the land for the structures so placed upon the same at its own expense. The land owner will have no right to compensation for such structures, they not being his property.

6. A railway company seeking a condemnation of land for a right of way already occupied by it, is not required by law to pay the land owner for structures placed upon the land at its own expense with a view of subsequently acquiring the right of way, even though its original entry may have been without license or tortios.

7. Same—Measure of Damages—In a proceeding by a railroad company to condemn a strip of land for right of way then and previously occupied by it, and upon which strip of land the company had before constructed its road, consisting of costly embankments and structures, the court instructed the jury that in estimating the compensation of the owner of the land they should consider the whole property including all the structures upon it as well as the soil to which they were affixed, and award such sum as compensation to the defendants as said property was reasonably worth for the purpose for which it was intended, although of no practical value to the defendants in connection with their farm: HELD, that the instruction was erroneous, in requiring more than a just compensation.



GEORGE W. BITTENGER v. FREDERIOKE KASTEN, et al. Filed at Ottawa, September 27, 1884.

1. Fraudulent Conveyance—To render a reasonable provision by a husband for his wife, by investing her with the title to real estate, fraudulent, as against a creditor of the former, it must appear that he was at the time insolvent, or that such gift made him so.

2. The owner of property may at any time give the same to any one he chooses, so long as he thereby injures no then existing creditor, and no subsequent creditor can call it in question unless the donor is guilty of an actual fraudulent intent, and such creditor is thereby injured. This follows from his absolute dominion over his property; and the mere fact that he may be indebted is not alone sufficient to make a gift or voluntary conveyance by him inoperative. If there is no intention on his part to delay or defraud his creditors the conveyance is not within the Statute of Frauds.

3. No creditor without any lien has any right to complain that his debtor is giving away his property to his wife or children, unless such creditor can establish the fact that he has not retained enough to satisfy existing debts. Such grantor must make himself insolvent by such gifts or conveyances, and to impeach them fraud must be alleged and proved.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightest roof in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.

IMPROVEMENTS ABROAD.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—During the year 1884 $70,000 has been expended by the Board of Education in new buildings and additions to old ones. Three and a half miles of new pavements have been put down, which, including guttering and curbing, have cost half a million of dollars. The Park Commissioners have expended $179,584 in park improvements and public boulevards.

Minneapolis parties have begun the erection of a large flour mill at Great Falls, Benton. The dam across the river has been completed and fully 300,000 brick have been made this season.

MILWAUKER, Wis.—The work of building a dock at Milwaukee, Wis., will be of great magnitude, the estimated cost of the dock being in the neighborhood of $600,000. The plans and specificatsons of the structure show that it will not only be the largest on the lakes, but the largest ore dock in the world. Its extreme length over all will be 1,400 feet, and it will be 46 feet wide and 40 feet high. There will be 234 pockets with a capacity of 25,000 tons of ore; two train loads of ore can be dumped at the same time, and the largest vessels can be loaded in from six to eight hours. The superstructure will rest upon 7,000 piles, forming a dock basin which will be filled solid from the bottom of the harbor to 19 inches above high water mark. The dock will draw 20 feet of water, so that the largest vessel afloat upon the lakes can be loaded.

OMAHA, Neb.—Building not very brisk outlook for winter not very flattering. A number of bdildings projected for next spring.

Old worn out gravel, Tin or Iron roofs coated so as to last TEN YEARS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1883.

We, the undersigned, have used J. M. Cary's Champion Roofing Composition many years, and find it so much superior to the common gravel roof in durability, and fire-proof qualities, that we believe we are doing Building Owners, Architects, and Insurance men a favor in calling their attention to it, knowing as we do, that it is the best roofing composition for new felt roofs, or recoating, or repairing old roofs, now in use in Chicago..

WYOMING TER.—The Seatco Manufacturing Company, at Seatco, W. T., will erect a building for the manufacture of sash, doors and blinds on a large scale. Its building is to be 40x200 feet, and the machinery will be driven by a 60 horse power engine.

NEILLSVILLE, Wis.—There was a steady increase in building from the opening of the season last spring. Since cold weather set in there has been very little new work projected.

Architect E. S. Hart reports: For J. L. Gates one-and-half frame dwelling, 20x29 and 12x14 feet. Three bay windows, Queen Anne style, cost $1,500.....For Presbyterian Society at Greenwood, Wis, frame church building, 77x46 and 9x9 feet, cost $2,000. Also addition, 10x27 feet, and front to Fireman's Hall, at Neillsville, cost $2,500. All the above work commenced in October.

NORWOOD, Minn.—Architectects F B Long & Co. are erecting a two-room schoolhouse 40x50 ft, to cost $8,000.

POPLAR BLUFF'S, Wis.—This place has had a great building boom during the past summer. New buildings have been erected on every street, and the prospects are good for increased activity another season.

RANDALIA, Iowa.—Architect Wirtman reports a two-story frame building 44x100 feet, to cost $3,000, for Israel Rogers..... For J. F. Randall, a two-story frame structure 22x80 feet to cost $2,000.

TOWER CITY, Mont.—We are to have a Baptist college, $120,000 having already been subscribed and donated for its erection.

Architect Sidney Smith reports: For John Ledwick, three-story brick store building, 22x60 feet, cost $4000; projected....For Mr. John W Thomas, two-story brick and frame dwelling, 36x50 feet, cost $8000; under way. Mr. Campbell, builder.....For Mr. J. B. Kitchen, two-story brick barn, 32x70 feet, cost $2,800; projected....For Dr. Merser, two-story brick barn, 46x56 feet, stone trimmings and slate roof, cost $6,000; under way....For Cass County Banking Company two-story brick and stone building, 22x70 feet, cost $8,000; under way....For H Esterbrook & Co, three-story brick store and apparent block, 60x132 feet, cost $30,000; projected.

ROCHESTER, Minn.—The cold weather of the past ten days has considerably retarded building improvements and very little new work has been started. Mr. L. T. Carpenter is making arrangements to erect a fine residence on his lots on the corner of Winona avenue ond Broadway, North Rochester.

SHERRILL'S MOUNT, Iowa.—It is announced that a new Catholic church will be erected at an early day at this place, which is but a few miles north of Dubuque. The structure will cost upwards of $20,000.

THE COUNTY BOARD

Met on Monday as usual. Mr. Van Pelt read a lengthy document in which he appealed to the committees of the year 1885 to do all in their power to cut down the county expenses. He then attempted to prove that the Democratic County Administration of the last year was a most economical one. He was foolishly answered by Commissioner Senne, who simply referred to the empty vaults in the County Treasurer's office. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Commissioner Wasserman submitted a resolution in which he stated that the stone trimmings around the eaves of the Court House were in a very dangerous condition, since they were beginning to fall to the sidewalk, thus endangering human life. He asked that an architect be employed to inspect the upper portions of the building and report to the board what was necessary to put them in a safer condition.

WEST PARK BOARD.

The West Park Board met Monday. A number of Lawndale property-owners requested the board to help them buy and lay out as a park the two acres of land near Millard ave. In event of this improvement, the petition stated, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway Company had promised to erect a $7,000 depot. The matter was referred to the attorney of the board. It was decided, on the recommendation of the Boulevard Committee, to lay out as a boulevard Twelfth street, between Ashland and Ogden avenues, and Ogden avenue, between Twelfth street and Douglas Park. The following bonds, amounting to $7,000, were chosen by lot to be retired Jan. 1. 1885: 373, 236, 120, 75, 368, 39, 415, 404, 122, 360, 457, 229, 477, 433.

NOREH TOWN BOARD.

The North Town Board met Monday afternoon.

Collector Dryer's first communication to the board was read and received by vote. The Collector considered it criminally careless to leave the vault in which the public tax-books and papers of the Collector are kept over night unprotected, and suggested that the board authorize him to assign to one of his deputies the responsibility of watching the vault after office hours during his term of office. He asked the authority to appoint not to exceed thirty additional deputies, as the work in his office was behind, owing to the death of Mr. Niebling and the tardiness in appointing a successor. The board voted to allow the additional deputies, and fixed the pay of the deputy collectors at $5 a day; the chief clerk, $10; cashier, $8; assistant cashier, $7. The pay of the chief clerk's assistant Mr. Dreyer had left for the board to name, and it was fixed at $10.

—)o(—

THE LUMBER TRADE--PRESENT AND PROSPECTIVE.

The severe cold weather of the past week has brought the lumber trade to an almost stand-still, and the slow pace of holiday weeks presents but little activity in the yards. The prospects of an open winter, early in December, and a consequent brisk demand for finishing material, resulted in holding prices firmly. Wholesale dealers have been more cautions about overstocking than usual during the past year, and at the end of December we find no surplus in their yards—yet with stocks sufficient to meet all ordinary demands for the next three or four months. The overstocked yards of 1882 and 83 served as a salutary lesson and the overproduction of 1884 remains in the hands of the manufacturers. The latter are unable, or rather unwilling, to force trade by offering lower prices—preferring to hold on to present rates and await the expected "boom" in building material early in February. While throughout the country at large, with a rare exception here and there, there has been general complaining among lumbermen about the dullness of trade, Chicago has been a notable exception for here hundreds of lumber yards have been kept busy in supplying the home and export demand, and even at the wind-up of the year—the dullest of all seasons—not a single yard but has employment for its ordinary staff of employees in filling orders. This is accounted for by country dealers sending their house bills direct to Chicago firms rather than take stock from their own yards. While orders as a rule are small, there are many exceptions, and long trains laden with lumber are frequently moved to the Southwest and West. One firm alone, in this city, has shipped during the present month upwards of 5,000,000 feet. The decrease of receipts at the Chicago yards during 1884 as compared with 1883 has been in round numbers 82,000,000 feet, and for the same period there has been a decrease in shingles in round numbers of 250,000,000, the latter decrease being accounted for by the increased use of iron for roofing and siding purposes. The years trade has been a remarkable one, prices have been steadily maintained, at no time has there been a serious fluctuation in rates, and while a great many lumbermen have suffered small losses through the failure of furniture manufacturers the aggregate of losses has been so widely distributed tha the effect upon the general trade has not been noticeable? At the end of the year we find the yards in excellent condition, the ballance sheets with figures on the right side and a confidence in the future which indicates that the lumbermen at least are not oppressed by the hue and cry of "hard times" heard in other business circles.

It is no easy matter to foretell the prospects of the lumber trade of 1885. The overproduction of the present year has not brought down prices, and manufacturers, while desirous of unloading, are not ready to make a cut in prices, preferring as stated above, to await the "February boom" to float their lumber at present or even better figures. This stand on the part of manufacturers shows, if it shows anything, that they have a firm faith of unusual activity in building material early in the spring. Wholesale dealers appears to have the utmost confidence that the incoming year will be a bright era in the lumber business, yet there are many shrewd buyers, who decline to buy large lots, which are offered at a small figure below "rock-bottom," reasoning that with the opening of navigation, manufacturers will be compelled to unload at a sacrifice. While it is true that there has been a general overproduction and a great increase in the number of mills during the year, it must also be remembered that the facilities for transportation to the South and South-West have been proportionately increased and that the markets South and Southwest are increasing their demands upon Chicago, which is an acknowledged center of the lumber trade of the North-west. The railroads are also coming to the aid of manufacturers and dealers, and lower tarriff has been made to the benefit of this market. After a careful survey of the whole field, there is nothing in the horizon that is discouraging, while on the other hand the prospects of the lumbermen for 1885 are bright and encouraging.

THE

Real Estate and Building Journal

R. C. SMYERS, PROPRIETOR.

CHICAGO, SATURDAY, Dec 27. 1884.

Our readers are reminded that on account of an unusual quantity of miscellaneous matter, Real Estate Law, Improvements, ordered by the Council, etc., are inserted at the close of the Records in the latter part of the JOURNAL.

The habit of making promises (to pay) to be fulfilled at the beginning of the New Year, is a good one, if not broken. Now is the time to make resolutions for good to be accomplished in the next twelve months. The majority of real estate men have done nobly in holding out to the end of the year 1884. We hope one and all have enjoyed a Merry Christmas, and sincerely wish our patrons on both sides of the Atlantic, as well as all the world beside, a Happy New Year' May the coming year be one of prosperity to all those engaged in the various branches of honorable industry. The JOURNAL predicts better results, and promises to contribute something to the advancement of Real Estate during the coming year.

It is intimated that a land job is concealed behind the Nicaragua Treaty, in the interests of Mr F. A. Pellis, whose interests are protected in article 5th of the treaty, a monopoly of steam navigation of the San Juan River and Cake being granted to him. Said treaty provides that a "strip of territory two and one-half English miles in width extending the whole length of the canal" shall be set aside for the work and owned by the two contracting parties, and the entire work is to be done by the United States without expense to the Government of Nicaragua.

"Matthew C Kneip," says the Daily News, "has suddenly absconded." He run a Collection Agency in the Montauk Block. Claus H. Meyer, a retired vessel-owner, is said to have been beaten out of over $1,000. Kneip is said to have obtained $139.30 from Capt. James J Orr, of Buffalo, in order to appeal a case in the United courts. Instead of using the money for this purpose the attorney is said to have put it into his own pocket. Mrs. Charlotte Raab obtained a judgment of $250 against the Greenwich insurance company. Kneip was her attorney, and it is said he collected the amount of the judgment but forgot to turn it over. It will be remembered by our readers that Thomas J Shea, who has been conneted with Ira Barchard at 162 LaSalle street, in the "Collection Agency Business," did something of the same sort. The said Shea collected a judgment including costs for this JOURNAL and never reported the matter till discovered, and then refused to turn over the proceeds.

THE REAL-ESTATE MARKET.

The record of transfers, as reported in the following pages, shows some sales recently made of importance. The reports of Trust Deeds and Mortgages form an interesting feature of this and last week's issues. The agents are too much occupied with holiday affairs to even grant an interview. Our next number, which will appear Jan. 3, 1885, will contain a resume of the real estate market and building operations.

Opinions of Leading Firms, concerning Real Estate and Loans.

One of the most conservative and active firms of Real Estate Agents In Chicago is the well-known company of Lyman & Giddings, consisting of Mesrs. Thomas Lyman and L. Romeyn Giddiugs, whose office is in Room 25, No. 101 Washington street. Tnis firm was established in 1860 and by a prudent and conservative policy have built up a bussness of which they may justly feel proud. They cannot be listed with the more aggressive firms, yet the amount of property they handle in the course of twelve months, runs up into the hundreds of thousands. To a representative of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, a member of the firm stated that, so far as he was able to judge, the owners of real estate were firm in their figures and considered the outlook for the future could be no better. "There is no better investment to-day," he stated, "than in real estate. All the securities are depreciating, while the value of real estate is increasing at an agreeable rate. This is especially true of Chicago real estate. The city is growing very fast and as a natural consequence the value of property must rapidly increase."

The business of the firm of Lyman & Giddings during the past year compares very favorably with that of 1883. Prices have been firmly maintained, and owners are steadfast in holding to figures once fixed as a value. There seems to be a growing interest in the value of real estate as an investment, and owners in many instances are demanding better prices and in some cases refusing to sell at figures fixed a month ago, As an illustration of this freak in the market Messrs Lyman & Giddings last week found a purchaser for a piece of property valued at $30,000. and when the would-be buyer stood ready to have the transfer made, the owner concluded not to sell, giving as his reason that he could not invest the proceeds of the proposed sale in any other security, which would pay so largely and surely on the amount invested. The case referred to, is not an isolated one and indicates the firmness of the real estate market in showing that Chicago property is better than any other class of securities.

Among the most reputable business firms engaged in making loans on real estate, none are more prominent, or more widely known throughout the country, especially among Eastern bankers and capitalists, than the old established house of Francis B. Peabody & Co., whose office is at Room 11, Portlaud Block, Dearborn street. From a modest beginning this firm has developed a business, which has become a little short of colossal in its dimensions, and they are looked upon as leaders in commercial circles. In fact, they are accepted as authority in all matters pertaining to real estate values. During the past year the house of Erancis B. Peabody has transacted an unusually large business, making a larger uumber of loans aud in larger amounts than during the remarkably active year of 1883. During the year the standard rate of 6% has been maintained, small loans of $2,000 and $3,000, however, having earned 7%. Mr. Francis B. Peabody, in an interview with a reporter of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, took a very conservative view of the outlook of the building prospects for 1885. He thought that the future would show the building interests has been forced to a point beyond the actual demand and necessities of the times. During the year a large number of medium sized flats has been erected besides a more than usual large number of large business blocks, and the probabilities are that May 1st will show that the demand, however active, can be easily satisfied with buildings already erected and in process of construction. Mr. Peabody is of the opinion that there will not be as extensive building operations during 1885 as during the present year for the reasons given above and as a consequence not so good a demand for money to improve real estate.

Whims in Building.

Nothing adds so much to the cost of building as indulgence in whims. To set out deliberately to do a "queer," "fanciful," or, as it is sometimes called, "original" thing in building is always to incur unnecessary expense. If we look through the books that coutain pictures of the architecture of all ages and nations, we shall find that, without an exception, in the times all men of taste are agreed in calling the good times, the modes of building have been sensible, founded on the needs of the case, and that whatever may seem fanciful—the whole of what we call picturesque—when its charm has proved enduring is the result of what we may call, in every case, "accepting the situation." Nothing has been done in such instances for the sake of being picturesque. Good building, good ornament, never poses.

In building, as a rule, every departure from the rectangular form is an added expense. One of the things impressed on the mind of a young man who goes into an architect's office to study the profession is that, if cost is to be considered, which it sometimes is, and sometimes is not, all execrescences and projections must be avoided. A rectangular house is the cheapest. Bay windows, porches, octagonal or circular, external ends to rooms—all these things cost money; and it is by multiplying these features that the expenses of building are often made so great as to deter people from undertaking it, for the things seem so small in themselves, it is not suspected what drains they are on the purse. If a good reason cannot be given for any so-called ornamental feature in a house, if it cannot be shown that something worth while is to be gained by making it, we may be reasonably sure that it is a fancy that will cost, as the country people say, more than it comes to. And, in the great number of cases, nothing, even in looks, is gained by indulging the fancy.—[The Studio.

Real Estate Law.

ISAAC Z. STIGER et al. v LUCINDA G. BENT.

Filed at Springfield, Sept. 27, 1884.

1. USURY.—Party affected by it, alone can complain.—A party not injuriously affected by an usurious transaction is not allowed to complain or take advantage of the if a party sells land subject to a mortgage usury. So on it which is given to secure a deq} with usury, and the purchaser assumes its payment as a part of the purchase money, the latter and those claiming under him can not interpose the defense of usury to a bill to foreclose the mortgage.

2. PARTY—On bill to foreclose a mortgage given by a husband and wife to secure the note of the former, after they have sold and conveyed the mortgaged premises, who assumes payment of the mortgage debt as a part of the price, the wife of the mortgagor, having no interest in the matter, is not a necessary party and no decree could be had against her if made a party.

3. SAME—When a mortgagor conveyed the mortgaged premises to one who assumed payment of the mortgaged debt as a part of the purchase, and he conveved the same to another, who, out of the purchase money, paid the amount due on the mortgage to the trustee who had no right to receive the same, and wrongfully entered satisfaction of the trust deed on the record, it was held on bill by the holder of the note secured to foreclose the trust deed, that the administrator of the last grantee was not a necessary party, for the reason that the estate he represented was under no liability for the payment of the mortgage debt.

4. ADMINISTRAIION — Administrator has no right to pay an incumbrance on real estate for which his intestate was not liable.—Where a person acquires land, subject to an incumbrance, for the debt of a prior owner, and dies, his administrator is not authorized by law to pay such debt or incur expenses on account of it.

5. FORECLOSURE — Where a trustee in a deed of trust, without the authority of the holder of the note thereby secured, accepts payment and enters satisfaction on the record, it will not be necessary on a bill to foreclose the trust deed, for a formal or der setting aside the entry of satisfaction before a decree of foreclosure. If such entry ought to be set aside, it may in equity be treated as if never made, although at law the rule may be different.

6. PROMISORY NOTE—The production of a promisory note secured by a trust deed on the hearing of a bill to foreclose raises a prima facie presumption that it has not been paid, and is still lawfully belonging to the complainant.

7. MORTGAGE—An entry of satisfaction of a deed of trust by the trustee when the indebtedness secured by it, has not been paid, and the act is not authorized by the holder of the indebtedness, will have no effect upon the deed of trust as between the original parties, nor as to subsequent purchasers with notice.

8. SAME—In equity a decd of trust is but an incident to the debt it secures, and will pass with an assignment of the debt to the holder.

9. SAME—Where a trustee enters satisfaction of a trust deed duly recorded in consequence of a negotiation for the purchase of the land and for the purpose of consummating the sale and accepts payment of the amount of the debt secured from such purchaser without producing and canceling the note and without authority from the holder thereof, the purchaser can not be said to have purchased without notice of the rights of the holder of the note.

10. AGENCY—No authority in a trustee in a trust deed to collect the principal debt secured and to enter satisfaction on the record of the trust deed, can be inferred from the fact that the money was borrowed of the holder of the note through a firm of brokers, of which the trustee was a member, and that payments of interest on the note had been made to him before.

11. SAME — Burden of proof to show agent's authority.—Where an agent has the possession of a promisory note after due, it may be inferred that he has authority to receive payment of it; but the burthen is on the debtor who makes payment to the agent relying upon such inference to show that the note was in his possession when the payment was made, and the fact that the note is neither surrendered nor offered to be surrendered affords evidence he did not have it.

12. PROMISORY NOTE—Owner of land paying to save his land from incumbrance.—The purchaser of land subject to a prior incumbrance has ths right to pay off the debt and thus relieve his land, and to receive the note evidencing the debt for his own protection, and if such payment is not made under a previous contract with the party owing the same, the party so paying is entitled to be subrogated to all the rights of the holder of the indebtedness.

13. SAME—Right of party paying to its possession. If payment of a note is made by one, of the note of another, pursuant to a contract that he shall pay the same, the party paying may be regarded as the agent of the debtor, and as such is entitled to receive and hold the note as an evidence of his payment as well as for his own protection.

14. LACHES—Failure to give notice of mortgagee's right to a purchaser—When it works no injury.—The failure of the holder of a note secured by deed of trust to give prompt notice to a subsequent purchaser of the land, making payment to the trustee and procuring his release of the trust deed, of the want of authority in the trustee to receive payment and make the release, will not bar the holder's right to a foreclosure when it does not appear that the delay in giving the notice has worked no injury to the purchaser so paying the trustee.

THOMAS R. ARMSTONG v HENRY WARRINGTON et al. Filed at Ottawa, Nov. 17, 1884.

1. FORECLOSURE—On bill to foreclose a prior mortgage, in case of a sale, the junior mortgagee will be entitled to the surplus after satisfying the first mortgage, upon his answer alone, disclosing his interest, without filing a cross-bill.

PETER NEFF v. ROBERT SMYTH.

Filed at Mount Vernon, September 27, 1384.

1. TAX TITLE—Of the judgment record—Convening order.—The fact that a tax judgment record of the County Court contains no formal convening order, is not a fatal objection to the validity of a tax title growing out of a sale under the judgment, if such record book shows anywhere on its face that the county judge was present, that business of a judicial character was passed upon, that the court adjourned and reassembled, and that a record was kept of the proceedings of the court, and the judgment is signed by the judge.

THE NEW YORK MARKET.

The auction business now in progress is derived wholly from the legal sales in foreclosure suits, and excite but little interest; bnt the abundance of money, and the lack of profitable employment for it, has influenced a great number to make inquiries among the real estate brokers for remunerative investment in this description of property.

The incidents associated with an auction sale that occurred on Friday the 12th inst., afforded much amusement to those present although most annoying to the auctioneer. The leasehold property No. 40 Vesey street was offered at auction by T J Boyd, under foreclosure, the mortgage amounting to $7,150. The first bid was $6,000, and after considerable competition it was knocked down to a Mr. Hyatt for $17,350 who offered in lieu of the ordinary deposit of ten per cent. an order upon the plaintiff for $1,735, and thongh this order was acceptable to the plaintiff, Mr. James Turner, who was present, the referee refused to receive it or to adjonrn the sale, and instructed the auctioneer to resell the property. Upon the second sale it was knocked down to a gentleman for &16,000, who repudiated the bid, and a third time it was snbmitted to competition, when it brought $15,500, and the purchaser, Mr. John H Blake, paid the deposit and signed the terms of sale, and the company separated after passing a very merry hour.—I. R. E. J.

THE TOLL ROADS.

Commissioner Klehm on behalf of the Judiciary Committee reported that the proprietors or managers of the toll roads leading from the City of Chicago were paying no attention to the rates of toll fixed by the County Board, but had fixed for themselves at a very liberal advance on the legal rates, "thus actually robbing the citizens of Cook County out of thousands of dollars annually." He asked that the toll-road men be compelled to conform to the rates fixed by the board at once, and should they not comply with the order that the County Attorney be instructed to enter legal proceedings against them. Action on the report was deferred for one week.

MAN'S ORGANISM

Is the most complex work of the Creator, and when this complicated structure, so exquisitely wrought, is disturbed by disease, the most efficient aid should be sought from the most skilled physician—for the human body is too precious to be neglected. It becomes the question, then: "What physician shall be employed?"

Dr. Oscar Johannesen, of the University of Berlin, Germany, has made a life long study of ailments of the Nervous and Genito-Urinary System.

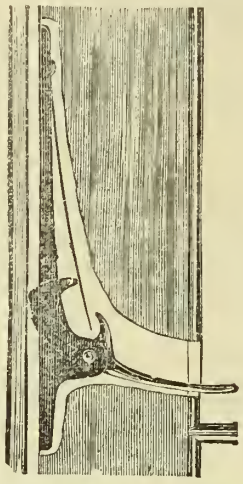
His Remedies Cure

any Debility or Derangement of the Nervous System including Spermatthorea, Gonorrhea, Syphilis, Stricture, Impotence, etc., etc.

BECAUSE you may have been cheated and fooled by quacks, who claim to cure this class of disorders, do not hesitate to give Dr. Johannesen's method a fair trial before your case becomes chronic and incurable.

☞ FREE ☜

A valuable treatise, explanatory of Dr. Johannesen's system, will be sent by mail, post paid and securely sealed from observation, to any sufferer addressing his sole authorized agent for the United States and Canada.



HENRY VOGELER,
49 South Street, New York.

☞ Complicated symptoms treated from Dr. Johannesen's Special Prescription, under advice of a duly qualified consulting physician.

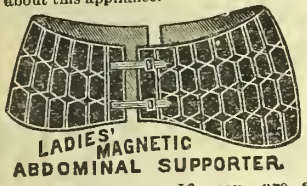
DISEASE CURED WITHOUT MEDICINE.

A Valuable Discovery for Supplying Magnetism to the Human System.



Electricity and Magnetism United as never before for healing the Sick.

THIS MAGNETIC BELT IS

WARRANTED TO CURE Or Money Refunded, the following diseases without medicine:—Pain in the back, hips, head, or limbs, nervous debility, lumbago, general debility, rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, sciatica, diseases of the kidneys, spinal diseases, torpid liver, gout, seminal emissions, impotency, asthma, heart disease, dyspepsia, constipation, erysipelas, indigestion, hernia or rupture, catarrh, piles, epilepsy, dumb ague, etc.

When any debility of the GENERATIVE ORGANS occurs, lost vitality, lack of nerve force and vigor, wasting weaknesses, and all those diseases of a personal nature, from whatever cause, the continuous stream of Magnetism permeating through the parts must restore them to a healthy action. There is no mistake about this appliance.

Warranted  TRY ONE.

LADIES' MAGNETIC ABDOMINAL SUPPORTER.

TO THE LADIES:—If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Exhaustion, Dyspepsia, or with Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Headache or Cold Feet, Swollen or Weak Ankles, or Swollen Feet, an Abdominal Belt and a pair of Magnetic Foot Batteries have no superior in the relief and cure of all these complaints. They carry a powerful magnetic force to the seat of the disease.

For Lame Back, Weakness of the Spine, Falling of the womb, Leucorrhœa, Chronic Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, Incidental Hemorrhage or Flooding, Painful, Suppressed and Irregular Menstruation, Barrenness and change of Life, this is the Best Appliance and Curative Agent Known.

For all forms of Female Difficulties it is unsurpassed by anything before invented, both as a curative agent and as a source of power and vitalization.

Price of either Belt with Magnetic Foot Batteries, $10. Sent by express C. O. D., and examination allowed, or by mail on receipt of price. In ordering, send measure of waist and size of shoe. Remittance can be made in currency, sent in letter at our risk.

The Magneton Garments are adapted to all ages, are worn over the under-clothing, (not next to the body like the many Galvanic and Electric Humbugs advertised so extensively) and should be taken off at night. They hold their power forever, and are worn at all seasons of the year.

Send stamp for the "New Departure in Medical Treatment Without Medicine," with thousands of testimonials.

A MAN

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Avoca, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Callatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY, and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF

WALTERS' PATENT METALLIC ROOFING AND SIDING PLATES.

TIN SHINGLES

We claim for this Roof the following very essential points which no other sheet metal roof has:

1. Rain-proof, without being put together in continuous sheets.
2. Storm-Proof. It allows air to pass through freely from underneath.
3. It can be taken off, and relaid with absolutely no wastage.
4. The only, absolutely rain and storm proof sheet metal roof that continues so from the time it is applied.
5. The strongest roof in the world made from sheet metal.
6. No cleets, half sheets or shorts, to commence at eaves.
7. A tin roof, ready to be applied without skilled labor, or expensive tools.
8. A roof in which contraction and expansion is provided for in each separate sheet.
9. A roof applied without the use of solder, mallets, seamers, tongs, or fire about the building.
10. A roof that is painted by a dipping process, in which every particle of the shingle is thoroughly painted before applying.
11. A roof that has two designs in one—a perfect hexagon and a complete arrow—which can be ornamented when desired.
12. The lightes[illegible]f in the world, and perfectly fire, storm and wind proof.
